Floyd (Soup) Barlow will be floor manager, and he will always greet you with a smile and make you feel at home at all times.

W. H. Roberts will be associated with us at the same House. He has been associated with the tobacco business longer than any one in the Cynthiana Market. He will be glad at all times to advise with you how to handle your tobacco so as to get the most money for it.

You will feel confident and at home with us.

W. B. TUCKER

Residence Phone 278

Because of the gasoline and tire rationing it will not be possible for us to contact you growers personally, so we take this method of inviting you to become one of the Cynthiana House's many satisfied customers and to sell at the Cynthiana House where you'll enjoy our hospitality.

Thanking you a lot for past favors we hope to see you soon with your tobacco. Call us day or night and make arrangements for the marketing of your crop.

NICHOLAS COUNTY SCHOOLS

The regular monthly conference of the Nicholas County Teachers Association will be held on Saturday, December 11 at the Carlisle High School. Christian church at 10:15 a. m. Mrs. Mary Hardy presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. M. C. Shearer and pupils of the Carlisle school. Rev. C. C. Ramsey, of Sidwell, will be the speaker. All teachers are urged to attend and the public is invited.

The third month of school will end on Friday, December 10, and teachers, bus drivers and janitors will be paid on Saturday, December 11.

At the monthly meeting of the Nicholas County Board of Education held on Saturday, December 4, it was decided that the schools would close for the Christmas holidays on Thursday, December 23 and reopen on Monday, January 3.

Again, the county schools are 100% in the Kentucky Education Association. At the first meeting of the year the teachers voted to make the membership 100% and now all dues have been paid and the county will be awarded a membership certificate, showing this fact. The superintendent desires to thank the teachers for their cooperation in this enrollment.

The rumor factory nearly always operates at capacity.

OLFICE WORKERS ARE SCHEDULED AT FRANKFORT

The State Personnel Division has issued a call for Welfare Department field workers and for stenographers, accountants and office workers in offices at Frankfort and at state institutions.

The call added that examinations were conducted at Frankfort each Monday for office workers and at stated intervals at various points in the state for welfare workers.

The personnel turnover in state institutions has reached alarming proportions," the announcement said.

CHRISTMAS MAIL MOVING THROUGH LOCAL POSTOFFICE

Christmas mail is moving through the Carlisle postoffice in volume. The public is asked to do Christmas mailings earlier this year so that the postoffice personnel may be relieved at least a number of armed services to pass through the postoffice. Harrodsburg Hit By Typhoid Epidemic

Two people had died Tuesday in Harrodsburg from typhoid fever and at least forty others are in or inside the city were stricken with the malady. Three other cases were reported outside the city in Mercer county by the health officer, Dr. J. T. Hinkle, who said the number of cases was sufficient to make it a "perfect" epidemic.

Dr. Fred W. Caudill, Louisville, epidemiologist of the State Board of Health, who spent several days in Harrodsburg recently assisting Dr. Tanner, said that the source of the disease had been traced definitely to two of the wells that had been cut into the city water supply system because of the drouth. Bulk of the city's water supply comes from Salt River.

Dr. Caudill stressed, however, that "immediate steps were taken to correct the supply" and that the water now was "safe." Daily specimens of the water are taken and analyzed to insure its continued purity, he emphasized

USED FAT WASTE UNDER OPA ORDER

Salvage Value of Tiny Quantities of Kitchen Fats Emphasized By Decision

Ration points for used fats are going to put all thrifty women on guard at the garbage can and at the kitchen sink, the two locations where most waste of used fat occurs. Now they will find it to their advantage to scrape every bit of blackened fat from the roasting pan and drain the last drops from the skillet. They will turn in used fat now instead of carelessly washing it down the sink.

In these days of rationing, no family has large amounts of fat and shortening, and all women have learned to use bacon fat and suet as food. Browned fats, and those that have acquired an unpleasant odor, are not accepted for extra ration points. These inedible fats have salvage value, and they should be saved with the same care as needed in the war effort.

All Worth Saving

No short say of any fat. "This fat is worth saving," and here are some ways to save it:

Save all the drippings from roasting pans and broilers. Trim the fat off meat before it is cooked, and strongly flavored, but inedible fats like the gluey and fatty scrap are urgently needed today.

Save the grease skimmed from gravies or soups with a metal spoon. The water frankfurters are cooked in, when cooked, yields a film of fat which onions, fish, and other strong flavored foods have been cooked, belong in the used fat can.

Scrape The Plates

The meat, fat and bones returned to the butcher or on plates after meals may be melted out, strained, and a surprising amount of fat will reward the effort.

Try out, also, all the scraps of fat and gristle cut from meat while preparing it for cooking.

In other words, save for salvage all the inedible fats and with them help your country. Probably it will be possible for you to replace what you have turned in with red stamps.

EISENHOWER GROWS IN FAVOR WITH SOLDIERS

Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's popularity has skyrocketed throughout the Fifth Army in Italy since the potentiality of naval correspondent estimated by Prime Minister Churchill on his home on Dorsey Avenue, to December 10 as the time when Mr. Churchill and Gen. Eisenhower would be "big-mouthed bass."

GERMANS WILL NOT FIGHT MUCH SAKS GEN. ARNOLD

An Associated Press dispatch from an American base in Western Italy says Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the United States Army air forces, predicted in the course of a tour of the Italian battle front that Germany would be unable to offer much resistance to the allied assault from the west when it comes.

If the Germans are not knocked completely out of the war by the time a new Europe is born, Arnold said, "they are going to be too groggy" from air attacks to put up much of a fight.

The atmosphere in the American bombers being thrown into the attack against Germany the Flying Fortress and the Liberator have each been strengthened recently, Arnold told a press conference that "we hope to bring over Europe such air types that with Russia we will have 360 degree bombing of Germany —hitting her from every side."

Ship Losses Lowest Since May, 1940

Allied merchant ship losses in November were the lowest for any month since May, 1940, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced today, adding that the number of U-boats destroyed exceeded the number of ships lost, as was the case in the three preceding months.

Their joint statement, issued in Washington and London, said one of aircraft operating from bases in the Azores allowed by Portugal under a treaty with Britain, contributed greatly to the month's success in the antisubmarine campaign.

"The statement called this success "notable" because the Germans had exerted "great effort" and had employed long-range aircraft to aid convoys and in concentrating U-boats against them.

"In spite of this, our escort and antisubmarine forces were effective," the statements added.

The communique said the first official disclosure that the Azores bases had been fitted out and used for operational purposes by consent to their use was announced by Prime Minister Churchill on Oct. 12.

No numerical total of ships lost or U-boats destroyed in November was given. It already had been disclosed, however, that more than 150 U-boats were wiped out in the first eleven months of the year.

"The London Daily Express naval correspondent estimated that the total potentiality of merchant ships lost exceeds the total of more than 100,000 tons."

BASS CARRIES WATCH

Mayor Joe Doon, barber of Joiner, Ark., and an enthusiastic fisherman, has had the town barber and chief executive hooked for a number of years.

Interested in what the larger bass were feeding on, the inside of a four and one-half pounder was slit open. It produced an unbreaked gold watch of the "railroad" size.

Some trouble? Dean produces a watch to prove it. Too, the bass was the kind known by fishermen as "big-mouthed bass."

CHRISTMAS BASKETS WILL REQUIRE NO RATION POINT

The Office of Price Administration in Washington has ruled that ration stamps will not be collected for food given away such as Christmas baskets, it was announced. OPA announced. The order replaces an earlier ruling that required stamps to be collected from the recipients.

The practical OPA says the givers, however, must surrender stamps to obtain the food and thus no extra stamps would be supplied for such purposes.

Christmas Programs At Carlisle Churches

Plans as completed Monday by the Carlisle Ministerial Association provide for the following schedule of holiday service at the various churches.

Presbyterian — Special Christmas music and sermon by the pastor. Subject, "Christmas In History." Sunday, December 19 at 5 p. m.

Methodist—The choirs are giving "The Coming Of The King" with the pictures and carol songs.

Baptist—Christmas Play, "The Star Still Shines" by the young people. Wednesday, December 22 at 7:30 p. m.

Christian—Pageant. Wednesday, December 22 at 7:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all these special holiday programs.

ANNUAL BANQUET NICHOLAS FARM BUREAU DRAWS 300

President Frank C. Henry Presides At Meeting Friday Night At City School Gymnasium

STANFORD GUEST SPEAKER

The annual banquet of the Nicholas County Farm Bureau, of which Frank C. Henry is president, was held last Friday evening in the Carlisle city school gymnasium with approximately 300 members and guests present.

Dr. Stanford, executive secretary Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, was guest speaker. Other speakers introduced by Mr. Henry were A. H. Calvert, vice president of Kentucky Farm Federation; R. S. Trigg, manager Kentucky Farmers Mutual Insurance Auto Company; and W. L. Belle, district organization director.

During the serving of the banquet a delightful musical program was rendered by the following local musicians: Mrs. A. V. Allison, Mrs. Sterling Blake, Mrs. Chester Shearer, Misses Virginia Lee Curran and little Misses Pat Allison, Nelle Wilson, Ann Gatliff Bell and Elizabeth Ann Blake, colored.

The delicious turkey dinner was served by the local Red Cross Canteen Corps, with Miss Thelma Linville in charge. The tables were given to the Nicholas County Red Cross Chapter.

At the annual election of officers for the ensuing year following the banquet, W. F. Piper was named president, J. W. Miller, vice president, and Miss Ruth Bell, secretary-treasurer. Directors named for two years were: Frank C. Henry, Bankin Carter, J. A. Standiford, B. S. Stephenson and James G. Allison. Howard Sidle was chosen a director for one year to fill the W. G. Irvin, T. Letton and G. C. Grover are holdover directors from 1943. Delegates elected to attend the state meeting in Louisville January 12-14 were W. F. Piper, W. T. Straw, F. C. Henry, G. C. Grover, L. M. Griffin, S. B. Barlow, James Patton and Walter Shepherd. Alternates are R. H. Clark George Letton, Carter, Emory Clark, Nick Smoot, W. S. Gaunce, O. R. Gatliff, and G. T. Cowan.

Banquet committee was composed of Frank C. Henry, G. C. Irvin, W. F. Piper and W. T. Straw.

The installation of a locker plant in Carlisle is a project being considered by the Farm and Business Men's Club, and a committee was present to register applicants for this enterprise.

The address of Mr. Stanford was interesting, instructive, inspirational and interspersed with humorous stories. The main idea throughout his address was the need of organization of all farmers and cooperation with labor. He said in the year 1880 agricultural organizations had outnumbered labor organizations 15 to 1, and at present labor outnumbers agriculture 13 to 1. Labor has thirteen millions of members and agriculture has one million.

He spoke of the importance of good citizenship and the task Americans face in winning the most destructive of all wars. Low he it would mean to lose everything. Among other things Mr. Stanford said: "After victory the war on home problems will follow. Business or other special groups must not run the government. Government must run business. Farmers are wanting all that is coming to them and nothing more. Unless organized they will not be consulted with Government problems. Farmers want only simple justice. Farmers who were not active in pre-war days now are drawing from $10.00 to $12.00 per day and spending it and after war they will soon be back on relief. Which road will the farmers take 'the high or low' over production, low prices and ruin. Organization of power will prevent an after-war depression, like we had following World War I. Militant organization is the hope of Salvation of this country."

Wouldn't it be odd if the war ended before the argument about the second front did.

MORE CUTS MADE IN REVENUE BILL

Prospective Yield Of 1943 Revenue Bill Slashed To Less Than One-Fifth Treasury's Goal

The prospective yield of the 1943 revenue bill was slashed to less than one-fifth of the Treasury's $10,500,000,000 goal when the Senate Finance Committee adjusted House-approved excise rates—principally downward.

The estimated net loss of $112-000,000 tax money from the committee's action shaved the anticipated yield to about $2-026,000,000. In combination with present federal taxes, however, the government will collect about $43,000,000,000 a year from its citizens.

Travelers, telephone users, whisky drinkers, club men, pool players, nickel club playboys and women found fans, face powder and handbags are among those tossed by the new levies, previously subject to the House but still subject to Senate approval.

Although hitting hardest at the country club trade, the new rates also will collect a few extra pennies from the housewife who needs a new light bulb. The committee approved increases below the House levels in four categories, raised the left eighth underworld, and specified a flat rather than a percentage rate on the sport of bowling.

The following increases, provided in the House bill, were approved by the senators without change: Whisky, from 86 a proof gallon to $9; beer, from $7 a barrel to $8; toilet preparations, perfumes and retail price up to 20 per cent; telephone services—local, from 10 to 15 per cent; long-distance, from 20 to 25 per cent; transportation of persons by motor vehicle service, from 15 to 25 per cent; transportation of persons (including sleeping car charges) from 10 to 15 per cent; club dues and initiation fees, from 11 to 20 per cent; billiard and pool tables, from $10 per table annually to $20.

Raised even higher than House rates were taxes on leased wires, burglar and fire alarms, and admissions and dues taxes than at present, but below the House levels were: Electric light bulbs, cabarets and luggage, walking canes and handbags—15 per cent on retail. The committee voted to raise the bowling tax from $10 and $20.

PEARL HYDEN, HAZARD, GETS STATE POSITION

Pearl Hyden, a 28-year-old Hazard attorney, has been appointed assistant director of the Workmen's Compensation Board, succeeding Ben Hall, Jr.

Hall resigned to take a legal post with a life insurance company in Louisville and it was said he acted at the governor's office the latter's appointment was formally made Monday by State Workmen's Claims Commissioner W. C. Burrow.

Hyden, who for several years has been associated with insurance companies before the state board, studied law in a Cincinnati night school and was connected with the Department of United States Senator Robert Taft.

ELLISVILLE SCHOOL TO GIVE CHRISTMAS OPERETTA

"A Topsy Turvey Christmas," an operetta, will be given by pupils of the Ellisville school Thursday, December 23 at 10:00 o'clock. Miss Annabel Hamilton has charge of the music.

The cast includes nearly one hundred pupils. Leading parts are taken by Dorothy Leet, Jane Anderson and Herman Dayton. The Christmas Devotional will be given by Delores Conrad.

SUPPORT OF WAC DRIVE ASKED BY GOVERNOR

A call for women of Kentucky to "meet the urgent need" for more Women's Army Corps recruits was made by Gov. Simeon Willis Saturday in the first proclamation he has issued since his inauguration.

He pointed out the campaign to enlist enough women to replace the known 1,312 army casualties among Kentuckians when the drive opened last Sept. 27 had brought in only approximately 50 young women from this state. His proclamation declared the Kentucky recruiting period would be continued for the duration of the war or as long as the Army needs more Waacs.

TRAFFIC DEATHS CUT IN KENTUCKY

With a 22 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities during the first ten months of this year compared to the same period in 1942, Kentucky has chalked up the eighth place among the states in reduction of deaths.

Missouri, with a 45 per cent drop.

More News Urged By Censor Chief

The Washington office of censorship has come out strong for secrecy, and should it ever come to any way urging the press and radio to ignore "subjects" even such as who would tell them what not to publish.

Without stating whether Army or Navy officers, or others, were referred to, Director, of censorship Byron Price said in a note to editors distributed through the major news services:

"I solicit your continued cooperation to see, in this instance, that a dangerous psychology of overcensorship is not created through out the land by the activities of a miscellany of volunteer firemen."

Price announced that new editions of the press and broadcasting codes of voluntary censorship, under which press and radio are operating, is made known.

He said:

"Every editor and broadcaster is asked to take note only of what is requested, but of what is not requested. Many of these requests are led by overzealousness to
