Court Refuses To Rule On Income Tax Measure

On the ground that its members have a direct personal interest in the case, the Kentucky court of appeals Monday refused to rule on the validity of the state's personal and corporate income tax law.

The court's action makes it necessary for the Governor to appoint a special appellate tribunal to decide the case and blocked a final ruling before first payments under the law are due Thursday of this week.

Revenue Commissioner James W. Martin pointed out that the law prevents an extension of time for making payments.

Bell Lumber Man Jailed As Fugitive From Prisons

Cecil Miracle, Bell county lumber man, was arrested Friday by a deputy sheriff here on a charge of being a fugitive from three prisons.

W. L. Hammond, his attorney, said Miracle, prominent and respected lumber man the last several years, had admitted to him in his jail cell that he had escaped from prisons in California, Florida and Alabama.

The admission came Hammond said, when Miracle was confronted with official reports of the escapes received at Frankfort by Acting Gov. Keen Johnson.

"I might as well admit it," Hammond quoted Miracle.

Alabama authorities said Miracle escaped from a prison at Kilby on December 29, 1929, by scaling a wall.

A native of Bell county, he returned in 1933 and married Miss Ada Mason. They have a year old daughter.

Renewal Of Memberships For Crippled Children

Renewal of every membership held by present members and previous contributors is being urged in the annual appeal of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the volunteer organization, set up in 1921 for the purpose of raising funds to be used in supplementing the state appropriation made to the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission in caring for and preparing for useful citizenship the state's needy crippled children.

"It was unfortunate that the state found it necessary to cut the Commission's appropriation to $25,000 a year (1936-1938)," said Harry J. McChesney, president of the Society, "for without the help received from Washington under provisions of the Social Security Act the work of rehabilitating these afflicted children would be seriously curtailed. These federal funds just about approximate the amount lost to the state as a result of the lower state appropriation, which means that no extension of facilities for care of crippled children or expansion of the clinic program can be attempted. Yet, the need today for these increased facilities, it seems to me, is more pressing and urgent than ever before. My hope is that the members of the society in the state backed the Commission for more than ten years will respond loyally to our appeal for funds."

During 1936, it was pointed out, the Commission made 7,000 diagnostic clinics (exclusive of the usual routine) at monthly clinics in hospital centers at Ashland, Lexington and Louisville at which 1,200 crippled children were accorded free examinations. Monthly clinics are planned during the present year. In Louisville alone 1,000 crippled children have been examined by doctors and at hospitals so far this year than during the comparable period last year. During 1936 the Commission arranged transportation for individual children involving a total of 1,229 admissions and re-admissions to hospitals during the year.

Thousands of children attending diagnostic clinics in recent months were found to be in need of immediate treatment. Delay, physicians agreed, would lessen the chances for success in the various corrective measures urgently needed.

The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children has announced that it abandoned the idea of an Easter Seal Sale in favor of the membership campaign that will be carried on for the next thirty days. "The loyalty and pride of every member of the Society states, "is needed more today than ever before. There is so much to do. Renew your own pledge and try to enlist at least one new member to help us carry on in 1937."

BILLION AND HALF FOR RELIEF ASKED BY THE PRESIDENT

President Demands Rigid Economy As Revenues Show Decline

418 MILLION DEFICIT

President Roosevelt Tuesday asked Congress to appropriate another $1,500,000,000 to forecast a $418,000,000 deficit instead of a "layman" balanced budget in the 1938 fiscal year and then demanded rigid economy to combat a subsequent drop in anticipated federal revenues.

He said in a message to a special session reviving his January budget estimates that there is an immediate need for a careful survey of the nation's tax structure and predicted there would be a new tax bill at the next session of Congress. He defended the use of the Army and Navy budgets but pointedly asked "rigid economy" and a watchful strong pressure to bring about increases in governmental bureaus and activities.

It became evident the national debt would surpass within a month the $35,000,000,000 peak attained in Mr. Roosevelt's first January message.

Majority Floor Chief Executive Rayburn warned members of the two houses that they must propose new taxes to finance appropriations not approved in the budget.

He blamed lagging Federal revenues on law suits against the Government.

Time Extended For Filing Income Tax Returns

Acting Governor Keen Johnson extended to one month, until and including May 15, the time for filing income tax returns and making payments under the state's new personal and corporate income tax law.

First payments under the law originally were due not later than Thursday.

In a proclamation granting the extension, the acting governor set out the reasons for his action.

The January flood, the governor explained, has laid a heavy hand upon the taxpayers of the commonwealth" and has caused financial embarrassment and distress" in many.

The department of revenue, he stated, though adequate staff and facilities, has been unable to provide sufficiently prompt service to prevent inequitable delay on the part of taxpayers in filing their returns.

Pulse. Election officers will be appointed by the commissioners on Saturday, April 26th. The following speaking dates have been announced:

Rose Hill—Wednesday April 21, 7:30 p. m. W. P. Davis speaker, George Richey, chairman.

Ellisville—Thursday April 22. C. A. Sweazy, speaker.

Myers Station—Friday April 23. C. V. Crabb, speaker. Ed Barnett, Sherman Crump, chairman.

There will be a great mass meeting at the court house Saturday, May 1st at 2 p. m. Dr. Horace Sprague, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Louisville, and Mr. Walter J. Hoshal, new superintendent of Kentucky Anti Saloon League, speakers.

The election will be held Saturday, May 8th.

MILLERSBURG MAYOR DIES

He is survived by his wife, one son, one brother and three sisters. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and burial will follow in the Millersburg cemetery.

3 LINES GET A RUG

Mercury Item Brings Nice Donation From Paris Man

If you have something to sell, wish to buy or rent, just express a wish that a needed gift may come your way, tellers just about it through the columns of The Mercury gets results. As shown by the experience of the Nursery School here.

In our issue of April 15, after thanking various organizations for their generosity to the school, the following sentence ended the item:

"What not somebody give us a linoleum rug, 9x12?"

The Mercury for April 15 was mailed Wednesday afternoon, April 14, and at Paris the next morning Mr. Jouett, genial manager of the Wheeler Furniture Company, noticed the paper and called at once over the telephone and asked if a rug would be accepted with his compliments. It was, with thanks.

So Mr. Jouett drove over Thursday afternoon with a beautiful linoleum rug that most appropriately was made to exactly fit the floor.

Moral: If a papers in the right spirit is sent to the right man, you may be sure of that.

Highway Body Income Seen As $15,445,900

Net income of the State Highway Department for the current fiscal year will be $15,445,900 it was estimated by Frank D. Peterson, director of the budget commission and revised of the Finance Department.

Mr. Peterson estimated that during the first three months of that fiscal year which ends July 1, the highway department will collect $3,698,808.65.

Mr. Peterson's estimate, Dr. Martin estimated that the gasoline tax would yield bulk of the revenues. For the year he estimated $12,953,000, or more than $1,000,000 above collections for 1936 and for the three-month period, $2,873,000.

Dr. Martin said that the estimate of Frank A. Wallis of Paris, auditor, and accounted for authorized administrative expenses of $45,000 and motor vehicle licenses amounting $2,000 from the mileage tax receipts.

E. M. Dickson, Prominent Paris Attorney, Dies

Emmett Michael Dickson, 80, president of the Bourbon County Bar Association and leader in civic affairs in Paris and Bourbon county for more than sixty years, died at the Good Samaritan hospital in Lexington Monday morning following a long illness.

Born in Tipton county, Tennessee, March 15, 1856, Mr. Dickson came into Kentucky when his family moved to Millersburg. He was admitted to the bar in 1878 and had practiced at Paris since. He served as master commissioner of Bourbon county for 25 years.

Funeral services were held at the grave in the Paris cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Terms Of U. S. Grant For Prison Hospital Okehed

Terms of a federal grant for the construction of a $1,000,000 state hospital in Kentucky have been accepted by the state, Commissioner of Welfare Frederick A. Wallis announced. He said the contract provides for an outright grant of $300,000 and a grant of approximately $1,500,000 for labor costs, grounds and rights of way. Mr. Wallis announced the new prison buildings near LaGrange, Oldham county. The hospital site has not been chosen.

Foxhunters Will Meet In Carlisle

Annual Field Trials To Be Held Here For Five Days Next October

The Central Kentucky Foxhunters Association will hold their annual field trials in the Carlisle area, October 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, running four days, with two days for derby and two days for all age.

The invitation to hold the meeting here was extended to the executive committee at its meeting in Mt. Sterling Monday by Bob Blount of Moorefield, secretary of the association, and was accepted.

Carlisle is located in the center of the best foxhunting section of Kentucky, and with every business firm, city official and every individual with an ounce of sporting blood and civic pride backing the club 100 per cent, the attendance will surpass previous records.

The hunt is the principal attraction, but the horse show will be worth going to, also to see. It will be a big week for Carlisle, but it is probable that there will be four classes in the horse show, one for three-gaited horses, mares and geldings, one for five-gaited and walkers, one for registered horses and possibly a class for hunters.

The association asks the cooperation of every man, woman and child with an invitation to all to attend the hunt and to assist them in the hunt will be assured the greatest success in history.

First Issue Of New State Magazine Just Off Press

"In Kentucky," the new official State magazine, was in the mails April 20, issued for the first time as a pre-Derby number.

The magazine, successor to the Kentucky Progress Magazine which did an excellent job in publicizing Kentucky far and wide, is a beautiful publication filled with illustrations of beauty spots, parks, shrines, historic and other attractions for which the state is noted, with considerably less reading matter than formerly.

Purpose of the magazine is to attract more visitors to Kentucky, especially in the vacation period; to acquaint the world at large of Kentucky's beauties, her highways, industries and other attractions. As a secondary consideration, the publication is expected to give Kentuckians themselves new insight into their rich heritage.

The Derby, Derby Festival, Kentucky horse shows, Kentucky Homes, Keeneland, Kentenia State Forest, the 19 State parks and Kentucky Dams are featured in story and with abundant illustrations in the 50-page booklet.

GENERAL DENHARDT DENIED CHANGE OF VENUE FROM HENRY

Former Adjutant General On Trial At New Castle For Slaying Fiancee

MAY LAST TWO WEEKS

Circuit Judge Charles C. Marshall, of Lexington, presiding over Tuesday denied a defense motion for a change of venue in the murder trial that General Denhardt could get a fair trial in Henry county, the charge of murdering his fiancee, Mrs. Verna Carter Tapley.

Defense attorneys based their motion for change of venue on affidavits alleging the defendant could not obtain a fair trial in the county, and General Denhardt's attorneys based their opinion on his arrival at New Castle Tuesday morning that his trial in Henry county would be a travesty in the name of justice.

Empaneling of the jury began Wednesday morning and is expected to continue for several days. The trial is expected to last two weeks or more. Ten laboratory experts have been summoned as witnesses by the state, and it is said that scientific methods of crime detection never before employed in a murder case in Kentucky will be revealed during the trial.

The trial of General Denhardt is one of the most sensational murder trials in Kentucky criminal annals. The defendant, veteran of the Spanish American War and World War, is one of the best known men in Kentucky. He served as Lieutenant Governor in the administration of Governor Fields, was Adjutant General under Governor Allen and had sought the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The body of Mrs. Taylor, comely 40-year-old Oldham county matron, was found lying alongside a road in Henry county one night several months ago with the service revolver of General Denhardt near her side. Denhardt has admitted he shot him and that the stalled automobile in which they had been motoring.

General Denhardt claims Mrs. Taylor killed herself and the prosecution charges he killed her.
