Lays Egg in Court; Jury Is Hardboiled

LOS ANGELES. — Harry Zacky's hen did its part to prove its quality—it layed an egg in the court room—but Zacky nonetheless was fined $25. A jury decided that, legally, the hen's performance was not pertinent, and convicted Zacky on charges of selling two cans of eggs at the price of first-grade roosters.

Chaplain Buries Dead Under Fire

Heroic Priest Serves Both Sides Alike.

WASHINGTON. — A delayed dispatch to the Washington Star told how Stanley J. Kaminski, army chaplain who in civilian life was a Catholic priest and professor of psychology at Chaminade college, Clayton, Mo., spent 19 days and nights—most of them under fire — digging 57 graves for American and German soldiers in a "no man's land" far beyond the American lines in Italy. The story of Father Kaminski's heroic deeds was told by Thomas R. Henry, correspondent of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Father Kaminski's commanding general told him he considered the priest's "act . . . one of the most valorous of the war."

Kuzman landed in Italy as chaplain for an air fighter group, but decided his services were more needed with a combat troops.

"He learned that one salient was without the services of a chaplain," Henry said, "and that as a result many of the dead were not even buried. Father Kuzman made daily trips to this salient to bury the dead.

"Going alone and unarmed far beyond the American front lines, he sought out the bodies of the fallen soldiers from the shallow, hastily-scooped places where they died.

"He dragged them by their arm pits or shoulders to places where it was possible to dig graves in the rocky soil and carefully marked each grave."

Match Stick, String Aids Damaged Plane to Safety

LONDON—How an RAF Lancaster, piloted by Flying Officer Sergt. J. C. from St. Kitts, Dutch West Indies, piloted the homeward course for its badly-damaged bomber with the aid of a matchstick and a piece of string can now be told.

The Lancaster had just completed bombing the target at Kassel when an enemy night-fighter whipped in to attack. A cannon shell exploded in the rear-gunner but by successful maneuvering the pilot managed to escape from the fighter.

The rear gunner, a lad way, being practically defenseless and having lost a lot of fluid, was given a damaged main tank. The pilot knew that there was only one thing to do—to get home as fast as possible.

Sergeant Alves then discovered all his instruments, with the exception of by a cannon shell from the enemy fighter, and that his altimeter was missing, so he improvised new ones with a matchstick and a piece of string.

With these improvised instruments and a small-scale map of Europe, he kept the pilot on the course during the long flight across England.

Sisters Are Reunited By Chance Conversation

SEATTLE—Two women, working side by side as welders' helpers at the Associated Shipbuilders, got through a chance conversation that they were sisters.

They are Mrs. June Schults who came here from Marshalltown, Iowa, and Mrs. Sandra San Juan, Des Moines, Iowa.

"We just started talking about how we couldn't get our birth certificates," Mrs. Schults explained. "Sandra asked me if I thought I was born in Kinnicuni, and I said no, Iowa."

"Suddenly Sandra looked at me funny, and asked me, 'was your name Fielder?'

"I told her that was correct. She asked about my younger sisters. Alice and Frances Marion. I said her what I knew, how Alice and I had been placed in an orphans' home when we were very small.

"Then Sandra took hold of my arm and took me over to a corner to sit down. 'I've got something to tell,' she said. 'I am your sister.'"

Pickpocket Is Foiled By Use of Judo Tricks

CHICAGO — William Mason, 43 years old, a parolee from the prison at Jackson, Mich., isn't a soldier, but he has put up a fight in the best meaning of jude. It's rough, he told Judge William F. Daly, in felony court.

Mason pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted larceny in connection with a pickpocket attempt on Pvt. Marvin Wilson, as a Chicago bound train from Fort Custer, Mich. Bixby's pals, Pvt. Larry Klingman, and Pvt. Philip Shapiro, saw the move, and overpowered Mason with every Judo trick in their repertoire.

"They were very rough, Judge," complained Mason. Judge Daly said he was lucky they were not rougher, and sentenced Mason to 90 days in the Bridewell prison.

MRS. GEORGE C. MARSHALL FOUNDS THE GRANDMOTHERS LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C.: General George C. Marshall's wife founded the Grandmothers League as a tribute of honor for grandmothers who buy War Bonds for their grandchildren.

Mrs. Marshall herself buys Bonds and stamps regularly for her three grandchildren, Tupper Brown, age 7, Jimmy Winn, 5, and Jimmy's sister Kitty, 9 months.

"There is no gift for America today," Mrs. Marshall said in Washington. "When Mrs. Brown buys Bonds for their grandchildren she will bring to the coming generation the educational and other privileges that make America worth fighting for."

In the snow, in the sand, on the beaches, on the roads, in the woods, everywhere the Axis soldiers hide "booby traps." To slow the movement of oncoming fighting men of the United Nations, the detector does the same work on land as the mine sweeper does at sea.

Like buying War Bonds, the soldier operating the detectors will be saving lives, because they have aided in the success of their campaign, but he hasn't to work in necessary, and "can't be accomplished. If more American do the home front will do to reduce this, the success of the War Bond campaign will be assured.

GIRL SCOUTS TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

A committee composed of Mrs. A. V. Allison, chairman; Mrs. Frank Hardesty, Mrs. Everett Smith, and Mrs. Jno. Lee, met this week in various ways and means of organizing in Carlisle and Nicholas county two groups of Girl Scouts. One group to be composed of younger girls from 7 to 10 and one older group chosen from girls above 10. In order to have all the benefits and activities of such an organization it will be necessary to have a scout club room the girls can call their own. The true spirit of Girl Scouts is not only that of a desire to better self improvement and whole-some recreation but of helpfulness to others and to plan for the be-t interests of the community. If the senior organization of Nicholas county will give support and consor-ship it is believed it will be a great inspiration for wholesome recreation can be established and will prove an indispensible part of the life of this community. Any one interested and desiring information may call any member of the above committee.

PFANSTIEL IS DINNER GUEST AT MIDWAY

Supt Everett E. Pfanstiel, of the Carlisle schools, was the guest speaker at a dinner given at the Midway Kentucky Female Orphan School, Midway, Saturday night. The theme of the speaker was "Religious Training in the Schools." The last dinner attracted the attention of many and much credit is due the Boys Scouts and all who had a part in helping to make the drive the success it was. Those in charge of the last drive say that the Mercury extend their thanks for the and enthusiastic co-op of those who assisted in any way.

This second drive is to be launched Friday, May 12. It is requested that all who will have paper to donate to the drive, to have the paper tied in small bundles and placed in a convenient location for the trucks to pick up. Each school and home in the county will be visited by the truck.

Proceeds derived from the sale of the scrap paper will be divided with the schools of the county and the Boy Scouts.

MEN UNDER 26 MAY FILL ARMY CALLS FOR YEAR 1944

National Selective Service officials said that local draft boards had met their March induction quotas and that indications pointed to meeting service demands for the rest of the year largely from the ranks of men under 26.

It was pointed out that an April 1 survey had revealed 2,250,000 men in the 1-A classification, the largest number ever recorded by that group. Of that number approximately two-thirds are men fathers and many were more than 30 years of age.

FISHING RULES FOR THE MONTH OF MAY

Pole and Line Fishing Permitted In All Navigable Streams In Kentucky

All public waters in Kentucky will be closed to fishing during the month of May, with the exception of those "navigable streams" under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Army engineers where pole and line fishing will be permitted, according to Director of the Division of Game and Fish, announced.

Changes in the opening hunting and fishing season that were made by the 1944 Kentucky Legislature will not become effective until July 1, 1944. The new law which opens the fishing season on May 30 instead of June 1, will not become effective until next year.

Among the "Navigable" streams in the east of the Kentucky; the Ohio, the Green, and its two tributaries—the Barren and the Rough; the Cumberland, the Tennessee, the Big Sandy, and its two tributaries—the Levis Fork and the Tug Fork. The Four tributaries that are mentioned above are open to fishing below the locks and dams that have been placed some distance from the mouth of the river to the larger streams.

The Game and Fish Law states: It shall be unlawful to take fish in any manner or by any means in any waters of public waters of the State during the months of May each year, except that this shall not prohibit fishing in that water in any navigable streams but not below the last lock and dam. The locks and dams in each navigable stream are numbered, starting with No 1, and going on up to the number of the last lock and dam on the river.

Along the Kentucky River for example The No. 1 lock is located at Carrollton, Ky. at the mouth of the Kentucky river where it enters the Ohio River. The locks are numbered consecutively up to Lock No. 14, which is located at Heidelburg, Ky. This is the last lock and dam on the Kentucky river and under the Game and Fish Code, it will be legal to fish in any manner or manner above that lock and dam during the month of May. Fishing with pole and line will be permitted in all the above mentioned streams during the months of May below the last lock and dam Regulations: The last lock and dam will be found toward the headwaters of any river.

WATER SEEKS CROOKED COURSE

A farmer of long experience reports to this column that he has tried many times to run a straight course for a small stream of water flowing through a low level field in order to conserve soil and much of the land being washed away by the heavy rainfall of the small stream. Within a reasonable short time the water channel would wash itself back into the same old "snake-winding" stream through the valley land. Such is human nature plain this peculiar characteristic of water and it matters not if it enters the sea or used ears.

RED CROSS DRIVE IS $1,050. BEHIND

Chairmen Make An Appeal To People of Nicholas County. Drive Begins To-Day

Realizing the need for renewed efforts to complete the Red Cross War Fund Goal in this county, I. B. Ross, chapter chairman, and Roger Womack, war fund chairman, issue an appeal to the people of Nicholas county to cooperate on a renewed intensive drive for funds beginning to-day.

An Appeal To The People of Nicholas County

"We are behind $1,050 in the Red Cross War Fund Goal in this county. This is the first time that we have fallen down in this way on any of our war activities. We are appealing to all our citizens to come across and put over this most important cause. For the sake of our own good name, for the sake of the boys over there who will be

ARE YOU LEFT-HANDED?

Many folks are left-handed and don't know it. If you put on your left shoe or left sock first when you get up of a morning it is an indication that you are inclined to be left-handed in many daily operations. If your left hand is favored when you use the garden hoe or rake, or shovel, it is another indication of at least partial left-handedness. Any folks may be left-handed but do not write left-handed .

BRANDED "PERFECTION"

Flour salesman was sent out from a flour mill in Ohio to introduce a flour branded of flour in the Mountains of Kentucky. After several days hard canvassing he sold a sale by saying that his firm: "No sale—reason, a brand of flour known as "Perfection" has been sold in bags in this section for generations; the members of the youngsters ripped up the flour bags and manufactured a very useful commodity all youngsters used early in life, and the name "Perfection" is so indelibly fixed in these parts it is useless to try to sell any other brand."

TWO-SIDED LAWYER

A very prominent lawyer of this city recently found himself in a bewildering dilemma. Being the only lawyer in town for several weeks, where all others were either ill or away on business or vacation, this busy attorney faced the proposition of pleading both sides of all cases, coming before the courts during a period when he was the only attorney available.

50 MILITIA MEN ARE INSTRUCTED

Twenty-Seven From Local Armory Called For Ky. Derby Guard Duty Saturday

Sergeant Betustak and Corporal Woods, of the U. S. Army, gave demonstrations and instructions at a special drill period at the Armory Friday night, April 28, in the use of gas, riot control, and bayonet tactics. A smoke screen was developed that practically obliterated one-fourth of Carlisle.

The offensive and defensive chemical warfare demonstrations were very interesting as the men became familiar with the gas mask under actual conditions.

Sergeant Betustak made a lasting impression on the members of the local militia by his skill at judo and with modern bayonet combat tactics. The instructors were the best that have been sent to the local armory by the Military Department of the state.

New equipment, including army rifles, bayonets, gas masks and first-aid supplies were received here.

Twenty-seven members of the local militia have been called for duty Saturday, May 6, to assist in guarding the Churchill Downs, Louisville, to serve as guards at the 70th annual running of the Kentucky Derby.
