60 Acre Farm
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5
AT 10:30 A. M.
ON THE PREMISES

On account of ill health I have decided to sell my farm located 7 miles north of Carlisle and 1 mile off the Maysville & Lexington pike on the Sugg pike.

This farm is in high state of cultivation, and its productiveness is comparable with any land in the Bluegrass section. It is limestone land and all in bluegrass, with the exception of five acres and it is soon to wheat. It has never failed to grow, which furnished plenty of water in the drought of 1930, good fence and conveniently to school, churches and the stock market.

The improvements consist of a 4-room home with 2 porches, barn, garage, crib, extra good concrete cellar, with all other necessary outbuildings.

Anyone desiring a home or an investment should not overlook this opportunity.

Prospective buyers will be shown over the farm by the owner on the farm or the undersigned agents. This farm is partially financed. Terms cash. Possession will be made known on day of sale.

BLAKE BILL WOULD REPEAL 1936 ACT

Carlisle Democrat Also Introduces Bill Providing For Supervision of Liquor Stores

Repeal of the 1936 State Government Reorganization Act was called for in a bill introduced early this week by Senator H. Stanley Blake, of Carlisle.

In explaining the bill Senator Blake declared that his main purpose was to abolish the Legislative Council, which holds hearings, and recommends budgets and other legislation, and to give the Legislature more power.

"The reorganization act," he added, "gives the administration too much power."

A bill providing for the operation of state-owned liquor stores was also introduced in the Senate by Senator Blake. The stores would be supervised by the Kentucky Liquor Control Commission, an agency which would be created by the bill.

A resolution to authorize the Pioneer National Monument Association to give the Government title to approximately 250 acres of land constituting the remaining part of Blue Licks battlefield in Nicholas and Robertson counties was introduced by Senator R. P. Moloney, Lexington Democrat.

Tax Appraisers Law Asked

An amendment to the county tax commissioner law to provide for six tax appraisers in counties having cities of the first class was offered in the House by Representative Shaikun, Louisville Democrat, and Bernie S. Allen, Republican, both of Louisville. The amendment would limit the pay of the six appraisers to a total of $2,500 a year.

New employes would be required to accept or decline the provisions of the state workmen's compensation law immediately under a bill offered by Representative Shaikun.

If an employe fails to accept or decline for any reason, he shall be deemed to have accepted the provisions, under Shaikun's proposed amendment to the law, which provides for payments for injuries and death.

JAP ATROCITIES NOT EXAGGERATED

Publication of Outrages Against American Prisoners of War Spurs Bond Sales

Speaking Saturday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Woman's Club of Central Kentucky at the Lafayette hotel, Hallet Abend, for 15 years head of the New York Times Far East bureau, declared "there is no question that the recently published stories of Japanese atrocities are true and there is no question but that you need only half of them. The rest is unprintable."

Abend, lived for several years in Shanghai, told the club of similar atrocities against Chinese and Americans which he said occurred long before Pearl Harbor. "There is no use in manufacturing any propaganda stories against the Japanese," Abend stated ,"because they have made their own."

The speaker scouted the pre-war claim of the Japanese that they would be content to remain, pointing out that the Japanese "don't emigrate to the lands they have stolen." He termed their claim "bare lies."

"The Japanes empire is the most strategically located empire since those halcyon days of the Mediterranean," Abend stated. He said the Japanese have access to all raw materials except perhaps copper and that they have ample employment for all people of the them.

Japan gets huge supplies of raw materials from the Dutch East Indies which, Abend said, she chose to seize after the battle of Pearl Harbor instead of attacking the North American mainland.

The speaker termed the Dec. 7 attack the most sensational political and military overturn the world has ever known." He stated that Japan drove Americans, British and Dutch out of a land and water area twice as large as the United States.

Stating that Washington and London believe it will take two and one-half to three years after the defeat of Hitler to bring Japan to unconditional surrender, Abend declared "there is no short cut to Tokyo."

An Associated Press dispatch stated that the bond sales took a tremendous jump in many western areas—doubling in some instances—after the publication of the treatment of Americans captured on Bataan.

Utah and Los Angeles each reported a 5 million dollar single day's sale in the Fourth War Loyn drive, and campaign officials in each instance said the disclosure boosted sales.

Utah's total was $898,340 on Friday, more than double any other single day's purchases.

Sales in Los Angeles county were $8,040,200.

Purchase of war bonds was not the only means used in Los Angeles for expressing resentment. The Red Cross blood donor center was swamped with calls for appointments.

In San Francisco two radio stations were conducting marathon bond sales with Master of Ceremonies Eddie Cantor, officiating at one station, and Announcer Ted Lenz busy at another.

Probably the biggest boom, figures strictly on a percentage basis, came from Spokane, Wash. Sheriff James Cannon notified his force three days ago that the office quota figured out a $25 war bond for each employe—a total of $625.

Sales have totaled $11,900.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES BUYS $7,500 WORTH OF WAR BONDS

Mr. Frank H. Hardesty, local manager for the Kentucky Utilities Co., reports the purchase of $2,000 locally by his company. The purchase was made the second day of the 4th War Loan drive. Manager Hardesty stated the Kentucky Utilities makes it a practice to distribute to points where the company operates rather than buying all from the central office.

EQUALIZATION BOARD NAMED

G. HOG DAY

Yesterday, February 2, was Groundhog Day, when G. Hog made his annual appearance as a weather profit. Weather forecasters had predicted increasing cloudiness. Up to press time of The Mercury no shadows were visible around Carlisle. The only wild life noticeable early Wednesday morning was a screech owl perched in a tree on Chestnut street and the odor of a prowling skunk. Whatever the results of the day it is hoped there will not be more than six more weeks of winter.

So You Can't Buy Another Bond

Take a good look at this American soldier as he lies in the mud of Rendova Island in the Southwest Pacific, victim of a Jap air raid. It's not a pleasant scene, is it? When you are asked to buy an extra War Bond to back the Attack think of this picture of your fellow American blasted by Japanese bombs thousands of miles from home. Then brother, don't you think you will want to dig a little deeper to back up his comrades?

AMERICAN TROOPS IN THE MARSHALLS

Beachheads Gained By Landing Forces In Attack Backed By Hilsley's Greatest Armada

Late press dispatches from Pearl Harbor dated February 1 states that United States Marine and Army forces have landed near Roi and Kwajalein in a massed offensive against the Japstronghold. Despite heavy resistance, American casualties are reported to be light.

Supported by the most powerful naval striking force in history, United States Marines and Army troops battled ashore and won firm beachheads near Roi and Kwajalein Islets in a successful operation said to be the greatest in the Pacific war.

Clouds of planes and new secret weapons hitherto unused in the Pacific also supported the troops as they splashed across the coral reefs in their first onslaught against the Japanese emprire proper and met fierce resistance from the defenders. First reports, however, indicated American casualties were moderate.

(A Japanese imperial headquarters announcement recorded from the Tokyo radio said that Army and Navy garrisons in the invaded Marshalls had counter-attacked and that "furious fighting is now in progress.")

More than 30,000 landing troops of the Fourth Marines and the Seventh Army Infantry Division—veterans of Attu—and large numbers of fleet ships, including aircraft carriers and battleships, were involved in the vast operation. The landings began Monday, marking the first ground attack against territory held by the Japanese before Pearl Harbor.
