For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused if it be received with Thanksgiving.—1 Timothy 4:4

CARLISLE NEEDS

This is editorial No. 2 of a series on "Carlisle Needs." The first of this series appeared on September 30 when we pointed out the need for a service, or luncheon club. Since publication of that first editorial on this subject, a number of discussions have been engaged in between business and professional leaders advancing their personal and many times different views. In some of our discussions it has been learned that many here are interested in advancement and improvement and from our viewpoint, the first step to secure any noteworthy improvement is to lay the proper foundation for that desired result, and we yet have to be shown a better way than by thorough organization of a group who will act irrespective of selfish interests.

A club has done a most commendable job yet a greater influence

The Carlisle Business Men's could be brought to bear with an invitation to any industry, such invitation is extended in the name of a service club of wide reputation for unselfish service to a community. We have no criticism to offer concerning the efforts of the Business Men's club, but we are convinced through experience and observation that it is inadequate to secure the fullest co-operation from within and give necessary weight to any appeals to outside interests.

True it is, any club or organized group of Carlisle business and professional men would of necessity be made up of the same personnel, but the contact and tie-in with a national organization is bound to carry with it influence otherwise unobtainable. We can enumerate a number of needs as we see them here. For example, an adequate sewerage system, play grounds for children, recreational center, better street-lighting, cleaner streets for improved sanitary and health conditions and many others. When the next city government assumes office after the election it is to be hoped that a progressive program will be instituted to bring about some needed improvements. Housing accommodations are needed before any invitation should be extended to bring in new industry and more people. Some of these improvements mentioned might cause some worry over the possibility of increased taxes, but the benefits would overshadow any increased tax burden in the opinion of many as well as the Mercury editor.

DECREES DON'T PRODUCE COWS

For sometime past the American people have been reading that they can expect butter and milk rationing. They are threatened partially prepared for such drastic steps. The civilian butter reserve is at the vanishing point which means that our milk supply is below needed amounts.

From labor and dairy feed, seed and everything the dairy farmer uses, have shown either normal or abnormal rises. No matter how fine our economic planners spin their theories, all of them combined cannot produce a milk cow in less than three years, by law, executive decree, or otherwise

Marriages

ADAMS-GEORGE

Miss Evelyn Adams and Mr. William George were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, October 13 at the home of Rev. Frank Simons.

Miss George is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams of Dover, Ky., and Mr. George is the son of Mrs. Etna George of Maysville and the late Dick George, formerly of this city. Mr. George is in camp in Louisiana.

MATHIAS-NORRIS

Miss Mary Louise Mathias daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mathias of Washington, D. C. and Mr. George F. Norris, son of Mr. George Norris and Mrs. Joseph Bell were married Saturday, October 3, in the Church of the Nativity, Washington, D. C. with the Rev. Stephen Hogan, officiating.

Mrs. Conrad Nix sang during the nuptial mass following the ceremony.

The bride was escorted by her father, and wore a becoming gown of white mousseline de soie flounced with full skirt and trimmed the bodice having a sweetheart neckline. A coronet of pearls held her veil, and she carried a purple orchid, surrounded by white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Robert L. Jones was matron of honor for her sister, and the bride's other attendants were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph M. Mathias and her sister, Miss Edwina Mathias.

Mrs. Jones wore rose colored taffeta and carried Joanna Hill roses and blue delphinium, and her headdress was of gray maline.

The others wore copenhagen blue frocks, gray maline headdresses and carried pink roses.

Little Miss Sue Bell, half-sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, dressed in white taffeta, the skirt made in tiers, and her Dutch cap was of lace. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay.

Mr. Harold V. Hartman was best man.

The bride is a neice of Messrs. Joe and Charles Mathias of Carlisle, and her father is a native of Carlisle, having been in the employ of the Carlisle Mercury many years ago, when it was owned by Mr. G. H. Keller and son, B. W. Keller.

FRYMAN-PURCELL

Mrs. Sophia Fryman of Nicholas county and Mr. Frank Purcell of Lexington, formerly of this county, were married Tuesday, October 19 in Judge Walter Shepherd in the court house.

LOCAL PERSONAL SOCIAL

DRESS PARADE

The days are passing in review—
These autumn days—and every hue
Is flaunted to the breeze they love
Are costumed either bright and gay
Or in a more subdued array.

Some pass with careless nonchalance,
While others make a brave pretense
With smiling features in the mist
And rain, the winds give sudden twist
And skies again blow amethyst

And there are those austere and chill
Waiting in turn to cross the hill.
You and I how well we know
The time will come when they shall go
With their brown garments fleckled with snow!

The Frost King sits in high command
Reviewing beauties he has planned
In red and silver, gold and jade—
No lovelier thing was ever made
Than autumn days on dress parade

Churches

METHODIST CHURCH
E. Hampton Barnette, pastor.
Church school 9:30.
Morning worship 10:45.
Youth Fellowship 6:45
Preaching 7:30.

We are delighted with the increasing attendance at the church services. We have a goal set for October attendance in the church school. It will take a good deal of hard work to get all our people out to church.

We are delighted with the large number of farmers who attend both the morning and evening services. Now is the time to attend church. We can do nothing better. If our boys are willing to die for our country we should be willing to live our best for the church while they are away. It is nothing short of a spiritual crime to neglect the church in times like these.

We will dismiss our prayer meetings and weekly services for the revivals; but all our services on Sunday will go on. Please keep up your good attendance.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Cecil V. Crabb, Minister.

There will be no prayer meeting this week on account of the revival at the Christian church, which we ask our people to attend and for which they should pray.

Sunday 10 a. m. Sunday school. Regular attendance here will pay you.

11 a. m. preaching by the pastor on the subject, "The Search for God."

5 p. m. vesper services. The theme will be, "Is Religion a Bargain?" These services are short, practical and timely. We cordially welcome friends of the town.

6 p. m. young people of the church.

Our ideal is to present the Old Gospel in modern terms.

Each afternoon (next week) right after school Mrs. Stratan and "The Taylors" will meet the Juniors and Intermediates (ages 7 to 16) for Bible drill and chorus work. Object lessons, Magic, Pencil Drawings, etc. will be used. Mr. Taylor will "Cook an Egg without Fire" as the first object lesson Monday. All boys and girls are invited.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH
James Harbison, Pastor.

Evangelist H. I. Daniels of Dayton, Ohio, is returning to Carlisle to assist the pastor in evangelistic services at Blue Licks and Carlisle. The meeting at Blue Licks will begin October 20th at 7:30 in the big hall near the bridge.

We have conducted services here every Sunday night since we closed the open air meeting in the summer with good attendance.

Sister Daniels has had years of experience in the evangelistic field.

The people of Carlisle will remember Sister Daniels from the tent meeting a year ago last June.

As soon as the meeting at Blue Licks closes she will start a meeting at the Assembly of God church in Carlisle.

BAPTIST CHURCH
James R. Thompson, pastor.
Prayer meeting dismissed—attend revival at Christian church, Thursday 7:30 p. m. Miss Flora Dodson, missionary to China, speaks.
