World-Wide Tobacco And Commerce News

Japan accounted for approximately 29 per cent of the total volume of leaf imported into Egypt during 1936 and 1937, Japan's purchases consisting largely of tobacco. Greece, second in order of importance in both years, showed a slight increase in both the quantity and value imported in 1937, as compared with 1936.

Leaf tobacco imports into Panama have been on the increase since the beginning of 1932, due to a shortage in the domestic tobacco crop.

The 1938 tobacco crop of Paraguay seems to be practically assured, according to report, the heavy drought having caused only a very small percentage of the crop damage.

In connection with sharply-growing consumption of the socalled American blend cigarette, of domestic manufacture in Argentina, it is reported that no very reliable survey discloses that production of this type has reached almost 20 per cent of the country's output of cigarettes.

During March 1938, 1,125 tourists and excursionists visited Haiti, as against 27,337 in March a year ago.

Japan was the leading direct market for cotton imported into United States in 1937, having furnished the American market with 28,745,530 pounds compared with 18,707,000 pounds in 1936.

Sugar and related products industry of the United States is the second largest in the world each year more than 6,000,000 tons of refined sugar and 200,000,000 gallons of molasses are consumed in this country.

The 1938 cotton crop in Australia is expected to aggregate 18,000 bales, or more than double last year's crop of 8,519 bales.

Daily average sales of chain grocery stores for March were reported at 1.2 per cent below the dollar volume for March 1937, when they were higher than for any month since June 1931. March sales increased about 1 1-2 per cent from February.

Imports of machetes of all kinds into Panama in 1937 amounted to 163,273 pounds valued at $33,011, an increase of 2.4 per cent by weight and 2.23 per cent by value compared with 1936.

The favorable 1937 increase in United States exports of athletic and sporting goods, not including shoes, clothing, and firearms, was maintained in the first three months of 1938 when exports were valued at $683,506, a 33 per cent increase compared with the $513,166 trade for the corresponding period in 1937.

According to an announcement today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, collection ratios on open credit accounts receivable of department stores showed a decrease of 1.5 per cent for March 1938, from the same month in 1937, while a gain of 5.4 per cent was recorded from February 1938.

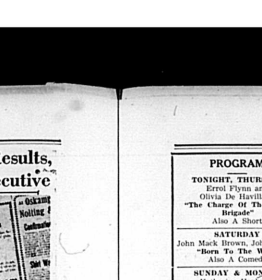
Cause Voice to Change

One's voice is influenced by the voice one hears, this is especially true with children who are quite imitative. However, many teachers of speech believe that the voice often becomes harsh or relaxed according to differences in climate and that for this reason the enunciation and quality of the Southern voice tend to be less tense than the Northern voice.

Elk a "Wapiti"

What is called an elk in this country is really a "wapiti." An elk, accurately speaking, is a European animal like our American moose.

Newspaper Ads Get Results, Says Grocery Store Executive



"Newspapers get the lion's share of our advertising dollars for just one reason—they get results," declared Albert H. Morrill of Cincinnati, president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company, in a recent interview in the Editor and Publisher magazine.

"More than half a century ago B. H. Kroger, founder of our company, started using space to advertise the wares of his first few grocery stores, and since that time Kroger has been a consistent newspaper advertiser. Today we advertise regularly in 1,053 daily and weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of 12,226,815 in 19 Middle-western states," he continued.

"Last year we spent 62 per cent of our advertising appropriation for newspaper space. And we spent it with the positive knowledge that newspapers provide the best means of telling our sales story to the buying public," he added.

Selection of newspapers to carry sales messages of 4,000 Kroger grocery stores is a matter of guessing, according to Morrill, who pointed out that more than 50 years of experience had convinced Kroger executives of the effectiveness of newspaper advertising. In addition, frequent tests of pulling power are made, always with the same answer—newspaper advertising pays.

"Most convincing has been our recent experience in various Producer-Consumer campaigns. We were faced with the problem of helping the farmer move heavy surpluses. Each time the farmer moved quickly to avoid loss Natnally we turned to the public in newspapers to get our message to the greatest number of potential buyers in the shortest possible time," Morrill explained.

"Whether we were right in selecting the newspapers to do this job is best judged by the results.

"In the last Producer-Consumer drive the campaigns sold California canned peaches, we helped the farmers by increasing our sales volume on this item 62 per cent as compared with the same period of the previous year.

"Turkey producers of the Middle-west greatly benefitted in the campaign during the fall of 1936. In this campaign Kroger sold 93 per cent more turkeys by weight than in market through intensive newspaper advertising.

"Phenomenal results were achieved in the surplus grapefruit campaign early in 1937 when we boosted our sales 240 per cent, helping to save growers in Florida and Texas from staggering losses. Our lamb sales jumped 72 per cent and farmers were saved from severe loss in February, 1937, when we used space in 710 newspapers with a total circulation in excess of 11,000,000," Morrill said.

"Last May we advertised the Dairy Farmers' summer dairy campaign 4,469 times in 824 newspapers and scored an astonishing increase of 253 per cent in sales of this product in June and July Kroger helped farmers of the Middle-west by increasing our movement of eggs by 274,731 dozen or 16 per cent over the same period in the previous year. To achieve this result, we used a total of 1,274 newspaper advertisements.

"Substantial sales increases have been scored in every one of the twenty or more Producer-Consumer campaigns in which Kroger has participated during the past few years, and we attribute this result largely to newspaper advertising. No other medium could have done the job," declared Morrill.

Locally

The regular monthly meeting of the city council will be held next Monday night.

The American Legion Auxiliary realized approximately $ 80 from the sale of poppies in Carlisle Saturday.

The month's fishing holiday ended at midnight Tuesday and a number of local anglers left for various fishing places early Wednesday morning.

Carlisle groceries were closed Wednesday afternoon. Under an agreement the groceries will observe each Wednesday afternoon during the summer months.

At least seventy-five per cent of Nicholas county's tobacco crop has been planted, farmers say. The crop has been planted earlier than usual this year.

Hundreds of former Carlisle and Nicholas county people were here during the week end to decorate the graves of relatives and friends in the Carlisle cemetery.

The Nicholas fiscal court was in regular monthly session Wednesday afternoon when The Mercury's footsteps were heard. The annual budget for the year was up for consideration and other routine business was to be transacted.

Because of wet weather, which caused the berries to rot, the home grown strawberry crop in the county was almost a failure this year. Farmers report black berry briars are loaded with blooms, indicating a heavy crop.

Ballots for the special election to be held at the court house are completed yesterday and will be delivered to the County Clerk today. The cost of holding the special election in this county will be between $600 and $700, County Clerk John F. Sugg said.

Herman Gray and little son, Herman, Jr., were injured last Tuesday afternoon when their car the truck was sideswiped by a special freight train at East Union crossing. Both train and truck were obscured from view by a warehouse. Mr. Gray suffered a sprained thumb and bruises. William numerous small cuts and bruises. The truck was considerably damaged.

Approximately 125 Masons from Carlisle and Nicholas county and other lodges throughout the state attended a meeting held by Dougherty Lodge No. 6, F. & A. M. last Friday night. Work in the Mason's Degree was conferred by the degree team from the Winchester lodge, after which ice cream, strawberries and cake were served by members of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Leon Gray suffered a broken nose and bruises. Mrs. Gray suffered a dislocated knee cap and their child suffered a bruised foot Monday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding collided with another car at a road crossing in Elizaville. Mr. and Mrs. Gray and child were brought to the local hospital for treatment and were able to return to their home in the county.

Lottie Williams, daughter of T. E. Williams, and Pearl Dale, daughter of Will Dale, both were graduated last week from the Kentucky State Industrial College, a school for colored people at Frankfort. The Williams girl received a bachelor of science in home economics and the Dale girl received a bachelor of arts in English. Their parents attended the graduation exercises.

The Dionne quintuplets celebrated their fourth birthday last Saturday and for the first time were allowed a taste of ice cream. The parents also took dinner with them. Now the question to be determined is whether the public will be barred from seeing them this summer. It is a serious matter with many in the little community of Callander, Ontario as they are making a fine living off the thousands of tourists who come to see the babies.

Social and Society

MY NEIGHBOR'S SWEET PEAS

(Blanche E. Price)
You sowed the seed, and sun and rain
Matured the blooms that now I see.
Every time I look at them,
They seem to nod and smile at me.

You tilled the ground and tended them;
You give to them a mother's care;
Yet every morn I look at them
And in their beauty have a share.

Sometimes when morning breezes blow
They view their little hands to me;
I count each bloom and watch them grow
And every day new faces see.

You sowed the seed, you tended them—
These lovely, glorious sweet peas—
I thank you for the privilege
Of sharing in the joy of these.
