Two God-Given Gifts

It's an accepted fact that most people who want beautiful things are willing to pay dearly for them.

But today many people have worked a sense of fitness and harmony into their lives... richer than the strained-pump of the ancients, yet without modern extravagance.

These happy folk have two God-given gifts -- common sense and good taste. Both lead them to advertise, where prices are well within reason and where service reflects the innate refinement of the newspaper itself -- and of the purchaser.
