UNION COLLEGE PREPARES FOR LARGE ENROLLMENT

College is running in normal way stressing education for civilian front from Sevsk, Lt. to Russians in thirty-seven-mile

Registration Sept. 24 at Union College, Barbourville, Ky. for the fall quarter will begin the sixty-fifth year in which the college has offered youth the opportunity of a four year fully accredited college with a Christian atmosphere. Extensive plans are being made for an increased enrollment this term. Many applications have been received from students just entering college and those transferring from other colleges that have found it necessary to limit their civilian enrollment to make room for the training of the armed forces.

The beautiful new women's dormitory recently completed at a cost of over $125,000. Strongest and modern in every respect is considered one of the best in the entire South. This magnificent building with the other modern halls which have been completely renovated will adequately care for the increased enrollment.

Union is running in a normal way uninterrupted by the war situation. There are no military units on the campus, and it has not been necessary to alter the college program since Union is training exclusively for civilian students. However, it is shown by the large percentage of Union men who have passed the qualified tests and been called into the armed forces that college training at Union will be very valuable to a man expecting to enter the armed forces.

OVER ONE MILLION WAR FUND DRIVE

Campaign Runs Oct. 15-30. Nation-al Factor $175 Million Dollars. Many Agencies.

The Kentucky War Fund will seek $7,419,309 in the drive to be held Oct. 15-30 as its share of the National budget of $175,000,000 Dr. Frank L. Goodwin, state chairman, announced.

Support for the far-flung USO the home away from home for fighting men, comforts for the hard-to-please legion of prisoners of war food for starving Greece, medical supplies for Latin America aid for the escorted earth of Britain, China and Russia, compassionate assistance for hundreds of thousands of refugees—all of this is the purpose of the War Fund, Dr. McVey said.

Safeguard victims of war situation dispossessions, illness and exhaustion, and the morale of the armed forces and merchant marine as well as those imprisoned or interned, the chairman said to the end to win which Americans pledged billions and American allies must maintain.

For 17 Agencies

More than half of the National budget will go for assistance to returned former war prisoners and men of the merchant marine. Dr. McVey said that the War Fund combines the American genius for organization, efficiency and economy and tradition of philanthropy. One of the results of its formation he pointed out was to clear the way for United States Treasury bonds and to reduce the philanthropic appeal to the country generally to the original campaigns: the American Red Cross in the spring and the combined National War Fund and Community Chest appeals in the fall.

Born of war and linked to the cause by effective association with the local agencies of health, welfare and recreation, the War Fund pools taxes and voluntary adequate funds to meet the responsible requirements of accredited appeals approved by the President's War Relief Control Board. The enterprise represents economies growing out of the war, the agencies' expressed desire to stop duplication of more than 100 separate appeals.

PASSING THE POINTS

Leon Henderson was the creator of point rationing. The first definite reaction to the scheme was displayed against Henderson, and later he roused from the scheme rials exportsive obscurity to be more nauseated over his departure. His system has also turned out to be a "passing" custom inasmuch as friends and neighbors "pass the points" around to their friends, and exchange red points for blue, and swap coffee points for sugar points, and sugar points for gas points. Some people even take a chance with their gasoline points. The administration has had nothing but trouble in its efforts to convince the American public that the ration system is successful, or can be made successful.

MORGENTHAU'S MONETARY PLAN

Secretary Of The Treasury Reveals Ideas To Stabilize All Currencies

A revised American proposal for a permanent international monetary stabilization plan is ready for submission at which time he is to present postwar currency ideas to the British Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood Henry Morgenthau Jr. Secretary of the Treasury.

The monetary stabilization instrument would be a giant stabilization fund of possibly as much as $8 billion dollars of which more than $2 billion would be advanced by the United States. The fund would be perhaps as many as 30 countries, but not all of the United Nations. Russia is not in the British Empire countries.

Announcement of the proposal is the result of months of negotiations between Secretary Morgenthau and Lord Keynes, British economic adviser to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The American proposal will be presented at the international monetary conference which will be held in Washington this winter if present plans materialize. But Morgenthau intends to consult with the British Government before the international monetary plan is made public. Conferences on matters to lead to acquaint them with the American plan and keeping them advised as to the progress of the international discussions.

ARMY PLANE LANDED ON JUDGE SHEPHERD'S FARM

A training plane from Bowman Field, enroute to Lexington, made an emergency landing about 10 o'clock Saturday morning on the farm of County Judge Walter Shepherd about a mile east of Carlisle. The cause of the forced landing was given as "out of gasoline," "bad weather," and "compass out of order." No one was injured and the plane was not damaged.

The incident created quite a lot of excitement and in a few minute after the landing many were attracted to the scene.

Flight Officer Robert Frazier and Pilot Daniel Lloyd, both of California, who were in charge of the plane, took off following a check-up by army air officials.

RAIN BENEFITS GROWING CROPS

One Inch Rainfall Here Accompanied By Electrical And Wind Storm

The first rain to fall in Carlisle and Nicholas county for six weeks came on Wednesday night of last week with the result that burning crops and gardens were greatly benefitted and falling water supplies were replenished.

Many farmers in this section had to supply stock water by dredging ponds and in some instances hauling water. While much more rain is apparently needed, yet it is agreed that much benefit has come and the rain was most welcome. Late corn, tobacco, gardens and pastures were especially benefited. In some sections farmers have about completed cutting their tobacco and started to cut corn.

Early corn was in the roasting ear and the showers will not revive them. Creeks are now dotted with numerous water holes. The temperature was driven down after one of the hottest days of the summer.

A big branch off one of the maple trees in the Nicholas county court house yard was blown down near the office of County Judge Walter Shepherd and with either limb, which had been hanging partly broken from the tree, was pulled down and cleared away with the one blown down Wednesday night.

Damage estimated at several thousand dollars was caused when lightning set fire to two barns in Fayette county. Both structures and their contents were destroyed including several tons of hay, farm machinery and tobacco.

Nation Is Approaching Crisis In Manpower; Labor Draft Possibility For 2,600,000 New Workers Soon

Is America heading for a labor draft?

In a country that was bothered with the problem of employing 10,000,000 people four years ago the sudden need for a conscription to supply necessary help for essential war production represents startling turn of fortune for, that's the case.

To keep the industrial machine running at high gear, War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt recently estimated that 2,600,000 workers will have to find their way into essential production. With attempts at securing these workers through persuasion evidently a failure, the question of a labor draft enters.

According to figures supplied by the National Industrial Conference Board, 63,500,000 people were employed this summer, approximately 7,000,000 more than a year ago. But, with agriculture, munitions and the armed forces continuing their levy upon the already depleted manpower reserve, the board said, the labor supply situation will become a national problem of first importance.

The point of the problem lies in the size of the armed services. Present plans call for the expansion of the services to 11,300,000 men by July of 1944. This means 7,000,000 men face induction during the next 12 months. The service's insistence on such a huge force eis partly reflected by the

Historic Blue Licks Sold To State Park Commission By Owners Of Battle Site

The town of Blue Licks in Nicholas County—or as much of it as is owned by Wood and Grigsby estate, this city—was sold last week to the Kentucky State Park Commission, presumably to be used as an addition to the Blue Licks Battlefield State Park.

Blue Licks is located on the famous old Maysville Road, now United States Route 68, the old Indian trail, the first metalled-mixed road built west of the Alleghenies, 20 miles south of Maysville.

Announcement that the state park commission had accepted the offer to purchase the 250 acres in the tract came in a letter of acceptance from the board to Mrs. Oscar B. Grigsby, and H. O. Wood, Maysville. Mrs. Grigsby and her brother-in-law, R. C. Grigsby, serve as executrix and executor of the estate of her late husband, who was in partnership with Mr. Wood in the operation of the Maysville Natural Gas Company as well as a number of other businesses and farm ventures.

With the sale of the Blue Licks Farm, as its past owners refers to it, the State of Kentucky virtually acquired an entire town, for aside from the 2-room tract includes a 26-room hotel, a church, a school, a farm-house and three dwellings.

At the present the hotel, which in its heyday after the Civil War was famous for its beneficient mineral springs and was the favor-

THIRD WAR LOAN CAVALCADE WILL TOUR KENTUCKY

Unit Composed of Members of Armed Services, WACS, WAVES, SPARS, USMC

HEADED BY NAVAL HERO

It has been revealed by Chairman Lisle Baker, Louisville, that plans have been completed for the Third War Loan Cavalcade, a traveling unit of members of the armed services headed by Lt. Comdr. Eddie Head, naval ace hero, to visit many of Kentucky's cities during the campaign. It is possible the cavalcade will visit Carlisle. Further details will be announced later.

Included in this unit will be members of the WAC, WAVE, SPAR, USMC, and Coast Guard and it will be one of the most colorful groups representing the armed might of our country, ever seen and will arrive next week.

"Each and every Kentuckian in our armed services has a special protective interest in the Third War Loan," Baker said, "because we realize that it is up to us to provide the money for them to continue the fight overseas.

"No Kentuckian can do too much in this critical hour of invasion when our boys are landing on hostile foreign shores, dropping on enemy-held European soil or fighting from the foxholes in the jungles of the South Pacific.

"The Third War Loan is a God-given chance for us to show what we are made of. It will mean going without some of the luxuries—yes, and some of the necessities—even some of the so-called necessities to provide an extra gun, an extra bullet, an extra blanket, an extra food ration for our men. But Kentuckians never have shirked from a duty and I know they never will. Invasion is the toughest military task. It takes blood—and plenty of it. It takes courage—plenty of courage. It takes lives. And we hope and pray that it will not take too many lives of our boys. That's where we come in. We've got to back the death toll and we can by supporting the Third War Loan and supporting it to the hilt.

"We must buy at least one extra $100 Bond during this campaign, which opens September 9th. Our men have no one to fight for but for helping during the tough invasion days. Kentuckians must not fail their fighting hero warriors," Baker declared.

WORST RAIL WRECK IN KENTUCKY'S HISTORY

One of the worst rail disasters in the country's history occurred Monday night in Philadelphia, Pa., when nine cars of the advance section of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Washington-to-New York Congressional Limited were derailed and piled up in a wreckage of twisted steel. It was estimated that between 78 and 100 persons were killed when the train broke in two on a curve in northwest Philadelphia. Many of the persons killed were returning from Labor Day holidays.
