"Tuberculosis can be wiped out from this nation"—Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General, United States Public Health Service. Christmas Seals are important means toward reaching that goal.

Joe Cook, musical comedy star, has Christmas Seals as the central motif of his holiday greeting cards. Holly Valve sends a weekly check to Saranac to care for one of his musicians.

Every day in the United States, 200 people die of tuberculosis. Thirty-three of those are between the ages of 15 and 25. Christmas Seals help to save lives.

Christmas Seals teach that tuberculosis is not inherited. Every case comes from another case.

Funds Are Available To Begin Benefit Payments

The benefit fund of the Kentucky State Unemployment Compensation Commission has passed the $18,000,000 mark and will be well over $20,000,000 in January when payment payments under the Unemployment Insurance Law begin, according to V. E. Barnes, Chairman and Executive Director of the Commission.

Latest tabulation of the fund shows that contributions total $18,136,441.38, all of which is on deposit with the federal treasury except $601,141.35, which is held by State Treasurer John C. Blackington awaiting transfer to Washington. A total of $301,827.90 in interest has been collected on the benefit fund deposits since the law became effective in 1936.

The money in the fund represents contributions made by both employers and employees to be paid beginning January 1 to persons eligible under the law.

"When the contributions for the last quarterly period of 1938 are received, Kentucky's unemployment benefit insurance fund will be well over $20,000,000," Director Barnes said. The Commission is disbursing rapidly with its arrangements to begin unemployed benefit payments to those persons who are entitled to them beginning January 1.

BUY THE SCRIPTUS BEST POTATOES

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, operating with its Paducah as headquarters, purchased 20,000 bushels of certified sweet potatoes grown in the Purchase region of Kentucky. Growers netted 33 1-2 cents a bushel. Average acreage and a favorable growing season are expected in Kentucky a large crop of sweet potatoes.

Another Carload Award To Garrard 4-H Club

For the 14th time in 17 years the Garrard county 4-H club had the grand champion carload of baby beeves at the annual fat stock show at the Interstate Stock Yards in Louisville. Fifteen Angus calves, pronounced among the best ever shown in Louisville, were in the carload.

Nelson White, of the Future Farmers of America chapter at Lancaster, owner of the high scoring Winchester captured the grand championship on single calves and other articles of antique. C. Nelson is a brother of Jack White who won the top prize at last year's show, and his calf was 1/2 half brother of the 1937 grand champion.

At the sale after the show the grand champion calf brought $1 a pound and the top carload from Garrard county sold for 16 3-4 cents. The reserve grand champion calf, shown by Kenton Ross of Garrard county, sold for 54 cents a pound.

The show this year attracted about 250 calves, including 15 carload lots, finished by 141 club members in 38 counties. The show is sponsored by the Future Farmers of America at 12 shows covering one hundred head of cattle fed to fat by farmers in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Prizes awarded at the show in the various classes of fat cattle for 4-H club members among the Kentucky calves in this division were seven Wesley Townsend Hereford COUNTY, Junior Hector, Wayne county, and Polly Cecil Gentner, Washington county.

BARN SHOT TO DEATH

Breathitt county officers still are investigating the shooting of a six month-old baby girl at White Pine, near Jackson.

Officers said that powder burns were discernible on the child's head around the wound but that the child's mother, Mrs. Albert Johnson, said the child was killed when a rifle she was playing with accidentally discharged and struck the child. Mrs. Johnson said a sister of hers held the child when the tragedy occurred.

MEADE GIRL QUEENS

Miss Mildred Brown, of Brandenburg, a senior in the home economics course, was crowned queen of the annual fall festival of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky. Farm and home exhibits, a parade of livestock which the university will exhibit at the International Live Stock Exposition, and pledging to college organizations are other features of the festival.

MUSKETEERS DROP SEASON'S OPENER TO OWINGSVILLE 13-11

Local Boys Have Trouble Indexing Visitor's Defense; Lynam High Scorer

LAWRENCEBURG NEXT

Although it was their first game this season on a hardwood floor, Owingsville high school's basketball team last Tuesday night brought an aggregation there that took the season's opener from Carlisle's Musketeers by a score of 13 to 11.

It may have been the 11th the countian's first trip on the boards this season, on outdoor court—and it may have been the Musketeers first jaunt into competition for the current season but they played the wildest and most exciting game the countian's opener the local lads ever played.

Not until the final whistle blew was the game on ice for either team. Both quintets time and again jumped into the lead with the opposing team and held it.

Going into the final minute of play Owingsville led the local boys by a two point margin, but at that point by a flukey trip of basketball luck Carlisle tied the count—and it may have been the wild game which drove Carlisle fans wild for the ball and finally secured it and by taking it under the goal where the Owingsville keeper center dropped it in for a basket, ending the scoring for the night.

But Orangeville at the throw in got the ball and held it despite frantic efforts by the Musketeers to secure it and never let go before the game ended.

The Bath countians came here with a reputation of being a fast team and they got it. The game started off with a burst and it looked for awhile as though the Musketeers were going to run away with the game, but they soon settled down and then the game was on.

Carlisle's first field goal came in the first quarter when Jack Conley, guard, got free under the loop and dropped another one in to Owingsville's goal and the countians held goal in the meantime though and the score at the quarter end was their favor 4 to 2.

The third quarter looked like a book of fouls, which both sides were guilty of, with Carlisle getting the most of the breaks. Conley, guard
