THE FARM AND HOME

Flowers require sun and should be located so they will receive it at least half of the day. Soil for flowers should be fertile, and they should be placed where they will not be robbed by trees and shrubs of moisture and plant food.

To treat sore mouth of lambs, remove the scabs and apply a good mild disinfectant, such as a 2 per cent solution of permanganate of potash or a salve made by mixing an ounce of coal-tar sheep dip with a pint of lard.

It is considered better to give a tobacco plant bed a thorough watering once every eight or ten days than to water lightly every few days. A barrel of water for every 100 square feet is equal to about four-fifths of an inch of rain.

A 4-H club health circular says that chewing coarse foods, such as apples, celery and raw vegetables, exercises the jaws and gums so that the teeth are better supplied with blood. It also helps to keep the teeth healthy, strong and clean.

Cheese balls recipe: Mix 1 cups of mashed potatoes, three-fourths cup of grated cheese, two tablespoons cream, one-half to three-fourths of a teaspoon of salt. Make into balls and fry in deep fat.

Stop Cancer

Look for Danger Signals

Listen to Your Doctor

The Woman's Field Army is conducting a nation-wide campaign during the month of April to acquaint the public with cancer and to urge early diagnosis so that it may be cured.

Money is needed to carry on this educational campaign. The Nicholas County Woman's Club is conducting the campaign in Nicholas county and hopes to enlist every public spirited citizen of the county in the drive to stop cancer. Enrollment fee this year will be 50 cents or any amount you want to give. Mail, send or bring your contribution to

U. S. 13
Hybrid

We recommend U. S. 13 because most all official and former tests prove that this is the variety of Hybrid best adapted to this community.

It is similar to Reed's Yellow Dent in maturity, stalks and foliage, plus all the advantages of Hybrid, such as a larger yield, drouth resistance, sturdiness and uniform maturity.

On account of great demand for this variety we advise booking your order now.

TO THE PUBLIC

We are getting along fine with the work on the Theatre which will be done in about two weeks. Our intentions are to put in new chairs but we can't get them at once as they have to be made to fit the auditorium. If you say so we will use our old seats until the new ones are done which will be about four weeks.

Locally

A. S. Miller qualified in county court Monday as executor of the estate of the late William H. F. O'Neal.

Monday was the last day for Nicholas county farmers to sign their farm practice plans for 1940 and the local AAA office reported Wednesday morning that a total of 1,080 farms had been signed.

Census enumerators in Nicholas county report that they are making satisfactory progress on the population tabulation. No difficulty has been experienced in obtaining answers to the questions asked, they say.

Last week's Mercury stated that Clay Cowgill had purchased the farm of Mrs. Alice Butler on the Cartersville pike. It should have said he was the purchaser of the 150-acre tract and has taken possession of the property.

Kelley allnett, local plumber, was awarded $66 in the pay day of Carlisle merchants here Saturday afternoon. Mr. Barnett was present and promptly claimed the money. Another $66 will be awarded Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

For the first time in nine years the Cincinnati Reds won their opening game on the home grounds by a score of 2 to 1 at Cincinnati Tuesday. A large number of Carlisle and Nicholas county baseball fans were among the record crowd of 25,000 which attended the opener.

Both the Carlisle city school and the rural schools of the county will close on Friday, May 17. Although the rural schools have terms of eight and a half months, they are being required by the county board of education to make up two weeks lost by the bad weather last winter.

Rev. G. R. Tomlin, pastor of the Carlisle Christian church, is conducting a Christian workers' training institute at the Third street Methodist church in Maysville this week and all four of the Methodist churches in that place are participating. The institute opened Monday and will close Friday.

Captain G. G. Caywood, commanding officer of Troop A 122nd Q. M. Squadron, was notified this week that members of the organization will be on duty at the Kentucky Derby at Louisville on Saturday, May 4. A detachment from the local unit has been on duty at the Derby for the past several years.

Local wool dealers have started receiving wool, but no market price has been established. Dealers here say they are receiving Christmas wool, and an advance where the wool is not sacked. It will establish a price about May 15. Some are guessing that the price will be between 30 and 35 cents per pound.

Miss Dorothy Beeler, selected as May Queen of the University of Kentucky from a field of 23 co-ed candidates, is the daughter of director of Mrs. Shirley Beeler, of Lexington. Her mother is the former Miss Shirley Warren, of Carlisle, where she was born and reared. Miss Beeler is a freshman at the University.

Holding their first ministerial since unification of the north and south churches, the Carlisle district of Methodist churches, in session at Flemingsburg, last week, honored the district superintendent, Rev. C. A. Swarzy, of Carlisle, by presenting him with a purse to attend the pastors' school at Winchester this summer.

Dr. Jasper L. Shannon, native of Nicholas county and member of the political science department of the University of Kentucky, was the principal speaker at a convocation at Transylvania College Saturday in commemoration of the 182nd anniversary of the birth of Henry Clay. The subject of his address was "Henry Clay, the Human Being."

Mrs. Nathan Mann, of Barterville, agrees with The Mercury's suggestion of a rat killing day and says her little white and black terrier, "Shady," is ready any day. On January 30, Mrs. Mann said, she bought a license for Shady and the next day her little pet, to show her appreciation, killed 14 full grown rats. From January 31 until March 1 the dog killed 52 rats, and Mrs. Mann would like to know if any other dog in the county can beat that record.

APRIL

(Alice Garland Erskine)

Oh welcome maid, sweet, unafraid, your moods, invite the wind.

That sweeps the earth, while buds have birth.

When robin's hidets never mind. When blue skies smile and scents beguile

There's a flash of fishes, too. Shrill shroud in dell and wood

A freshness brought with you. A fleecy cloud your garment proud,

A crocus on your breast;

You can forget the mad cigarette We love, but dare not trust.

You touch again with sun and rain Each mossy rock and boulder. Pebbled at the brook, with backward look

Your hand on winter's shoulder Your air so sweet, we're at your feet.

Forgiving your caprices.

You make dear, of all the year Who signs the springtime leases
