That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has rucky Public Service Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our state a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country. A strange place it would be—this State of ours—if our splendid 9,417 mile net-work of improved highways suddenly, ceased to exist.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Kentucky can take pride in ties, cinioren to school.

We Kentuckinsa are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways didn't just grow. Building and maintaining them is a tremedous job and for achieving this successfully we can thank past and present administration of the control of the convenience of the

As fellow citizens, the Greyhound Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes—but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the State.

As human as home

W E want you to think of the L & N Railroad as a personal, friendly institution—not just steel rails, monster bridges, huge shops, hig buildings, long trains and fast, powerful locomotives. That is but the physical picture. The "Old Reliable" is far more than that.

The Le N is a personal and human at laborating as essential public service. It is a half in object to the collection of the collection of
