Rowe Letters Go In Record For Congress

Two letters written by George H. Goodman, Kentucky WPA administrator, were read into the record during a House session Thursday on a new relief bill. The letters, published in the Lexington Leader last month, showed that WPA officials in Kentucky had laid out a plan for contributions to the 1938 reelection campaign of Senate Leader Barkley. Representative John M. Robsion told members of the House.

Robsion charged that the state administrator had been guilty of a violation of the law in instructing his subordinate, Ernest Adams, Lexington, to destroy any of his files which might indicate political activities that involved WPA officials in such criticism.

"Although these letters apparently were missed," said the Kentucky representative, when he saw WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and his assistant, Aubrey Williams, investigated charges of political corruption in WPA in Kentucky, and although Senator Shepard Senate committee appointed to have overlooked them also the subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee also investigating the WPA read them into the evidence after establishing their authenticity."

Mrs. Roosevelt Defends Right Of Married Women To Work

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, defended working wives Monday, suggesting that discrimination against married women of one group might make the United States "a Fascist state" which tells one when to work, or how.

Her statement was an answer to a letter from Miss Ellen Woglom, president of the Massachusetts Womegas Political Union and campaigner against employment of married women in Government office.

Mrs. Roosevelt wrote:

"I do not think the loss of citizens you mention is protected or enabled if they did not work when in a great majority of cases would go hungry.

"Do you wish us to become a Fascist nation which tells one when to work or how? Is that as you discriminate against one group that the rights of others cannot be controlled and spread to others?"

Birmingham resided by changing Mrs. Roosevelt to a whole.

Elimination Of Waste Urged In Magazine

To cure enough revenue to buy one typewriter for the L. & N. railroad must haul 11,552 tons of average freight one mile, to take enough money to buy a coal scoop it has to haul 128 tons of freight one mile. The purchase of one lead pencil consumes the revenue earned by hauling 1.882 pounds freight a mile, and the cost of one waybill equals the amount railroad earns for transporting 541 pounds of average freight one mile.

These examples, and others, are published by L. & N. President James B. Hill in the June L. & N. Employees' Magazine, with a plea to employees to renew their efforts to eliminate wasteful use of supplies. He points out that a saving of even one per cent on the L. & N.'s annual supply bill of $15,850,000 would amount to $158,500.

FROM OVER THE LINE

(J. W. Rogers)

"Let me sing of brooks, and blossoms, of singing birds and bowers, of April, May and June, and lovely July flowers."

We can be happy if we will, in this life below: The many funny-sunny things, will keep our hearts aglow.

It's easy to find many Bible names of people these days such as Martha, Mary and Naomi, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, but it's a hard job to find a Job.

Under Pres. John Adams' administration alien laws were passed and approved in 1798. They provided for punishment of persons who spoke, wrote, or published anything false or malicious against the President of the United States. Kentucky denounced those laws then, and judging from our daily observations she would do the same today.

Long time ago there was a queen of England named Eliza beth. She was sometimes called "Good Queen Bess." She was observed of all observers. Now, England has another Queen Elizabeth, who is being observed by all observers." Mr. Veach Reid, Cynthiana, chanced to be one of these, a few days ago.

Just from the bedside of Mr. Homer Bryson, Cynthiana Hospital, we wish to say, he is looking well for one so afflicted, and converses cheerfully, with friends whom he is still able to meet and greet. This information for his many friends in Nicholas and Harrison counties.

A Comparison of Taxes
"Motor Transport" and the Railroads

AN ERRONEOUS impression has been given by propaganda recently disseminated by the commercial trucking interests, to the effect that annual taxes paid in the United States by "Motor Transport" are $417,500,000 as compared with taxes of $328,000,000 paid by the railroads.

The trucks using the highways for transportation purposes, that is, the inter-city commercial trucks, are the only ones which complete, and are therefore the only ones which can fairly be compared with the railroads. They are the largest, heaviest and most destructive of all trucks that use the roads.

But they represent only about one-twentieth of all trucks in the United States.

Therefore, in comparing these competing forms of transportation and their contributions to the Government, it is obviously erroneous for the truck interests to take credit in their propaganda for taxes paid by all trucks.

Most of the payments which these inter-city trucks do make are neither property taxes nor compensation for the use of public property, but are made up of gasoline and license taxes such as all automobilists pay.

By far the largest part of truck taxes is paid by the operators of farm trucks, farmers' delivery trucks, and other trucks which do not compete with the railroads.

These private truck operators are burdened by increased taxes and are interfered with in the use of the highways by reason of the operation of these large trucks for hire.

The annual taxes paid by the commercial truckers in Kentucky, for example, as a rental for the use of the roads are only sufficient to build about six miles of first-class highway.

The railroads not only have constructed and maintain their own roadways, but also pay true taxes thereon for the support of the state government and all its sub-divisions, including its public schools.

Johnson Opens Campaign With Militant Speech

Candidate For Governor Flays Brown Both As Candidate And CIO Employe

HUGE THRONG PRESENT

Shelbyville, Ky., June 21—Keen Johnson took the gloves off today and in a smashing fighting political speech elected scornful withering blasts of denunciation against John Young Brown, both as a candidate and man.

As an opening salvo Lewis and the C. I. O. and other parts for several years and citizens of Kentucky should be generous in their reception to the party. Approximately thirty days are left before the date of the last primary election and nothing should be left undone by the party's friends to make the campaign a success.

It was an aggressive talk by Johnson who addressed a throng of the county fairgrounds on the outskirts of the city. Democratic leaders from all parts of the state were present. Johnson's friends expect his speech to be the keynote of the campaign. They confidently believe will run for governor.

The tall-thin lieutenant governor and candidate for governor made no bid for political purchase. He outlined a constructive program that would guide and benefit the people of this commonwealth and scathingly denounced his opponent, John Young Brown, for campaigning on the CIO ticket and being the willing tool of John L. Lewis.

Johnson was introduced by Congressman Virgil Chapman, Lexington and Party chairman of the executive committee of the National Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. Odonia Ward, Democratic national committeewoman, campaign chairman for Shelby county and representative of Governor Happy Chandler, was also present. Johnson's campaign manager, also spoke briefly. He introduced Gov. Chandler who in turn introduced Congressman Chapman.

Johnson in his speech laid down with startling directness the principal issues upon which he intends to wage his campaign. Brown's "campaign manager, his political advisers, and the threat of John L. Lewis and C. I. O. dominated the state government brought caustic comment from the two-gun sportsman candidate.

"I stand before this throng of militant Democrats as a candidate who does not represent any special interest and the first promise I make to you is that I will not be controlled by John L. Lewis," Mr. Johnson said. "I am sure that you were a recurring theme throughout the campaign of his opponent address.

In outlining his program for Kentucky Johnson declared he was "not going to get into any promising contest with any one less a promiser as my opponent." He emphatically declared his opposition to any increase in taxes and expressed the belief that the state's present income was sufficient to meet its needs if economy was practiced.

Johnson announced his endorsement of the old age assistance payment for old age assistance, a continuance of $12. per capita for school purposes, extension of the use of the automobile law, promised to develop a plan which would result in freeing the state's toll bridges.

Twelve Local Students Attending U. Of Ky.

Surpassing all records for the first term enrollment in the history of the University of Kentucky Center System, a total of 1,921 students are registered for the current five-week term at the state University. Included in the registration are two students from Venesuela, S. A., one from Egypt, one from the Canal Zone and one from Guatemala.

A statistical analysis of registration at the University of Kentucky for the first five-weeks term of the ten weeks session shows that 118 of the 120 Kentucky counties are represented, and of the 48 states besides Kentucky, and that the total of 1,921 students in attendance at the center is 65 the total number enrolled during the first summer term last year.

Among those students registered from Nicholas county are: Lucy H. Scudder, Carlisle; Harold Thompson Shrout, Carlisle; Lucille Smoot, Carlisle; Carlos V. Snapp, Barrtersville; Louise Standford Linville, Ewing; Mrs. David Hampton McKinney, Carlisle; Charles Gano Talbert, Carlisle; H. L. Talbert, Carlisle; Milton Alvin Galbraith, Carlisle; Glenn W. Clay, Myers; Edna Hurst Huddleson, Carlisle, and William Dudley Judge, Moorefield.

More Funds Needed For Boy Scout Camp

Only About $50 Subscribed To Fund For Repairing Camp Black Hawk

Solicitors for the Boy Scout camp expected Saturday night that only about $50 had been subscribed. At least $300 more is needed to put the camp, Camp Black Hawk, in condition for the coming season, it is declared, by light plant and buildings are in need of repairs.

Several years ago the camp site was purchased for the Scouts by the American Legion post and buildings were constructed by popular subscription, largely through the efforts of D. W. Sipp, who was Scoutmaster at that time.

The solicitation has been mainly for several years and citizens of Nicholas county should be generous in their response to the appeal. Approximately thirty boys are members of the local troop and the camp offers recreation for a large number of boys from all parts of the county.

It is generally recognized that Boy Scout training is one of the most valuable forms of training for boys known and the camp is an environment is given and the boys are taught the principles of good law abiding citizenship.

Mrs. Lucian Harper and Mrs. C. I. Mathias are now assistant postmasters at the camp. If unable to see you they will be glad to receive any contribution.

Moorefield And East Union Tied In League

Each Team Has Won Land Lost 1, National Guard Undefeated In Two Games

With four victories and one setback each, East Union and Moorefield are in a tie for second place in the softball league as a result of games played the week end for the first time since the opening of the season.

Moorefield came to play both nights of the week while the National Guard has won two and lost one game. The latter is considered in the percentage as it has played the required number of games.

On Friday night Moorefield defeated the CCC by the one-sided score of 12 to 1, and in the second game East Union defeated Pepper 11 to 8.

On Tuesday night the National Guard defeated Standard 9 to 7, and Headquarters continued its losing streak by going down to defeat Georgetown 13 to 7. The Headquarters team has showed marked improvement each game and should be considered a contender for the second half of the season.

On Wednesday night the undefeated National Guard Team will play the fast-stepping East Union team in the first game and in the second game Standard will play Moorefield.

On next Tuesday night, July 4, the National Guard will play Headquarters and East Union will play Moorefield.

Standings of the teams to date are as follows:

Picture Of Parade In Carlisle More Than 30 Years Ago

The above cut was made from a print of a picture taken in Carlisle more than thirty years ago and is a picture of a parade and demonstration of farm machinery. The parade was headed by Ben Hall, who was W. T. Soper, who was local agent for the McCormick-Deering line of machinery, and Mr. Soper was also followed by the late William Hendrickson, who was representative of the International Harvester Co.

The old plate from which the picture was made was found by the Kelly Barnett Co. and given to Hollis Cavanaugh. Mr. Cavanaugh has made several pictures from the plate and can supply them to anyone who wishes them.

According to J. H. "Cap" Fulton, dean of the Carlisle barbers, the picture was taken in the summer of either 1905 or 1906. The occasion was a "big day" in Carlisle. Mr. Fulton recalls, with kindness, the people thronging the streets to see the parade. A close scrutiny of the picture shows many prominent citizens of that day who have since died. Among those who have been identified are W. S. Dudley, C. T. Dennis, Miles J. Donnell, "Uncle" Cole Templeman, Ben S. McKay, W. T. Soper and others who have passed on. Great, Beyond, however, some of our readers will remember the occasion and know the exact date when the demonstration was held.

SIX SERIOUSLY HURT

Approximately fifty persons, including several state officials, were injured Saturday in the collapse of a speakers stand at the campaign rally in Shelbyville for Lieutenant Governor Keen Johnson. Six suffered serious but not fatal injuries.

Sherwood To Retire As L. & N. Employee

Will Be Pensioned By Company After 37 Years, Father Retired After 57 Years

Robert H. Sherwood, clerk at the local Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company depot, will retire Friday after thirty-seven years of service with the company. Mr. Sherwood has served as clerk at the local depot for the past eleven years, and prior to that time was at Ewing, his home town, where he started working for the company.

Mr. Sherwood's father, W. H. Sherwood, retired as station agent at Ewing about three years ago after serving in that capacity for 57 years, all of the time having been spent at Ewing. Father and son have spent a total of 94 years and eleven months with the company.

They are probably the only father and son on the entire L. & N. system both having served as and both living. Both are in excellent health.

"Bob," as he is familiarly known here, has made many friends during his stay in Carlisle. During all of my years of residence in Carlisle I have known I have had business at the depot I have been friendly with Mr. Sherwood said he would return to his home in Ewing and help his father on a farm at that place.

It is not known at this time who will succeed Mr. Sherwood as clerk here.

State Wins Fight To Retain Three CCC Camps

On word from Governor Chandler that he had appointed Ora A. Rose, federal park official, as maintenance supervisor of state parks in Kentucky, National Park Service and Civilian Conservation Corps officials Thursday relented in their determination to close three CCC camps in Kentucky July 1.

The announcement ended a condition which has existed for the past three months. Announcement had been made that the camps would be withdrawn from three state parks on July 1 because the state was not maintaining the same improvements had been made.

County Debt Act Held Constitutional

The 1938 county debt act was held constitutional by the Court of Appeals Friday.

The legislation was attacked by Attorney General Hubert Meredith and Bullard county taxpayers after H. Clyde Reeves, state local finance officer, had approved bond issues for these counties following investigation of their abilities to meet their financial obligations.

The decision reversed that of Franklin Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery, who held the act void "in toto."

Engineer Obtaining Information On Land

Making Preliminary Survey Of Land Which Would Be Affected If Proposed Dams Built

An engineer from the Cincinnati office of the U. S. Engineers was in Carlisle Wednesday obtaining information and making preliminary estimates for flowage rights of property which may be affected if the proposed dams on Licking river are constructed.

Congress recently made an appropriation of $200000 for the construction of a dam at Cave Run, near Farmers, Rowan county, and $250000 for a dam near Falmouth. The appropriations are subject to the approval of the President.

If the Cave Run dam, will have priority, it is believed. Construction of this dam would not affect land in Nicholas county.

Construction of a dam at Falmouth would probably cause the flooding of a large acreage of land in this county. While a flood control dam would cause some flooding of land, a power dam would cause water to back up over thousand sof acres in Pendleton, Harrison, Robertson, Nicholas, Fleming and Bath counties. It has been stated.

A group of engineers last year made a survey of the entire territory which would be affected by the construction of the proposed dams.

Acreage Is Urged As Base For Quota

Farm Leaders Meeting At U. K. Favor Plan In Preference To Poundage System

Changes in the farm program for 1940, recommended at a conference of executives and committeemen of the East Central Kentucky Agricultural Adjustment Administration area at University of Kentucky Friday, included the acreage plan instead of pounds in marketing quotas for tobacco. It was explained that this change already has been approved by the department to the Farm Act now before Congress.

A committee headed by Walter P. Stuart, chairman of the farm program committee in Virginia, placed before the general session fifteen changes which it thought should be made in the farm program for next year.

One recommendation asked that no further decreases be made in the allotments of the tobacco growers for the benefit of new growers. Another that payment after debre approved a minimum soil-building allowance of $10 for each farm having five acres or more of crop land.

Other recommendations asked for increased soil-building allowances for farms on which soil drainage be included as a soil-building allowance, that the growing of lespedeza be considered one under of practice, and that plowing under red clover be considered as given for the construction of fire breaks in woodland. It also recommended that the most place land uses for commercial vegetables and potatoes be retained next year.
