SEVERAL centuries before the advent of the Saviour, a wise man stated a profound truth which we believe applies not only to individual relationships but to the dealings between business concerns and their customers. He said:

"Honest men esteem and value nothing so much in this world as a real friend."

As we come to the Christmas season and prepare to enter a New Year, with its promise of an end to war and a brighter world to follow, the 1,200 men and women who comprise our organization wish to extend to all of you that we are privileged to serve our sincere wishes for health, contentment and prosperity in the next twelve months.

At the same time, we wish to recognize the relationship which exists between a customer and a company that aims to be a useful citizen in every community and a good neighbor to the people of that community. Just as we have striven to give satisfactory service in wartime, so we will try to make our concept of a trusted friend the more effective when peace once more descends upon this troubled globe.

And so we hope that you have—

POST-WAR H'WAY BILL IS SIGNED

Kentucky's Road Share Is Placed At $52,610,000 To Be Matched 50-50

State and local governments can start planning their projects under the $3,173,250,000 three-year post-war highway program.

The 44 state legislatures meeting in 1945 should give "prompt and vigorous attention" to the highway program, President Roosevelt said in signing the measure setting it up.

The program, Mr. Roosevelt said, "presents a challenge to the states, counties and cities which must originate the projects. Projects and get the program ready for construction after the war ends."

States would supply $1,500,000,000 on a 50-50 matching basis to be eligible for the larger share of the federal funds authorized by the bill.

Counties in authorizing the federal contribution did not make an actual appropriation for this purpose. That would come later.

Designed partly to help ease possible after-war unemployment, the legislation embodies several significant changes in highway policy for highway development, Mr. Roosevelt said.

He mentioned the authority for designation by federal and state governments of an inter-county highway network. The measure likewise "gives practical recognition to the transportation problem of our cities by extending federal aid to projects in urban areas which will reduce, traffic congestion and accidents," he noted.

Included were sizable authorizations for farm-to-market and serving rural areas, the President said, adding that funds were authorized on a matching basis with the states for at least starting "the huge task of replacing a x x roads on our federal-aid system which are being worn out by wartime traffic."

The program calls for the federal government and the states to pay $225,000,000 each for each of the three years on the federal-aid highway system, $150,000,000 each on secondary, including farm-to-market roads and $125,000,000 each on federal highways entering cities.

Kentucky's share of the federal government's $3,173,250,000 post-war road development fund was estimated at $53,610,000 by State Highway Commissioner J. Stephen Watkins.

His department already has made post-war plans involving expenditure of $15,000,000, he added, but he explained the recently adopted federal program would have to be studied in detail before he could say exactly how much this state would benefit. Post-war plans are being made as rapidly as his staff can, he added.

GERMANS SHOOT AMERICANS

The U. S. First Army has forwarded to Washington an official report of the German massacre of more than 100 unarmed American prisoners—one of the many examples of Nazi tactics in their counter-offensive.

Questioning of 15 men who escaped from a group of 120 to 150 Americans captured by SS and Panzer men of a German tank column south of Malmedy confirmed that the Nazis lined the prisoners up in a field and cut them down with machinegun fire.

The German first stripped the captured Americans of their cigarettes and other valuables and then lined them up in a field with their hands behind their heads. A guard fired one shot into the group and then tank machine guns opend up.

UNSIGNED XMAS CARD

Did you get any Christmas cards minus the name of the sender? I did and it puzzled me more than I had ever believed such occurances would. Now I don't know to whom I should send a New Year's card in reply. The card is appreciated just the same.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES

All sizes, kinds, shapes, weights and colors, of packages were observed being carried during the late Christmas shopping hours. However, a person could stand on the corner and place a wager that the boxes contained either handkerchiefs, ties, or ration and if he kept this up all day against the field of Christmas gifts, I wager he would be winner at the close of the day's shopping.

SPRING IS COMING

It is always interesting to take notice how quickly after the thrill of Christmas subsides that folks begin to think of longer days, early gardens, flowers and baby chicks (for those who enjoy raising early fryers). This may seem an out-of-season thought, but it is a good time to begin to plan your activities since it is less than 90 days till spring will be here (officially).

RATIONING NECESSITIES

An advertisement of a large drug store advertised recently simple household remedies with the warning "now is a customer". A whisky store had out a sign in the window — "Whisky Today." Folks will buy when things are thought to be scarce. A coffee dealer says he sells more coffee during rationing of coffee than he does when coffee rationing is lifted. A tip to merchants with unmovable stock items — advertise them and indicate a limited amount and "one to a customer." Dollars to dough-nuts they will move.

He was sent overseas in September, 1943, and was stationed at the New Hebrides and Bougainville. While overseas he has met Carl Scott also of Barterville.

LOCAL PEOPLE INJURED

While returning from Lexington last Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. George, Jr., suffered severe injuries when their car skidded on the icy road, turned around and crashed into a car driven by Frank Grubbs, who suffered a knee injury.

Mr. George and wife were removed to St. Joseph hospital where eleven stitches were required to close cuts around Mr. George's head and eye.

X-ray showed Mrs George had broken bone in wrist and the car passed entirely over her abdomen. Her head, arm and leg were badly bruised.

After emergency treatment they were brought by ambulance to the home of Mr. George's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fryman.

Both cars were badly damaged.

JACK SHEPHERD SAYS IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A few weeks ago Jack Shepherd, son of Judge and Mrs. Walter Shepherd, lost a dollar bill while en route to the postoffice to buy war savings stamps. He put a small classified in The Mercury and his dollar bill was found and returned to him. Jack says it pays to advertise—especially in The Mercury.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross sewing supervisor has issued an urgent request for help in the completion of a quota of 288 Army kit bags to be shipped out in January. These bags are cut and ready for distribution and are simple to make. Workers are urged to stop by the production room and take a bundle of these much-needed kits home with you. Groups are welcomed to come to the rooms and sew at any time. These bags must be filled after they are made. The call to make them at once is very urgent.

MUSKETEERS VICTORIOUS OVER SHARPSBURG

(By Louise Butterfield)

The Carlisle High Musketeers turned on the heat in the fourth quarter to overcome the seven point lead of Sharpsburg and defeat them by a score of 36-34 in an overtime period.

The Carlisle five played inspired basketball and at times looked as if they might come out on top but they did not rally until the fourth quarter. Sharpsburg slipped into an 8-4 lead in the first quarter and enjoyed a 15-7 lead at the half which probably made every Carlisle fan's stomach give a flip flop or two. During the third quarter victory appeared certain when Sharpsburg ran the count 29-22, but Carlisle outscored them by 14 to 5 for a 34-34 deadlock when the regulation time ran out.

City and County Schools To Celebrate With Belated Christmas Programs

Upon reliable information plans have been completed for a late Christmas for the school children of Carlisle and Nicholas county.

On account of inclement weather all schools were dismissed earlier than usual and the Christmas programs at the schools, including many speeches, singing of Christmas music, recitations, the usual tree and gifts of candy, nuts, fruits, etc., will take place at most all the schools in both city and county on Friday, January 5.

The younger students are impressed to believe that Santa Claus was snow-bound and late arriving at the schools in this county. However, he promises to have his pack filled with things to delight all.

Country school children throughout the county will be cheered by this announcement made by the authority of Santa Claus and know that he never fails good children and loyal students.

CONGRESSMEN, HOME AFTER YEARS WARTIME TURMOIL

Francis J. Kelly, Washington correspondent for the Associated Press, makes the following report on the 78th Congress:

Members of the disbanded 78th Congress have headed home, their nerves ground thin by the demands of two years wartime lawmaking plus a bitter political campaign.

At odds repeatedly with the White House, Congress, wound up the session on a note of harmony. The Senate finally confirmed Undersecretary of State Joseph C. Grew and five assistant secretaries of state.

An impatient filibuster against the six disputed appointees brust apart when the President came back from a vacation at Warm Springs and made it clear that those were the men he wanted for the tremendous diplomatic tasks ahead.

Since Saturday all attention had focused on the confirmation dispute in the Senate, for the House had completed its work and a majority of the committees had started home.

They had remained until the week-end on the chance that President Roosevelt might veto the bill blocking a rise in the social security pay roll tax. When he "reluctantly" accepted the legislation, the rush was on.

A local gasoline shortage in the capital crimped holiday plans of some of the legislators. Senator Maybank (D-S. C.) reported that he had coupons but could find no gasoline.

As the Senate dragged into a night session, which didn't end until 8:22 p. m., Senator Hatch (D-N. M.) reminded his colleagues that many of their friends would not be coming back Jan. 3 when the 79th Congress convenes. In his suggestion ,they stood and applauded the only woman senator, Hattie Caraway of Arkansas, defeated in the primary election.

Senator Mead (D-N. Y.) made a spirited but unsuccessful effort in the night session to pass legislation granting a $400 a year blanket pay increase to postmasters and other postoffice employees.

A half-billion dollar rivers and harbors development bill died when the Senate without final action on it.

While the 78th did not spend as much money as the record-breaking 77th Congress, it appropriated approximately $182,000,000,000 and sent the national debt limitations up to $260,000,000,000 to matchthe almost incalculable demands of war.
