SONG OF THE TOMB

(Ruth Cunningham, Olive Hill, Ky.)
"He's not here! The Lord is risen!
Was the song that broke on the day—
The song of that bewily-born day,
Christ the Lord of Glory is risen!"
The women who came to the tomb—
Bringing the fragrant perfume—
To care for their Lord, in the gloom,
Breathed of the song, "He is risen!"

That first Easter song, "He is risen!"
Was swept on the clean damp wind—
Was swept on the morning wind,
"Oh, Christ, the Saviour is risen!"
Life and hope were born anew,
Through death, His words came true
Again.
And forever would endure,
Since Christ of earth had risen.

"Go quickly and tell . . . ! He is risen!"
Gave birth to evangel light,
Gave birth to the mission of life
"Go quickly and tell . . . ! He is risen!"
And the song of that first Easter Day
Yet turns the wanderer away
From sin and the penitent pray
To Christ the dear Saviour is risen.
