VOLUME LXXII. ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1938 PUBLISHED WEEKLY NUMBER 2

JOHN I. FISHER, 79, EXPIRES WEDNESDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Former Prominent Carlisle Man Was Father Of Former Mercury Editor

BURIAL TO BE FRIDAY

Mr. John Irving Fisher, 79, died Wednesday morning at a hospital in Pewee Valley, near Louisville, after a long illness.

Mr. Fisher was born in Carlisle in 1858, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose H. Fisher. As a young man he was admitted to the bar but never practiced law. He conducted private schools in Carlisle and in Bourbon county for a number of years, when he was a young man. He was for several years a teacher in the old Carlisle Academy.

Mr. Fisher served as cashier of the North Middletown bank for fifteen years. He resigned that position to accept a position as secretary of the Bracket Bridge Company at Covington, which he held for several years. Later he was actuary of the Citizens Life Insurance Company at Louisville. He served one year as cashier of the Farmers Bank at Paris. He resigned that position to become secretary-treasurer of the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company in Louisville. He held this position for several years, being compelled to retire about five years ago because of advancing age and ill health. After his retirement, he moved to North Middletown where he resided until the death of his wife. Mrs. Allie Goff Fisher, about two years ago.

Mr. Fisher was twice married. His first wife, Mrs. Mary Rogers Fisher, died more than forty years ago. To this union four children were born, two of whom, Mrs. Ralph Scheffer, of Williamsport, Pa., and Mrs. Henry Mayhall, of Louisville, survive. His only son, Warren R. Fisher, died December 16. Another child died in infancy.

In addition to his numerous lines of endeavor, Mr. Fisher was the author of numerous books on banking and computation of interest, which had a wide sale.

Mr. Fisher was one of the best known citizens in this section among the older residents. He possessed all of the lovable attributes of a Southern gentleman and was a man of the highest integrity and character. He was a life-long member of the Christian church.

In addition to his children, Mr. Fisher is survived by four grandchildren; one brother, C. H. Fisher, Carlisle; two sisters, Mrs. Sam K. Veach, Miss Lutie Fisher and Mrs. R. L. Ambrose, Carlisle.

The body was brought to Carlisle Wednesday night by Mathers-Yerkes, local undertakers, and will remain there until time for when funeral services will be held at the South Middletown Christian church with burial in the North Middletown cemetery.

Federal Prison For Women May Be Built In State

The federal government proposes to build "another Alcatraz" for hard-boiled women prisoners, Kentucky have not been disclosed, but according to information given out in Washington Sunday the institution would probably be located in Eastern Kentucky, Eastern Texas or Braggs, Okla., where officials have already inspected sites.

The government already has a prison for incorrigible men convicts on Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay. In his recent budget message to Congress President Roosevelt requested an appropriation of $1,500,000 to start construction of three new federal institutions. One of these will be exclusively for women.

Marriage Mills Banned By Indiana High Court

Cracking out at "one of this nation's greatest evils," the Indiana supreme court Tuesday closed down the state's Gretna Green by forbidding issuance of marriage licenses to any out-of-state women.

In an opinion by Justice P. J. Hughes, the court unanimously upheld constitutionality of an 1852 act providing that marriage permits shall be issued only by the clerk of the county where the female resides."

The ruling was a "death knell for the prosperous "Marriage Mills" in Crown Point, Valparaiso, South Bend and other northern and eastern Indiana county seats which have grossed tens of thousands of dollars since neighboring states passed more stringent marriage laws.

Barton Named Tax Collector

Retiring Sheriff Leer Asks To Be Relieved Of Collection Of Remaining Taxes

Sheriff L. B. Barton was approved as special tax collector by the Nicholas fiscal court, in session last week, after retiring Sheriff J. Clarke Leer had asked the court to relieve him from the collection of the remainder of state and county taxes. Mr. Leer was given a quietus for all taxes collected by him until January 3 A. D. 1938. L. B. Ross was appointed by the court to make a settlement with Mr. Leer for taxes collected by him in 1931, 1935 and 1936.

Mr. Leer could have remained as special tax collector until taxes for 1937 had been collected. The penalty on those taxes will be added on March 1.

The court voted unanimously to appropriate $50 with which to purchase material to be used on the sewing room, and also voted to purchase blankets for the jail at a cost not to exceed $25.

Lambert Home In Mason Destroyed

Boardman Lambert Is Forced To Leap From Window As Home Is Destroyed

The two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Lambert on the Maysville and Lexington road, about five miles from Maysville, and adjacent contents were destroyed by fire about 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Lambert, his wife and two children were in the household tobacco when the fire was discovered. The second floor of the home was in flames when Mr. Lambert, in his night clothes, jumped from a window to safety.

Mrs. Lambert and her daughter, Gaye, arose early and went to the kitchen of the home to prepare breakfast. After coming to the second floor they found the kitchen in flames. Mrs. Lambert ran to the door leading to the living room and as she did so was struck in the face by the flames. Grabbing her daughter, she ran outside and called to her husband, who, hearing her screams rushed to the window and leaped to safety. Their son was spending the night with relatives.

Neighbors who rushed to the scene were unable to render any assistance as the home was engulfed the entire home. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Mr. Lambert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lambert, of Carlisle. Mrs. Lambert formerly went to Mason county Sunday to visit with friends.

NICHOLAS FARMERS COOPERATE IN SOIL BUILDING PROGRAM

Superintendent of Local CCC Camp Reports on Program For Past Year

1937 WAS BEST YEAR

Nicholas county farmers were cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service in its erosion control demonstration conducted by the Carlisle CCC Camp at the city, according to D. C. Williams, camp superintendent.

The camp was established July 27, 1933. Superintendent Williams reports that during the past year more progress in the development and demonstration of effective soil conservation measures was made than in any previous year.

Cooperating farmers in the area have increased the acreage of terracing existing crops on the farms 3,100 acres since they set their farms up as living erosion control demonstrations, he said. Strip cropping has been adopted on 2,800 acres, and contour cultivation on 5,300 acres.

These figures, Mr. Williams explained, reflect only a part of the work the farmers are carrying out in the unified conservation program which includes terracing, reforestation, pasture improvement, woodland improvement, wildlife encouragement, and similar practices.

Mr. Williams invited nearby farmers to visit some of the demonstration farms, talk with the farmers, and see for themselves information about the best soil-saving practices that they may be obtained from the county agricultural agent or from the camp.
