NEWS ABOUT OUR BOYS In The Service

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Saunders, from their son, Pvt. Sterling Saunders.

August 30, 1943
Iran

Dear Mom and Dad,

I hope by now that you know where I am and that I am safe and perfectly well. I've known it existed, to this boat and the other thousands and I don't mind them at all. I was worried on the temperature that I told you. I said 150 degrees, but it gets as high as 180 to 190! That is not really so bad, it is but it sounds. No one work here from 11:00 a.m. to 5 p. m. and at night and early morning we can have had no trouble at all drop- ping. I've been getting plenty of rest and sleep enough I can be thankful for that.

I sure would like to get some mail but I guess it will be some time yet before I do. However, mail service here is surprisingly good.

This country here is quite interesting. The natives are very dark skinned but their facial features are sharply cut — big eyes, high cheek bones, straight noses and thin lips. The women are all slender — most of them are very beautiful. They wear their coal-length dark gowns, just plain cloth around the hips and an outer garment that is very colorful. They don't believe that I have such a thing as a mother-in-law.

The few women that I have seen are usually rolled up in their head to keep the sun off. It seems to me some power cannot that keeps nothing except the sun off their heads and bare feet. They don't wear shoes or stockings.

Of course I can't understand their native tongue but they do a surprising amount of small business and young men who speak English. English is the official language of Iran.

The land is barren and baked hard. It is covered with an inch of dust white dust. There is very little vegetation a few date trees that resemble coconut trees, and a few scrubby bushes with widely scattered spots. Most of the land is like a desert. It has been cleared off by a grader and then left to bake in the sun.

Mom, I'll bet that the natives live in huts which they can erect in a day. I don't know.

They ride these real small donkeys and they are very sleepy and a rather odd looking sort of one. There is an abundance of flies in this country. Some of the sight bugs and Giselle sheep. I'm sure you'd be frightened at the other sight and liked it very much. I don't know of till our opportunity to hunt much but I sure would like to.

I've had an idea of what this country looks like then look in Biblical pictures. They don't seem to have changed much since then. I've seen pictures of this identified just as we are but never expected to drink out of one. Now I've drunk it out of one.

Well I cannot write too much as I said in my last letter, so I'll close for now. Don't worry about me for I am perfectly O. K. as soon as can I'll be writing you one of these days before so very long.

Lots of love,
Sterl

Revival Begins Monday At Baptist Church

Rev. Ralph R. Couey, former pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church, will return Monday, October 4, for a revival meeting. Pastor Rev. Couey is well known in this community having served the Baptist church here a number of years. Under his leadership the church added to membership; the remodeling of the church building was accomplished and the annex for additional room for the Bible school was purchased.

Rev. Couey is a native of Nicholas County, Ky. He attended Georgetown College, Georgetown, Ky., and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and at present is pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church in Louisville.

Services each evening will begin at 7:30. An old-fashioned song service and special musical numbers will precede the messages of the Evangelist. A choir of young people will be organized. Morning services for the second week of the revival are being planned.

Everyone is welcome to come. Special prayer services for the revival are being held this week in the following homes: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballard Thursday evening and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Scott Friday evening.

The city of Carlisle was just three years old when the Baptist church was organized. For 124 years the gospel has been sounded out. Next February the church will celebrate 125 years of unbroken service. The pastor, Rev. R. Thompson, announces that the theme of the revival will be the promise the Lord made to his people long ago, but abundantly true today: "If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land. II Chronicles 7:14.
