

RECENT SHEEP TOUR REVEALS NEED FOR FLOCK IMPROVEMENT

County Agent Urges Farmers To Cull Barren Ewes From Their Flocks

POINTERS ON TURKEYS

The sheep tour which visited Nicholas county last Tuesday had its final meeting in Lexington Friday, where farmers studied the dressed carcasses of lambs of various grades. This study revealed the need of much improvement in market lambs.

Mr. Watson suggests that farmers begin to cull their ewe flocks now if they have not already done so. Practically every flock of sheep has some barren ewes and other ewes that produce a small amount of milk.
