BIBLE THOUGHT THIS WEEK

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.—II Timothy 1:7.

VOTE TUESDAY

Before the next issue of The Mercury is printed the election will be over and most of the votes will have been counted. It is the duty of every legal voter to go to the polls Tuesday and vote. This is the only way we can have a democratic form of government. We do not propose to tell anyone how he or she should vote on any question or which candidate would render the best service, but we do urge all who have the privilege to vote to use it and then support the Governor and all state officials no matter which one is elected. That's Democracy in action.

In Carlisle a campaign of local interest has developed during the past week between the contending tickets for Mayor and Councilmen. The race is made up between the Citizens Ticket, composed of present incumbents, and the Progressive Ticket, composed of a new candidate for Mayor and the six councilmen. For Mayor on the Citizens Ticket W. C. Talbert heads Councilmen W. R. Buntin, W. G. Harper, C. L. Mathias, Joe Scott, Clyde Sexton and A. R. Fisher, while on the Progressive Ticket Dr. S. F. Hutchings, candidate for Mayor, heads a list of candidates for Councilmen composed of James D. Patton, Q. T. Gatewood, A. B. Crouch, Frank Simons, Earl Van Bever, and Paul Garrett.

We would not undertake to suggest to anyone which of the candidates for Mayor or Councilman would render the best service. There comes a time in all governments when some of the bitterest political campaigns develop when one group is interested only in keeping those in office "in," while an opposing group is just as eager to "put the ins out and outs in." From our humble way of thinking and personal observation, we are convinced the voter can render the best service to any government when he votes conscientiously for the candidate he believes will serve best regardless of whether or not he at present is lined up with the "in" group or the "out" group.

THE JOB TO BE DONE

Combining sixteen great national organizations, the National War Fund is a philanthropic federation designed to:

1. Give impetus to the united appeals of established world-wide agencies dedicated to humanitarian work and certified by the President's War Relief Control Board.

2. Stimulate the development of united war funds which will raise the necessary funds for these national services and local community services in one united campaign.

3. Administer the sum received by the National War Fund as a flexible institution, insuring proper distribution of funds, applying them wherever American help is currently most needed among these people abroad.

4. Increase opportunity for everyone to contribute to proved services for their fellow men.

5. Eliminate duplicate war appeals and needless waste of manpower in raising separate funds.

6. Reduce substantially the costs of separate appeals, and the drain on the whole-hearted generosity of the American people.

Bring unity of purpose and effort into the wartime philanthropy.

The origins of the National War Fund lie with national necessity, proved success, and popular demand.

Experience, backing the advisability of the National War Fund, has already provided last year by war chests created in hundreds of American communities in response to a public demand for orderly procedure, planning, and economy. These communities united in a single money-raising effort—the USO, the foreign war relief appeals and their own local community services.

This year the National War Fund has been created to extend the same opportunity to the entire nation. It is intended to unite the efforts of the people in meeting these three-front needs through one fund-raising campaign.

These joint efforts will be geared to state war funds and state committees affiliated with the National War Fund. The requirements of local home-front agencies will be determined by the local united war chest committees, raised in the united campaign, retained in the community, and spent to meet local wartime needs. The requirements of national participating agencies will be determined by a national budget committee responsible for this allocation of appropriate funds on the basis of constantly changing needs.

NEED FOR FATS

It is not too much of an overstatement to say that fat will win the war and a prime essential in negotiating and implementing the peace. Fats and oils have taken a terrific beating in the war. Whole areas that produced and processed oil have been laid waste, cattle have been killed off to feed fighting men, Europe is in the throes of a fat famine.

How seriously this shortage may affect our own troops and our home population depends in a large measure on the people themselves. The quota of 200,000,000 pounds of fat for household salvage in 1943 was not set as a matter of pie in the sky. The shortage for all purposes, military, industrial and domestic was far in excess of that figure. It was worked out that American households could save and turn in 200,000,000 pounds of used kitchen grease without undue hardship and without depriving families of their fat energy requirements.

Due to many factors, some of them beyond the control of homemakers, the rate at which kitchen grease is being turned in, is far short of the quota. Yet, a glance at the figures, at the quantity of meat, butter and shortening, available for family use is convincing proof that American households could salvage double their quota if they would buckle down to the job on a drop by drop, tablespoonful at a time program of saving and then turn in their grease to a local meat dealer collector.

The need for waste fat for glycerine and other by-products for explosives, munitions and medicines is not diminishing as our troops advance on all fronts. To the contrary, it is increasing. Nor is the need sporadic or momentary. It is a long term, continuing program which will probably extend well beyond the limits of a shooting war.

DON'T TAKE WHOLE POUND OF FLESH

Everyone knows that this nation must collect taxes—heavier taxes than any individual ever dreamed of. But an increasing number of public officials are awakening to the fact that the tax load on business can be made so heavy that it will actually kill that source of tax revenue, and in so doing destroy the jobs which provide the wages and salaries that, in turn, pay the billions in personal income taxes.

Representative A. Willis Robertson, Democrat, Virginia, member of the tax framing House Ways and Means Committee says: "Our best incentive to the richest tax ages to increased production is the profit incentive.

"The best assurance for employment for returning soldiers will be in private industry and in encouraging the private enterprise system. That factor cannot be safely overlooked in the framing of income tax rates for corporations, because the government has no present plans to finance the conversion from war production to peacetime production."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has indicated that military authorities have interested themselves in the new tax program because they want tax levies kept low enough to preserve production incentives.

That the reasoning of Representative Robertson and the military authorities is sound can be proved by every individual to his own satisfaction by asking himself the simple question: Would I carry on, or could I carry on under a taxation program that leaves me little or nothing but a tax receipt at the end of a year's work? That is a point that every member of Congress will have to consider in connection with individual and corporate taxation in the future because the two are inseparable. So the earnings of each are the basis of production, expansion and steady employment.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

TO THE VOTERS OF CARLISLE, KENTUCKY

We respectfully call your attention to forthcoming City Council and Mayor election, and one of the main issues involved.

Owing to conditions over which none of us have any control we have set back the city's sewage disposal project for a sewage disposal plant for Carlisle. The Bond Issue for this plant has carried for two years and when such time comes that we are able to go forward with this work we propose to do so. It is not possible for this work to be done at this time as 50% of the cost of the plant will have to come from the purchase of products that cannot be procured during the present emergency.

The financial condition of the City is as follows—

We have in the various City accounts $6500.00.

We have on deposit with the Treasurer of the City of Carlisle—War Bonds totaling $10.000.00, maturity value.

We have no promises to make, no threats to make, instead we propose to carry on the government of the City of Carlisle as conservatively and efficiently as we can.

HEARTBREAK ROAD

As I went up by Heartbreak Road
Before the dawn of day,
The cold mist was all about,
And the wet world was gray.
It seemed that never another sun
Had walked that weary way.

But when I came to Heartbreak Hill,
Silver touched the sea;
I knew that many and many a soul
Was climbing close to me;
I knew I walked that weary way
In a great company.

EXCERPTS FROM THE SPEECH OF S. S. WILLIS HERE MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1943

What the people of Nicholas County demand is local self government in the expenditure of the vast sums of money for rural roads and to see that the money so allocated is spent on the roads and not for political purposes.

The taxpayers of Nicholas County have no way to check on the amount of money spent for purposes other than for roads which should have been spent on our roads, and that matter should be placed in the hands of the Fiscal Courts of the various counties where the magistrates of each District may see where it is expended, by whom and for what purpose.

The tendency of the present administration under machine rule is to concentrate all moneys under the supervision of Frankfort and agents in the various counties appointed by the administration to supervise for the people in the various counties.

The persons appointed by the administration have no interest in the county roads and the money used for road purposes is expended for the upbuilding of the machine, rather than for the maintenance of public roads.

The tax-payers should be allowed to investigate the records and to know where their money is spent but have not been given a look in under present machine rule.

Our purpose, said Judge Willis, is to prevent the continued increase of power at Frankfort and to keep the machine from naming State, District and county officers over the wishes of the people.

The COAL SITUATION

As you know, the U. S. Government needed and took the entire production of all coal mines for the war effort. This move has made it impossible for us to supply all orders on their books.

Some coal has now been released and more will be released from now on. We feel certain that we will be able to fill all orders so don't worry if you have received none or only a small portion of your order. When our additional shipments arrive we will do our best to finish or deliver your entire order.

Thank you for your patience and consideration in this matter.
