Back in the Days Of the Horse

When every farm had a number of good teams, every farmer his favorite "walker" and two or three good roadsters, and all deliveries in town and city were made by horse drawn vehicles—that was the day of the horse.

The Tuxedo Mills, in business then—and now—much, what was known as Tuxedo Horse and Mule Feed and that was the favorite ration of the horsemen. Today this feed is known as and while it is still the most popular feed for horses and mules, on account of the character of its ingredients, it is also one of the best all around feeds and most desirable for all kinds of livestock. As a body builder and finisher it has no equal for horses and mules, cows, beef cattle and sheep. Since this has become common knowledge among feeders the volume of its sale has increased by leaps and bounds.
