BIBLE THOUGHT THIS WEEK

Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. —Tim. ii. 3.

SIXTH WAR LOAN

(Lexington Herald-Leader)

The sixth war loan campaign will begin Nov. 20 and Dec. 16 Kentucky's quota in this sixth drive will be $104,000,000.

It will be hoped throughout the nation that this will be truly a victory campaign. The nation's goal will be 14 billion dollars less than the fifth war loan drive.

There are many who believe that the forthcoming war loan drive will be "the toughest yet." Probably it will. So are many things in connection with the war and unspeakably thankful the people of Kentucky will respond in the notable manner in which they have met their other quotas.

This money will go to back the fighting of the war and to advance its early and victorious conclusion.

Enclosed find money order for year's subscription to Carlisle Mercury. * * * Nicholas county is my old home and I enjoy reading The Mercury. I spent sixteen or seventeen years in business at Blue Lick Springs. Leaving there when I was 23 years old and went to Canton, O., lived there 29 years, then moved to York Pa., and am now 78 years old and still feeling fine. Most respt., J. H. Hunter.

LETTER OF THANKS

To Our Co-Workers, and to all Nicholas Countians who supported the Democratic ticket.

Fellow Democratic:

It is with keen sense of appreciation that this letter of thanks is written appreciation to our Co-workers and to all the voters of Nicholas County who supported the Democratic ticket in the election held on November 7th, and which election culminated in such a notable victory for our great President, our Majority Leader in the Senate and our own Congressman. The majority in Nicholas County was outstanding in the history of this County.

This magnificent result could not have been attained without the team-work of our Co-workers, and without the interest manifested by our electorate generally throughout the County. We were deeply moved by the response you gave the call for party action, and we cannot fail strongly emphasize the deep feeling of gratitude which wells up in our hearts toward all who aided in any way in this recent Democratic victory. Officer's Daring Rescues Flyers In the Balkans

Farish Built Secret Fields For Stranded Airmen; Killed in Crash.

BARI, ITALY. — Allied military censorship today released the story of an American officer, Maj. Linn M. Farish of Woodland, Calif., whose report on his roving in the Balkans in the shadow of Axis troops has been termed by fellow officers one of the most important documents of the war.

An account of his secret work in enemy and Partisan territory was banned so long as he lived, but while on a surveying trip by plane September 11 he was killed, leaving a legend of scores of grounded Allied fliers saved from the clutches of Bulgar and German troops.

Farish parachuted into the wild Bosnian hinterland September 18, 1943, and posted three 30-day periods in the interior of Yugoslavia in the year that followed.

An engineer he established many secret airfields in which downed Allied flyers and others have flown out to freedom. He obtained the assistance of Marshall Josip Broz (Tito) in the rescue of isolated men, and in his difficult cases he went himself to guide them across the rough country and through enemy lines.

Farish was moved deeply by conditions as he found them in Yugoslavia—the strife between the Partisans and Chetniks, the river of blood where he felt there should be brotherhood—and in a short time before his death he went to the Island of Capri to put his feelings on paper.

The report was prepared posthumously at the request of Gen. Eisenhower for the opinions of other American liaison officers attached, as he was, to Tito's headquarters. The report went to Washington.

Killing Innocent People.

"In all this welter and confusion of conflicting reports and misunderstandings," he wrote, "a few pertinent facts stand out.

"The senseless killing of these innocent people in this other must be stopped. It is useless now to endeavor to decide which side first did wrong.

"In all this terrible story of misguidance, of rape, death and destruction, the great power that I feel inside have prevented it or have stopped it his never been used. The United States of America or even Russia in the large breath with God in Yugoslavia. We were the only two on earth to whom we could look for help. Instead, we have left them to their fate."

General Cornered by Tank, Saved by Planes

NINTH USAAF HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, — Lieut. Gordon W. Sturky, a fighter pilot serving an Allied tactical air force, witnesses armored division, told of the rescue of the division's general by Thunderbolts he'd given the target.

The general, whose name was not disclosed, was trapped in a house just outside the city of Luxemburg when a German Tiger tank rolled almost to the front door.

The general radioed for help and Sturky directed Thunderbolts to the scene. They strafed the tank until the German crew bailed out and ran and the general picked them off with a tommy gun.

Clute Fails to Open, Lands in Bed of Silk

VANCOUVER, WASH. — Second Lieut. John J. Egger Jr. of Seattle had a rough trip back on a plane crash to earth after his own had failed to open.

He was on manoeuvers in England, he said, when just to leave an airfield. After a hot-foot fall, he found himself on top of the chute of a parapet from another plane, he said.

Realizing that both of them would be killed if he held on . . .

Egger let go and dropped to freedom. The next man landed safely, too.

Diary of Airman Reveals Tale of Life, Love, Death

Adrift on Raft in Pacific, He Is Attacked by Japs And Dies Alone.

ELKHART, IND. — The sheer drama of an airman's last days adrift in the Pacific on a life raft . . .

The horror of a Japanese plane diving at the raft, piercing his legs with bullets.

His love for a sweetheart he planned to marry on his next leave . . .

And, just before death, his longing for "Mom's cooking."

All this was unfolded by Mrs. Henry Cleveon, mother of Jack Cooper, 22, of Elkhart, a radioman on a navy torpedo plane that was shot down June 15. The mother pieced together the story — from Cooper's sketchy but graphic log released by the navy, a letter from his squadron commander and also from the commander of a naval vessel that picked up the life raft on July 21, about four days after the son died on it.

Notes to Sweetheart.

Sprinkled through the notations scratched laboriously on paper leaves of his wallet were frequent endearments to "Helen" or "Big Eyes"—Miss Helen E. Cheethie of Elkhart. She and Cooper had set their wedding date for his next leave.

The log as released by the navy:

July 6—Mom: Wrote letter in sewing kit, am entitled to all stars and moon. Be sure to check ins., etc., 10,000 ins. (roses) to remind me of Helen. Be sure and love her. Love, kisses, same for you. Mom, Dad and Judy.

July 9—Week. Can't catch fish. . . . No rain. . . . Love Big Eyes. July 10—Life raft. Headed west. Weak.

July 10—Rain last night, very weak; land close somewhere.

July 11—Much the same. . . . No see. . . . Left eye bad shape. . . . Still have water, Drifting N. E.

July 12—Little weaker. No planes, no land. Headed north p. m. Jap Zeil sent over. Left eye gone, both legs . . . bandaged them. . . . Drifting E.

Caught Small Fish.

July 13—Very weak from loss of blood . . . land in sight . . . no food since the 4th . . . 6 ounces of water and 1 spring eat. . . .

July 14—Caught one small fish last p. m. . . . very slight breeze SE if this is my last day tell my Big Eyes to be happy with someone else. I'm back to safe water . . . God bless you all.

Surprise July 15 tell Helen I found God be happy love. No rain for 2 weeks . . . left Helen I loved her
