Be kind

Life is too short to nourish hates;

Right may be wronged, and yet while justice waits.

Love hears the sounds that anger aggravates

A writer says, "We are looking on a spiritual conflict that amounts to a war on all that Christ stands for. Satan himself has seized on disillusioned and yearning flocks without them to their own wicked purposes. Hitler is the man who profound than dictatorship and the only solution and answer is Christian evangelism."

Miss Howard's Recital

Miss Ida M. Howard presented her piano pupils in annual recital Thursday night in the Methodist church. Those who appeared were Misses Louise Dorothy Hall, Betty Jane Hughes, Adelyne Gaunce, Nell Franklin Wilson, Susie Jones and Patsy Ruth Allison. The following former pupils also appeared: Misses Mildred Murray, Abigail Hamilton, Pauline Stone and Jane Alexander.

Miss Howard is a veteran teacher of Carlisle and the capacity house which attended the recital spoke of the splendid work she is doing here. She has contributed much to the music life of Carlisle and was organist in the Methodist church for over 25 years. Many mothers and daughters and even three generations of pupils were in attendance.

Hundreds of young people have taken lessons from her in the past 50 years. Although she is very frail, it is hoped she will be able to have many more recitals.
