THOUSANDS OF STUDENT NURSES ARE NEEDED

Recruitment for U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps continues to be an urgent and immediate need.

The recent announcement by the Procurement and Assignment Service of some reduction in the quota of graduate nurses required by the Army and Navy Nurse Corps between now and July 1, 1944 (Navy Nurse Corps quota remains the same) should not be confused with the needs of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. It does not effect the National Student Nurse quota because:

1. Civilian nursing needs are increasingly acute.

2. The quota has been set as low as 65,000 new students because educational facilities are not available for the 115,000 actually needed.

3. Military needs may be altered as the war progresses.

A U. S. Cadet Nurse Pledge Program for girls in Junior and Senior classes of high school is being sponsored jointly by the Division of Nursing Education, U. S. Public Health Service and the National Nursing Council for war service.

Junior or Senior girls in an accredited high school with good health, character and in good standing are eligible to apply to the director of the U. S. Public Health Service in their district. Copies with the opportunity of application as a Cadet Nurse, Members of the Cadet Nurse Corps receive a complete nursing education at no cost to them. Scholarships cover tuition fees, board, indoor and official Cadet Uniforms, a monthly allowance is provided.

For complete information write U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, Box 88, New York, N. Y., or call your local hospital.

If you qualify as a pledge you will receive the pledge pin of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, absolutely free from the Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Any girls qualifying may call Mrs. John Lee, 272-J, for further information.

WARNS AGAINST WRONG SOCIAL SECURITY ADVICE

Inaccurate advice from well-meaning, but inadequately informed friends may be costing many retired workers money in the form of old-age and survivors insurance benefits, B. A. Tweedy, manager of the Lexington field office of the Social Security Board, said today. The same kind of advice also may be keeping benefit checks from widows, children and parents of workers who die, Mr. Tweedy said.

To counteract this, Mr. Tweedy advises that every worker who is 65 or over and has been working in insured employment—generally business and industry—should get in touch with the nearest office of the Social Security Board immediately for information, as soon as he quits his job. If he is qualified for benefits, the Board will assist him to file a claim. If he needs additional work in covered employment to qualify, he will be told just how much more, Mr. Tweedy said.

Similarly when a worker dies, if social security benefits have been taken from his pay, the widow or other close relative should consult the Board's office immediately, Mr. Tweedy said. Full assistance in completing claims will be furnished by the field office and claims may be made by visit by letter or by telephone.

Copies of the issue desired were mailed to the office by some; many called in person, bringing one or more copies and others called by phone that they were sending in their copy.

This is concrete evidence of two conclusive facts—it pays to advertise in The Mercury, and readers of The Mercury will respond to any reasonable appeal. The need has been supplied and thanks to all who responded.

OBSERVATIONS

WE SEE AND HEAR
By Monty

WORKERS EAT EARLY

Dropping into a local "boarding house" early one morning recently, observing a few gentlemen, presumably on the aged retired list, this writer asked if the breakfast hour was over, to which he replied, without taking his eyes off the morning paper, "No workers have had their breakfast and gone." The assumption was made that "workers" eat earlier than do retired folk. But, won't we about all "workers" now?

A CAREFUL YOUTH

A local business man recently employed a lad to assist him during the rush of business, not knowing the lad's name, the employer asked if his name was that of a well known family name about town and the youth replied that it was not, but did not tell his employer what his name was. Finally, after the employer had careful coaxing the youth, the business man asked, "who was you born before she married?" To which the youth replied, "I don't know, I was not born then."

DANDELIONS

At this season of the year many yards are covered with the yellow flower, the dandelion, and it becomes a problem for the homeowner to keep them down. Many have to rid the yard of the dandelion pest. Discussing this subject recently with a college professor from the Agricultural Department of the University of Kentucky, we drifted into the subject of "wild onions" becoming a garden pest and the professor was asked what was the best and careful way to rid a wild onions get into your garden just move the garden." The same rule will work on the pest that is your lawn with respect to the dandelion.

PAINTERS HAZARD

While the painters were busily engaged last week painting the home of the Nicholas county court house (a very hazardous task) one of the city's policemen remarked that several years ago he was watching a man painting the court house and that fifteen minutes after he was looking at him, the man fell to his death from the roof. And here was this same policeman standing looking at the men again this year. What did he expect to see?

Nicholas county continues to supply men for the Army and Navy at regular intervals. Last Wednesday, April 19, six men, Robert Barnett, Adrian Anderson, Everett Dale, Chester Webb, Clarence Gore, and Harold Linville were inducted at Ft. Thomas for Army duty.

John McKee, Earl Stanfield, Roger Basta, and Charles Wagoner were accepted for the Navy Friday, April 21. They reported to Louisville on the same day for their training centers.

There will be others, no doubt, going into the services as the demand continues until the war is over. The hearts of the mothers, fathers, wives, and other nearest kin go with these youths as they present themselves in defense of their country in this hour of crisis.

G.O.P. CONVENTION BACKS GOV. WILLIS

Delegates-At-Large To Vote For "Favorite Son" As Long As His Name Is Before Convention

Reports from the Republican state convention held Saturday at Louisville indicate that harmony prevailed throughout and roaring applause greeted two of the party's leaders as they vigorously assailed President and Mrs. Roosevelt and the conduct of the war.

Gov. Simeon Willis was chosen permanent chairman. He was given a rousing ovation. He said in his address that "We've seen slur country mismanaged, scandalized and outraged; we've been helpless to stem the tide but our day of deliverance is in sight. This great audience certifies that our next President will be Republican, and that Kentucky will have four Republican Governors." We will not have this unbuttered mush over the radio in fireside chats and we won't have a breakfast with the Joneses.

Thomas S. Yates, Grayson, who called the convention to order, said America is fighting, the battle of the nations when "we think we want in a President who will look after this country."

"We want a statesman who will not ship troops across the English Channel to save London with seven American boys for every three Englishmen," he declared.

The convention was staged for Willis proposition. The Republicans instructed their delegates to the national convention, Chicago, June 26, to vote for Governor Willis for the G. O. P. nomination for President as long as his name is before the convention.

Further than that they did not go. But it was said on all sides that, after a complimentary, favorite-son vote for Willis, the Kentuckians would practically go down the line for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

In one of their most harmonious convention on record, the Kentucky delegation to Chicago. Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Brandenburg were accompanied by an automobile caravan by acclamation and Todd national committeeman. Both Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Brandenburg by all but three of the twenty-one delegates present, the exceptions the three in question not voting.

To delegate-at-large King Swope, Lexington, Kentucky member of the national resolutions committee; Robert T. Lucas, Louisville, Kentucky member of the credentials committee, and Thomas S. Yates, Grayson, Kentucky member of the rules and order of business committee. C. B. Upton, Williamsburg, was named secretary of the delegation. Other offices are to be filled later.

APPEAL GETS QUICK RESULTS

An appeal was published recently in a Lexington paper for information as to whereabouts of Bill Medley. The request for the information came from Mrs. W. A. Perry, Paris, whose son overseas had mentioned him in a letter. The answer came soon when Mrs. Walter Medley, Lexington, phoned in to the newspaper that her son, W. C. Medley had returned from Italy and is now in Indianapolis and she expected him home soon on a furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Perry are well known in Carlisle. Mr. Perry was one of the instructors of the C. C. Camp here for several years.

Bill Medley, a son of Mrs. Perry, is quoted from Carlisle high school, while living here. It is understood he is employed by Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg, Lexington. He graduated
