Tobacco Grower Jailed Failed To Report Sale

J. Wade Stephenson of Holly Springs, N. C., has been sentenced in Federal Court to six months in jail on a charge of contempt of court in connection with the sale of his tobacco.

According to court records Stephenson failed to file a report of the number of pounds he marketed of the 1940 crop. He was still unwilling to file the report when he appeared in court, said Wayland Jones, AAA field officer, and was sentenced by Judge I. M. Meekins.

The sales reports are required in order to show disposition of tobacco marketed in those cases where producers fail to make a proper identification of tobacco sold without marketing cards according to AAA marketing quota representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The marketing quota men report that similar cases are pending in Kentucky and in four other states in connection with tobacco of the 1940 crop.

China held its first Christmas seal sale in 1938 in the midst of war with Japan and has continued to hold a seal sale each year. The sale was begun because of alarming increase in tuberculosis and of the dire straves the country was under.

The double-barred cross, spotlighted on the Christmas Seal by the lighthouse beacon, one of the best known humanitarian symbols in this country, is the insigna of the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated associations.

Among the nationally prominent artists who have designed Christmas Seals for the National Tuberculosis Associatsion are Thomas M. Cleland, Ernest Hamlin Baker, Rockwell Kent, Rudolph Ruzicka, George Vaughan Curtis, Lloyd Coe and John Evans. Stevan Dohanos designed the 1941 Seal.

Seven 4-H club boys in Fleming county sold 692 pounds of Jimson weed for $32.18.
