SEIZED AXIS VESSELS CONVERTED TO USE AS GREEK "SEA GUERRILLAS"

Something new has been added to European warfare. Greek sailors, following the lead of their compatriots on land, have seized a fleet of small Axis vessels and harass enemy shipping in the Aegean Sea with a flotilla of some 20 to 30 ships which the Germans and Italians had previously captured from the Greeks. Theseagoing men are the first "sea guerrillas" since the Greek.

The feat is not without precedents. From time immemorial the Greeks have been accustomed to seafaring. It is in the blood of them.

A BETTER CHANCE FOR THE WOUNDED

Although great casualties lie ahead in the fighting on the beaches of Europe, yet in this deadliest of all wars the wounded man has a better chance of survival than ever before, says the United States News.

If the sulfa drugs had been known during the Civil War, the casualties would have been halved, probably. Stonewall Jackson, who died of infection from bullet wounds, would have lived if he had the benefit of sulfanilimide and blood plasma now available in every wounded soldier.

Men in the Armored Force at Fort Knox are provided with sulfanilimide tablets in first aid kits. If wounded the first thing they must do is to take the tablets. When the medical corps picks up the wounded soldier they dust his wounds with sulfanilimide powder.

Sulfanilimide is working such wonders that doctors speak of it with awe," says the U. S. News article. "Reports from North Africa say that hundreds of thousands alive today who would have died in the last war have been saved. Men who lay on the ground 24 hours before they could be picked up have survived from infection by the drug.

A common bullet wound is not regarded as serious injury, according to the Army surgeon. A Navy doctor who treated the wounded from the Solomons battle says Marines wounded through the leg or thigh were up and about in 10 days.

If mankind could make as much progress in invasion as in warfare war would have been a forgotten art long ago.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO SOLDIER WIVES

Continuing its policy of caring for the families of service men through allotments, subsidies, etc., the government recently announced through the Children's Bureau, a new service for especially cases and the babies of service men, up to one year of age. The plan announced does away with the wives and babies of only enlisted service men up to the rank of line sergeant, chief petty officer in the Navy. These wives may go to the physician of their choice and make application for care. All bills including hospital physician's services, medicine, etc., will be paid by the government.

In order to get this service, however, the wives must make application for it early—since application must be approved by governmental agencies. It may ordinarily be a month or more after an application is clear and the patient has not made her application she is not eligible to receive the care.

All physicians now have these blanks and the physician whom patient chooses can help her secure this aid.

WAR UNCOVERS NEW FACTS ABOUT SEEING

Many new facts about the eyes and their use are being uncovered by the war. Recently it has been found that envelopes are specially made to enlarge small, fine print, and that materials like ultra-violet light for photographs and other material are placed in an envelope and easily read by the special light. Even pencil envelopes are used, making the light is invisible to other planes.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS
Wigwag

Frequently the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Signal Corps finds it necessary to relay messages without benefit of telephone, telegraph or radio. That is when the semaphore system is employed.

Like a single flag in the "Wigwag" system, the purchase of a War Savings Stamp or Bond, in itself has an infinitesimal effect upon the entire war effort, but when 130 million determined people set their hands to make our War Bond drives successful, the result is anything but infinitesimal. *U. Among the casualties returning to the United States from the Solomons are men who have lost their hearing, not from injury, not from shock, but from attack by insects upon men who have been without mosquito bar protection.

We'll never know how many lives this mosquito bar has saved and you probably never will know just how much good your purchases of War Bonds have done, but you should know that regular and increasing purchases are necessary.

LOW DEATH RATE RECORDED IN 1942

The general death rate in the United States dropped in 1942 to the lowest level ever recorded.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general, reported to the House Appropriation committee the rate last year was 10.3 per 1,000 population, compared to 10.5 in 1941, as shown in provisional data.

"It is probable," he said "that final figures will also show a decrease in material mortality for the 12th consecutive year, reaching an all-time low of about or less than three deaths per 1,000 births.

The increase of fatal accidents in industry almost offset the reduction in deaths from automobile accidents.

Dr. Parran reported substantial increases in two epidemic diseases —meningococcus meningitis, commonly known as cerebrospinal fever) and typhus fever.

His wishes and preferences are to be considered and given special attention on the day set apart in his honor. Allow him to do the things he desires most as you spend much of him on this day is a good gesture and suggestion. If other members have been favored in the past, transfer these favors to him Sunday. Allowing him to drive the car if others of the family have been doing most of the driving. SHOE STAMP 18 TO LAST TILL OCT. 31

The office of Price Administration (OPA) has announced that the new shoe ration stamp which became valid yesterday must last civilians through October 31.

The stamp is No. 18 in the sugar-coffee book. Stamp 17, first of the shoe ration stamps, provided for one pair of shoes.

The new stamp will have to last for four and onehalf months, which is 11 days longer than stamp 17. However, OPA said that the dates were in line with the policy of providing an average of three pairs per person per year.

As in the case of stamp 17, stamp 18 will be transferable within a family so that, for instance, a parent who does not need his stamp may use it for a child.

The announcement disposed of unofficial reports that OPA would encourage the use of the No. 18 stamp for the purchase of white summer shoes. While OPA has no objection to anyone buying any kind of shoes he prefers, it made it plain it is not providing any extra stamps for such a purpose
