Do You Remember Your Very First Wave?

Wasn't it beautiful? Your hair was fresh and healthy. That is why it looked just like a natural wave. Do you wish your next wave to be just as beautiful, as satisfactory? It can be done. We have just completed a course in the Parker Herbex individualized treatments and are prepared to give you these results, and your hair will have the fresh, natural look that your very first wave gave you. If the wave you now have is dead looking that too can be made into natural looking curls by this method. There will be a Herbex Specialist at our shop Thursday at 5 o'clock. Anyone interested in the condition of their hair may receive free advice by calling for an appointment at 277-R.

FROM OVER THE LINE

(By J. W. Rogers)

"It is not raining rain for me, it's raining daffodils; in every dimpled drop I see, wild flowers on the hills."

Here is a high school yell that comes to my mind just now; "Zip, zash, zip zah, zip zah, zeet! The Headquarters high school is mighty hard to beat!"

It afforded me special pleasure last week to meet my former student of Buena Vista school, Mildred Florence, the wife of my former student of Barterville, Oral Hollar, now residing at Crayton, Nicholas county. Her genial smile of recognition deeply impressed me. Oral is weighing in his mind two thoughts, one to continue trying to make a living on the farm in his crippled condition, the other, to try to pursue some of the plans suggested to him by the state movement now on, for the benefit of its crippled persons. A better boy is surely coming to him, a good wife, and little children. They are truly worthy.

When Nicholas county citizens come over into Harrison county they usually fluke good. We interviewed three of them last week.

First was Mr. W. T. Barlow, who left Nicholas, a few years ago, settled on a farm on the Berry-Corinth road, and is highly respected and doing well, next is Mrs. Emma L. Perrin, Cynthiana, who boasts of her love for Nicholas county where she spent her girlhood days. Her maiden name was VanCamp. She joined the Baptist church shortly after moving on Ellisville school house, and taught about 24 years, she married Mr. Wallace Perrin and moved to Cynthiana. Mr. Perrin died several years ago, leaving his wife and four children to do the best they could in life, and they have met their tasks bravely and well. Sterling, her son, is a painter, Clarine is preparing to become a trained nurse, and Anna May and Mary Lou are students.

Last but not least, is Mr. Homer Bryson, who came over into Cynthiana, about 10 years ago, starting backward we see him a pioneer school teacher at Shiloh, in a district of 100 pupils. The state law caption at that time was $40 a month. Mr. Bryson taught his first school for the "draw," which was $180 for the entire term, but was forced to discount that salary at 19 per cent at the close of the term in order to make good his pledges for board, etc. In 1891 he was appointed Assistant Deputy Internal Revenue Collector, having had some experience with the U. S. Gauger. He was twice Postmaster in Carlisle, in all, about 16 years. He has hosts of friends in Harrison and Nicholas counties.

"The good and wise, sincere and true, between the lines I preach to you, that's all surely I do, if you laugh a little going through."
