TO THE Voters of Nicholas County

The close of another very interesting campaign is at hand.

I have enjoyed visiting with many of my Nicholas County friends in their home. Unfortunately, however, I have been unable to see everyone. Naturally, the duties of my office come first and for this reason my time has been limited. Some of you whom I have been unable to visit personally, I have seen either in the office or on the streets and I have enjoyed the pleasure of all these meeting.

You whom I have not visited, I hope yet to be able to do so but if not so fortunate, I must communicate with you by some other means. With this in mind, I send this informal message.

I have always sincerely enjoyed serving the people of Nicholas County and hope that through your support and unity of purpose I shall again have this pleasure.

I have engaged myself in another clean campaign and while I have two worthy opponets, I have served faithfully as your County Judge for two terms.

I sincerely appeal for your support in re-electing me to serve you again as County Judge of Nicholas County.

418 Benefits Paid By Social Security Act

In the first fifteen months of operation of the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act 418 persons in the area served by the Lexington field office were found to be settled to monthly payments Regional Director of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, U. S. Department of Labor, Nashville, Tennessee.

This amount was said to include payments by 466 firms, engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce. These payments of back wages represented the difference between the amounts the employees actually received and what they were due under the Wage and Hour Law since October 24, 1938, the date the law became effective.

Of the total amount of back wages paid, 266 Kentucky firms paid $152,265.93 to 4,591 of their employees, while 266 Tennessee establishments paid $123,528.61 to 6,230 of their employees.

Since this six months period the soft drinks bottling and beer distributing industry was the highest restitution-paying industry, while the lumber industry ranked next in back wage payments.

Workers Receive $330,000 In Wage-Hour Restitution

During the first six months of 1941 wage-earners in Kentucky and Tennessee received $332,804.62 in back wages from their employers, it was pointed out today by William M. Leiserson, Regional Director of the ninth region of the Wage and Hour Division, U. S. Department of Labor, Nashville, Tennessee.

Farm Income

The report for the Lexington area, showing the number of claimants and the monthly payments in each of these groups, as of March 31, was as follows, given in the following order, Type of Claimant, Number of Claims, Monthly Payments:

Workers over 65	191	$3,600
Wives over 65	161	1,192
Children	125	121
Widows over 65	68	1,040
Mothers of children	43	644
Dependent parents	3	64
Totals	518	$6,219

The number has been increased materially since the report totals were obtained, Mr. Vaughn said. The Lexington office is now filing about 40 claims a month, he added.

THE FARM AND HOME

It is good homemaking to can enough fruits and vegetables to have two generous servings for each member of the family each day, in addition to potatoes and dried beans, during the time when fresh fruits and vegetables are out of season.

When well fed with balanced rations of grains and hays, the good pasture, livestock needs no supplementary tonics or complex mineral mixtures. In fact such preparations are more likely to be harmful than beneficial.

Farm manure can best be applied with a manure spreader but a spreader costs so much that it may not pay to own one unless there are 100 tons or more of manure to spread each year. Where large amounts of manure are to be handled, the farmer should not be without a spreader.

As an inducement to increase milk production, the Secretary of Agriculture proposes to purchase stored corn at a price which will make it profitable to feed corn to dairy cows. Corn should be fed only to fresh or thin producing cows.

How important often is the point of milk as a stimulant to convalescent and refeeding when fresh fruits and vegetables are out of season.

THE DOLLAR SINGS A WITCHING TUNE

(Courier-Journal)

A nation's heart is where its pocket-book is.

If South American republics have not loved us devotedly, if, indeed, they would rather trade with Europe than with us, it was largely because Europe played their tenderness, was wise to their little ways, did not, in season and out, assert an arrogant superiority.

To none of these things, trifling as we thought, but not insignificant, did either Washington or American business give much heed. That was one side of the picture. There was another. We bought as little from them as we could. A purchase here, a purchase there, a few goodwill is bought on others' way. If we don't know how to goodwill in courtesy that costs nothing, we must open our purses.

That being the case, it is easy to understand why Germany, Mexico and the Argentine, to find the first three, have been able to defense with reserve materials from our neighbors. But it has been intelligent to have them if they are to stand with us. The Nazi thrust through the Balkans, for example, has been halted before they can be wound back again, but the main road is open and ready for smooth rhythm, a switching and a humming tune.
