HAIL THE SWATTER!

Cincinnati Enquirer:

To our notion, one of the greatest instruments invented by mankind is the fly swatter. We've always wondered why the early Greeks and Romans, who were intellectual gentlemen, never thought of combating flies by this method. Our early ancestors were pretty keen fellows too, but they overlooked the fly swatter entirely. As we remember it, this ingenious and useful instrument was extensively used 30 or 40 years ago.

We will overlook for the moment the contributions of habit and comfort which the swatter has made. Suffice to say that they have been great. But consider the recreational and sporting advantages which the little swatter possesses. They certainly shouldn't be sneered at.

The hunting instinct is strong in the most of us and descended from generations of pioneers. Who hasn't experienced something of a thrill in creeping up on a fly unobserved, moving inch by inch from sink to range, from table to cabinet, a fly swatter clutched firmly in his—the hunter's—not the fly's—good right hand? Many a doughty deed is done, during the summer season, to keep the flies down, such as by knocking the daylights out of the pesky pests.

We wish we knew the name of the man who invented the fly swatter. Probably he died peacefully in a forlorn attic, while the world enjoyed the fruits of his fragmental acrobatics. If we knew who he was we'd take great pleasure in thus placing his name among the immortals. But lacking the knowledge, we'll just touch the toilet toast at the office fountain and hurry home to kill flies on our own back porch.

CARLISLE APPLIES FOR T. B. HOSPITAL

Twenty-Four Other Towns Make Application For One of The Five Hospitals

Interested persons in Carlisle and Nicholas county made formal bid Saturday with an application for one of the five tuberculosis hospitals to be built by the state under provisions in a bill passed during the last session of the Kentucky legislature. Sunday was the last day for mailing applications Carlisle succeeded in getting its application filed in Frankfort Saturday by special delivery in person by a loyal citizen.

It was reported from Frankfort Saturday that bids were received from six towns in the First Tuberculosis district, five from the Third, five from the Fourth, six from the Fifth, and three from the Sixth. No hospital is to be built in the Second District, which will be served by Hazelwood Sanitorium.

Joshua B. Everett, chairman of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission, is expected to call a meeting of the commission in a week or two for the purpose of selection for one sanatorium in each of the five districts.

Towns seeking hospitals in districts, through Saturday were:

Third District—Cynthiana, Covington, Mt. Sterling, Paris and Carlisle.

Charles McCartney The Goat Man

It was interesting to interview Rev. Captain Charles McCartney, the goat man, while he was in route to Georgia where he said he was going to place his son in school and build a big international church and tourist camp.

Capt. McCartney is a native of Sequoyney, Iowa, is 45 years old, and travels the nation's highways in a crude wagon drawn by eight goats hitched four-abreast, with kid or eight more goats hitched to the rear of his outfit for emergency. He stated the eight goats pulls a load of 3,000 pounds and have traveled over high mountains.

He has made the entire west-coast-to-coast trip, in the vehicle which travels very slow, stopping overnight wherever he may be when night falls.

Traveling with Capt. McCartney was his son, Paul 12 years old, who said his wife left him about two years ago. He was married while in Lexington about 5 p. m. Monday afternoon. His outfit is interesting to gaze upon. He has his "coach" decorated with all types and kinds of weather indicators, wind-mills, etc. A cat and a young dog was observed traveling together in a box in the "lower birth" of the vehicle.

The traveler evidently had not shaved during his 6 years traveling. He said he participated in only two wrecks when cars ran into his equipment and both times it happened in Indiana.

Victory Near, Says Eden

Victory over German is near, said Secretary Anthony Eden at London "but we still have the Japanese to deal with and mean to play to the full our part of bringing them to defeat."

Speaking to constituents at Kingswinds, the foreign secretary said: "We have acore of our own to settle with the Japanese. They have overrun vast territories which formed part of the British commonwealth and empire and we are determined, as with Germany, to see that our victory is utterly complete."

BARKLEY TO SPEAK AT LEXINGTON TODAY, SEPT. 14

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13–Senator Alben W. Barkley, and Mrs. Harry Truman, wife of the Democratic nominee for Vice-President will be the principal speakers at the annual session of the Kentucky Federation of Democratic Women's Clubs which will meet in Lexington, Thursday, September 14.

Mrs. R. C. Williams of Somerset, chairman of the women's division of the Democratic State Campaign Committee is scheduled to address the convention. State Campaign Chairman, Harry Lee Waterfield, of Glasgow, and J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee have been invited and will attend the meeting.

During Senator Barkley's stay in Lexington, it is expected that final plans for the formal opening of the Democratic campaign in the Fourth district will be perfected. President plans call for the opening to be held in the Fourth Congressional District sometime soon after September 23, the date of Senator Barkley's first political speech of the national campaign.

Glasgow and Lexington are the most frequently mentioned as places to hold the opening party rally.

CLARK'S RIGHT TO BE SHERIFF DENIED

Former Deputy Authorized To Continue As Sheriff of Nicholas County

Circuit Judge J. C. Dedman has denied that Floyd Clark had forfeited his right to the office of sheriff of Nicholas county and that Circuit Judge Walter Shepherd was acting "under his duty" in appointing another man to the job.

The Nicholas Fiscal Court declared the office of sheriff vacant June 22 after Judge Shepherd refused to accept the "disappointed" without renewing his bond June 1 but that the office was filled only by the appointment of John W. Anderson, formerly chief deputy sheriff, by Judge Shepherd said Clark had been absent "two or three weeks."

Clark, asserting the Fiscal Court had no legal right to remove a sheriff from office for any reason, declared in his suit filed August 9 that he had work where large and unlawfully" taken his job away from him."

County authorities filed a demurrer, seeking dismissal of the suit, and Judge Dedman sustained the demurrer July 26. Further proceedings by attorneys at Cynthiana August 21 and Aug. 28 were under advisement while studying briefs submitted by counsel.

In his opinion, Judge Dedman said the "only material question involved in this case" is whether Judge Shepherd was authorized to set aside the order entered declaring the sheriff's office vacant for failure of the sheriff to execute an official bond June 1.

The judge cited Section 134.230 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes pertaining to the execution of bonds and said they must be posted on or before June 1 to cover tax collections made by the sheriff's office.

He said Clark contended he became ill prior to June 1 and after consulting a physician in the early part of the month, went to Hot Springs, Ark., for several weeks. The judge said Clark's failure to execute bond between June 1 and June 22, when the office was declared vacant, "can hardly be claimed to comply with the provisions of the statutes as this court construes them." Clark's request August 22 to the county judge to be permitted to post bond therefore failed to meet provisions of the law, the judge said.

". . . It is the judgement of the court," he declared in the written opinion "that the county judge was acting not only under his authority but under his duty at such judge to declare the office vacant and appoint a sheriff to fill the vacancy."

Anderson has held the Sheriff's post by appointment since the office was declared vacant. Clark was elected for a two-year term, beginning January 1, 1942.

PROMOTED TO MAJOR

Promotion of Charles Bruce Morford, Jr., to the rank of Major has been announced at an Air Base of the Eighth Air Force, somewhere in England. Major Morford has been in service since June, 1942, and arrived in England more than a year ago.

SHEPHERD NAMED CAMPAIGN CHRM

Nicholas County Judge To Start Organization Work in County At Once

County Judge Walter Shepherd has been appointed Democratic campaign chairman for Nicholas county by Harry Lee Waterfield, state chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, which headquarters are at the Seelbach hotel in Louisville.

Judge Shepherd will start organization work in the county at once and has been authorized by Chairman Waterfield to name such aides for the campaign in Nicholas county as he may need. An active organization will be set up in every precinct in the county.

"Democrats in all counties of the state are urged to make an aggressive fight in the coming campaign. The larger the vote, the greater will be the majority given President Roosevelt, Senator Barkley and our congressional nominees. I am confident that every Democrat in Nicholas county will give Chairman Shepherd his full-est cooperation and assistance in order that we may roll up the largest majority our party has ever given the Democratic party in Kentucky. The importance of the November election cannot be too strongly impressed upon the minds of the voters in every county of the state," Chairman Waterfield declared in announcing the appointment of a campaign chairman for this county.

OBSERVATIONS

WE SEE AND HEAR

HARVEST SEASON

The harvest season is now on in these parts and will be short. Tobacco grass and Kentucky, but in many other states. It was interesting to note the past week where large numbers of workers went from the Kentucky mountains to western states to assist in harvesting the crops for a day or two later a strong appeal came out from Lexington for hands to help harvest the blue grass tobacco crop. Consistently, it seems that it would have been reasonable for these mountain folk to have stopped in the blue grass rather than journey on to the western states to help harvest crops. The pay here would surely have been as good—probably these folk from mountain sections in Ky. West could find work year and this was the opportune time.

WAIL OF CRICKETS, BUGS

Sitting out in the twilight these evenings one can hear numerous crickets and bugs wailing their sad requiems, presumably for those of their number which have fallen victim of the bird and other fowel during the summer season, or probably they are wailing because their days are numbered as soon the frosts of winter will put an end to their existence. Vegetation as sure as the Allies will soon put an end to Hitler and his destructive influences.

CHANGING HATS

This is the season for changing "straws" to "felts" in men's headwear. Incidentally this is about all the noticable change in men's attire in the past few months. It is observed that the fairer sex have at least four hat seasons of the year—spring, summer, fall, and winter—but if we mentalk get one change in a year we are lucky, as some of us wear "felts" all summer. Anyway a man's straw (or panama) hat will soon be extremely out of date.

LATE TOMATOES

No garden vegetable is more palatable than the late tomato that is left on the vine till full ripe. About this season of the year one may find this luscious ripened vegetable and with a pinch of salt eat it, like eating an apple, right out of the garden. To get the best taste there is to be had, do not serve these late, ripe tomatoes sliced on a dish with dressing. They are better eaten right from the vine in the hand with salt.
