THIS WEEK IN THE WAR

The European Fronte: On the extreme southern part of the Russian front the German armies of General von Bock have continued to advance in Syoondthe Don River. The Malkop oil fields and the city of Malkop are in German hands. The result of these operations is that the Germans have advanced eastward along the foot of the high Caucasus mountains. The Malkop oil field and the grain in the fields and were houses of all sorts have been destroyed by the Russians as they retreated. But as the Germans have advanced they have lengthened and left exposed their left flank. They have driven a narrow spearhead into the Russian line but they have not succeeded in breaking through the Russian line. As the week progressed the Russian line stiffened before and below Stalingrad on the Volga River, and further north from Voronesh to Bryansk and the Moscow front there were clear signs of a Russian offensive, designed at least to relieve pressure on the Caucasus end of the line. Should a strong Russian offensive develop above Voronezh, the German line is now so situated that distance of a mile or sort might possibly overtake it. There are some who have thought that the Russians were saving such a movement as this quite successfully but Berliner and their offensive would be timed to coincide with an Allied invasion of the continent from England.

The RAF, aided by some American air squadrons, have continued to make heavy raids upon the cities of western Germany, particularly upon Mainz. That the British raids have been far more destructive even than those made by the Germans last year has been positively proven by letters from home, found upon captured German prisoners on the Russian front. Whether these air raids and the others upon the country's defenses have been sufficiently effective to prepare the way for an invasion of the continent is not yet clear. But if the continent is to be invaded by British and American troops, as now seems very likely this year, the operations must start within a very few weeks if they are to accomplish anything before winter brings them to a close.

In the Mediterranean there has been heavy fighting by sea and in the air, during the week. At considerable loss in ships, of at least a cruiser and an aircraft carrier, the British were able to push a large convoy through with supplies to Malta. The German fleet bombarded the Italian island of Rhodes in the eastern Mediterranean. On the Egyptian front there has been reported only air activity by both British and American squadrons.

India: Following the arrest of Gandhi and other leaders, the disorders in India have flared and apparently the police and troops have the situation in control. Firm behind the British authorities have stood the Mohammedan elements, numbering 90,000,000 in population. Their stand has assured the passivity of the Mohammedan troops, that is of most of the Indian army, to the critical situation campaign started by the Hindus.

The Pacific Operations: The American attack upon the Solomon Islands ten days ago still continues. There has been little definite information released by the navy thus far. Apparently as yet been able to overcome all Japanese resistance. From Pearl to Timor Island, 3,600 miles to the west, all Japanese bases have been under steady bombardment from the air as have been some naval vessels which were slotted headed for the Solomons. The Allies have seized the offensive in the South Pacific from the Japs while at the same time they have attacked also far to the north in the Aleutians. Taken with the Chinese and American air force operations toward the China coast below Hong Kong there is enough evidence to suggest that a big offensive against the Japs toward the Philippines has been started with the success of cutting off Japanese supply ships operating from Formosa to Malaya, Burma and the Dutch East Indies.

A WEEK IN County Health

As is always the custom at this time, the Nicholas County Health Department during the past week has begun its annual inspection of all schools in Carlisle and Nicholas county. The buildings are inspected and any other facilities are also checked, sanitary arrangements or other factors involved which are possibly dangerous to health, need eye sight etc. are noted. The various sources of water supply are checked and laboratory examinations are made from collected samples. The toilet facilities are also checked and any needed repairs noted.

Following all this work, a compilation of all defects is made and recommendations for needed repairs are presented to the responsible Boards of Education. Their cooperation ensures the parent of the schoolchild that his child is enjoying a full measure of protection against epidemic disease and he knows that these precautions are carried out by the proper authorities in the maintenance of this standard.

In addition to these services, the health department is now conducting examinations for Typhoid fever, Diphtheria, and smallpox. The department urges that parents take advantage of this service or to consult their family physicians for information concerning the need of this service. It is needless to recall that smallpox immunization is compulsory for school entrance and that no child can be allowed to public school can be allowed.

JAPS AND "JERMANS" AND JOHN BARLEYCORN OUR THREE BIGGEST ENEMIES —BUT THE GREATEST OF THESE IS JOHN BARLEYCORN

Because you cannot drink beer or whiskey and be a good citizen or a good soldier, for drink knocks out the control center of the body. Control gone disaster results.

Pershing fell because of T. B. and syphilis and alcohol. Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7 was in a stupor from a pay-day hangover when the Japs blasted us.

Alcohol is our "fifth columnist"—in Washington (more liquor drunk there per capita than anywhere in America)—in all industry (from coal mines to factory more time lost by workers with hangovers than from injury or sickness)—And even in our Army camps (soldiers are sold beer in camp stores).

Arm in arm with beer and whiskey go Prostitution (out of the first million drafted 60,000 were rejected because of venereal diseases) gambling (Americans wasted 6½ billion dollars last year in gambling dens)— and crime—theft, murder—(more young people in our penitentiaries than in our colleges in America.)

We shot six Nazis last week for trying to harm our country—yet we allow John Barleycorn to live and take "grains and grains alone" from the hungry, armies of trucks and men to haul and sell the poison to hurt us worse than a million Nazies.

Will America fall while we clutch the beer mug and whiskey bottle? Let us rise up and put him out in '42 as Wilson did in '14!

Mass Meeting Tuesday of Red Cross Workers

All Women of County Urged to Attend. F. C. Dixon to be Here

A mass meeting of Red Cross workers of Nicholas county has been called for Tuesday afternoon, September 1 at 2:30 o'clock and will be held at the Red Cross headquarters over the Farmers Bank.

Mr. T. C. Dixon, area representative will be present and all women of volunteer service in Nicholas county are urged to be present and be ready to assist if needed.

It is necessary to organize, not only for the Red Cross but for the Civilian Defense program which will be organized within the next few days.

GIBBERISH

There was a headline in The Lexington Herald Tuesday that scared the daylights out of me. It said "Mercury Hits New Low," and until I got to the thermometer part, I was shaking like an aspen leaf.

I was pressed into service the other day when they were ready to have a trial up at the Nicholas county court house and the sheriffs and the jailer had been called away. Judge Walter Mitchell and County Attorney William Conley asked me to step down to the jail and get the young woman who was about to be tried.

The charge was forgery, and I was getting a little tired of waiting until the case could come up and be duly reported so that the Mercury readers could know what was happening in the court house. So I hotfooted it down to the county jail and asked Mrs. Owens to release the young woman in question.

Then we started back up to the court house.

To save my life, I couldn't think of one single solitary thing to say to the young lady as we walked up the street. Once I started to say "It's a fine day," but I held my tongue on that because I didn't suppose you'd be thinking that it was a fine day if you were about to go into an examining trial on a forgery charge.

Then I started to say the fresh air certainly smells good, but that wouldn't have been exactly right because fresh air would be bound to feel good after a person had been cooped up for a couple of days. She might have thought I was making fun, and I really felt sorry for her.

Anything that popped into my mind to remark upon seemed out of place.

Finally she said, when I barged across the street against a red light that she had been used to waiting for the green lights in Lexington, where she has been living lately.

I managed to say that I supposed a car would kill you just as dead in Carlisle if it hit you as it would in Lexington and then thought that the remark was a bit inane.

She was a better conversationalist than I. She asked me

County Passes August Quota

Judge Ross Ill, But County Goes Over Mark Set by Treasury

With Judge Innes B. Ross lying ill in a Lexington hospital, the sale of bonds and stamps in Nicholas county went past the ten thousand dollar mark here this month.

Bonds and stamps are Mr. Roosevelt's favorite commodity—and when he was ill this month, Nicholas county passed her quota with the sale of more than ten thousand dollars worth of bonds.

The August quota which was given Nicholas county was one of the biggest in the county's history since the current war started, only the June quota being larger. Never has this county failed to pass its quota since it has been given one.

Schools Will Open Sept. 14

Date Set by Heads of Two Systems Wednesday in Conference

Carlisle city schools and the schools in the Nicholas county system will open on September 14, it was learned here yesterday after a conference between E. E. Plunkett, city superintendent, and W. D. Dampier, county superintendent.

Until the Wednesday morning conference it was not known whether the opening date would be the first Monday or the second Monday in September. The latter date was placed in the hands of the two executive school heads by their boards, and they came to an agreement after a short discussion.

The opening date this year will be a bit later than usual, but it was pointed out that the date was agreed upon after a survey of the tobacco housing situation. Many youths of school age are able to be of help in getting the burley cut and into the barns.

All was in readiness, it was pointed out, for the year's opening. There are no teaching vacancies in either system, an unusual situation in this year of the war when many faculties have been stripped by the draft.

Million Nazis Batter Russians in Huge Battle

Germans Engaged in All-out Effort at Stalingrad, Oil Fields

Their goal a knockout blow, one million Nazi troopers were being hurled at Stalingrad yesterday, smashing at the city's defenses and steadily pushing back the gallant Soviet defenders, who found themselves facing almost insuperable odds in the matter of men and machines.

Tanks, parachutists, airborne motorcyclists, and wave after wave of infantry, the Nazis seemed to be making a supreme effort to grab Stalingrad and the Caucasus oil fields before winter sets in to nullify their bid.

But the Russians were still fighting—and desperately. They reported counterattacks in various points as evidence that there was to be no immediate rout, and the Germans were reported huge drives for every inch of ground gained.

In the Rostov theatre, a new battle line which sought to retake the Solomon Islands by a surprise attack was being engaged by the Allies, two years in the Pacific, and reports seemed to indicate that the Japs were being beaten off.

More talk of a second front came upon the heels of the visit to Moscow by Sinston Churchill, although nothing definite had as yet been given out. There was talk of a unified high command, with American Generral George Marshall in charge.

In England, the death of the Duke of Kent in a plane crash was officially reported.

Bond Fixed in Forgery Case

Mrs. Marie Lawrence Held to Grand Jury Under $500 Bond

Mrs. Marie Lawrence, 24, formerly of Carlisle but more recently employed as a waitress at the Hollywood restaurant, was held to the September grand jury under $500 bond on a charge of forgery after an examining hearing Thursday before Judge Walter Shepherd.

Charged with forging the name of J. H. Banta to a check and receiving twenty dollars on it from the Carlisle A. and P. store, Mrs. Lawrence was remanded to jail after she failed to produce bond.

The check, which was made payable to "Marie Lester" and indorsed that way, was produced at the hearing. The bank had refused to honor it because of its signature.

Mrs. Joseph Goordon said that the check was the same one which the Lawrence woman had presented her and which she had refused to cash.

Plans Laid for Junk Rally

Saturday Will Be Date of Junk Gathering Here —Hope for Much Scrap

A Junk Rally, designed to get in all of the possible scrap material that is needed in the war effort, will be staged here Saturday, it was announced by Tand Junk yard, near the city limits on East Main Street.

Sponsored by the county salvage committee and by the War Production Board, the rally is to be an all day affair. Persons bringing scrap material there will be paid for it on the grounds.

The actual laying of plans for the Rally followed a meeting Monday afternoon at the Nicholas county court house. The gathering was attended by the county salvage committee and by members of the local Petroleum Industries Committee, which had charge of the rubber salvage drive here recently.

Under the plan of the Rally, Mr. Taul, who deals in scrap material, will receive all scrap at his yard. Persons were urged in a statement which was sent out following the county-wide meeting to get all of the scrap material available and take it to the Rally scene.

"It is a very real and a very necessary part of the war effort," the committee's statement said.

Theatre To Aid In Bond Drive

A drive to sell war bonds and stamps will be helped along here next week when a portion of the program at the Lyric theatre will be given over to promoting the buying of the war secuities.

Special programs have been arranged for Tuesday night, September 1, and for Saturday and Sunday nights, September 5 and 6.

Special music will be heard, and the regular programs will be interrupted to promote the bond and stamp sales.

Crowd Expected for Armory Hop

Maysville Band Will Make Initial Appearance at Dance Here

Carlisle's new Armory will be the scene of one of the most festive occasions in its short history Friday night when more than one hundred couples are expected to assemble here for the third dance to be held on its polished hardwood floor.

Music will be furnished by a band that has never been heard here before—Bill Wood and his Orchestra from Maysville which play under the name of Kentucky Kavaliers. The orchestra, which boasts eleven stream lined musicians, will be heard here for the first time Friday night. So confident are they that a large crowd will assemble to hear them, that they have agreed to play on a strictly percentage basis.

All was in readiness Tuesday for the dance as the Armory had been decorated and the floor prepared. Roger Womack, who is in charge of the arrangements for the occasion, predicted that the largest crowwd yet to assemble in the armory would be present for the affair.

Upon completion of this course he will be assigned to active duty either with the U. S. fleet at sea or at a naval shore station.

Fifty-three Deaths in Six Months

Influenza Takes One From Lack of Immunization

For the first six months of 1942 Nicholas County had a total of fifty-three deaths, which were as follows: Diseases of the Nervous System had a total of fourteen, there being twelve from Cerebral Hemorrhage, one from Meningitis and one from Coronary Thrombosis. Diseases of the Circulatory System, which includes all the different heart conditions, also had a total of fourteen. Pneumonia (all types) five. Tuberculosis (all types) five, Kidney Disease four, Cancer two, Violent or Accidental Death two, Suicide two, Influenza one, Disease of the Skin one and one from Diseases of Pregnancy which was a premature birth.

It is interesting to note that outside of the deaths from Tuberculosis, there was only one from a communicable disease, that being the one from Influenza, a disease for which we as yet have no available means of immunization. The fact that as yet no deaths have occurred from the various other communicable diseases reflects the effort and the importance of immunization and prevention, which has been advocated by the local Medical profession and the Health Department.

Fire Destroys 450 Gallons Gas

Blaze at Gulf Plant Monday Burns Gasoline

Fire which started with an old automobile burning and then spread to a quantity of gasoline, destroyed about 450 gallons of gas at the Gulf bulk distributing plant here Monday. Ben H. Pumphrey, Gulf distributor, said that the loss as his plant was confined to the gasoline.

The fire started at the Taul Junk yard in the early afternoon, and the Carlisle Fire Department was immediately called. They battled the blaze until it was under control.

Pictures Up

A large display of pictures of Nicholas county boys who are now in service was placed in the window at the Carlisle Drug Company this week. Dr. J. E. Bradshaw expressed gratification at the manner in which a friend or relative of the men had loaned the photographs and said that he would like to have a picture of every boy now in service for the display.

33 County Men Are Called for September Draft

Next to Largest Group During War Summoned by Government

A call for 33 more Nicholas county men for induction into the Army of the United States has been received by the local draft board, it was announced here yesterday.

The actual date of their leaving was not yet known, other than that it will be "sometime in September," Miss Hallie Griffin, board secretary, announced after she reviewed the call.

She pointed out that the call for men was the next to the largest request for manpower yet received, there having been 34 men called for physical examinations in August. Nine of that group were rejected because of physical disabilities.

Miss Griffin also said that the group which will leave in September must be comprised largely of those who recently registered in the 20-year age group. This will mark the first time that men less than 21 have been included in the call, she said.

When the 33 men leave the county it will make more than 300 men who have been inducted since the war started. The number is smaller than that of most counties because the draft has not been so heavy here due to the fact that more than 100 men left here before the war started, with the National Guard.
