HERE IS SEPTEMBER

(Baltimore Sun)
Here is September,
Coming so ease
What are the colors
This autumn to be?
Here she comes tapping
With fingers of snow
The tupelo's branches,
The leaves of the yew.

A loon on the river,
A heron close by;
The summer stars falling
In groups through the sky;
Here is September
To tell us to make
The cider like amber
Of reeds by the lake.

Spider webs spreading
Amid the dry grass,
To catch the flies threading
The late summer air.
September, the lovely,
On hill and on stream,
Here is September
To dream us her dream.
