SIXTEEN QUIT RATION BOARD AT LEXINGTON

Sixteen of the 18 members of the Fayette County War Price and Rationing Board submitted their resignations last week to E. Reed Wilson, OPA district director.

Their action was promoted by Mr. Wilson's action in adding to the board two additional members as representatives of union labor. The two were J. M. Fitzgerald and Burgess Gano, union conciliators.

In a lengthy letter to Mr. Wilson, the 16 members declared they had no criticism either of Mr. Fitzgerald or Mr. Gano, or the organizations they represent, "but we strongly resent any directive that demands of us that we select a union man or a non-union man, or any representative or representatives of a special group or of special interests as such. Coming at this late date after two and one-half years of the rationing program, we can only construe the present action of the OPA as a political move designed to give representation upon the rationing board to special interests, and this is not acceptable to the board."

The reference is a directive concerned alleged insistence on the part of the national OPA office, with headquarters at Cleveland, and the Washington office, that union-labor representatives be appointed to the local organization.

The resignations, Mr. Wilson stated, "I appointed those now members to the board because I felt that the membership of the board should represent a cross section of the people of this community, and therefore representatives of the working people should be included." Mr. Wilson pointed out that 16 of the 18 members of the ration board has resigned after two union-labor members had been appointed. "This is necessary because it is difficult for a board member to know one's needs unless he is similarly situated.

"Since the present members of the board have seen fit to resign in protest over the step I have taken, I shall take immediate steps to recruit new board members and re-organize the board.

"The walkout of the board was unexpected but the business of rationing and price control will proceed as in the past."

Question—Isn't it all right to seek good advice from good spirits?

Answer — According to Isaiah 8:19, 20, the living are not to seek advice from the dead. "And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them and that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead? To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them."

WAR FUND DRIVE TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

Committees Have About Completed Arrangements Meet Meeting Saturday Night

First War Fund Contributions

Lerman Bros.	$50.00
Kroger Groc. Co.	30.00
A & P.	12.50

Chairman G. T. Cowan announces that plans for the opening of the Nicholas county War Fund Drive have about all been completed with the climax of the work during the past several days to be a mass meeting at the court house here Saturday night, October 7, when Dr. Robert Griffin, Belgian author, will speak in the interest of the local campaign.

In company with the committee members Chairman Cowan attended the district meeting Monday evening in Lexington where representatives from all counties of the first district heard many encouraging reports made, some of which stated the counties from which they came had already exceeded their quotas before the drive actually got under way. The assembly heard an address by Miss Elsie M. Reed, Norwegian War Relief editor, who told of the brutal German occupation of Norway, of the suffering and the punishment by the Germans and the heroic relief from the Allied saved many of the people but that they have otherwise starved.

Attention is directed to the new show windows in the Farmers Bank building which will soon be occupied by Hopkins Drug Store, where the publicity committee has arranged a display of interesting picture and word study of some of the needs for your loyal support to the fund.

Ten thousand community campaigns throughout the country are opening now to raise $250,000,000 for the United War Fund drive. It is the third great front for our own forces and for our allies. It is a front of hope and assurance that we shall stand united not only in war against aggression and tyranny but in the crucial and challenging days of peace and reconstruction.

In your gift to the National War Fund—and the combined gifts of thousands of other Americans—is the symbol of a United Nation that will reach from war to peace. That will suffer no one's hunger, starve here—in the hearts of men.

OBSERVATIONS

WE SEE AND HEAR
By Mercy

OLD CLOTHES

It is a distinction of honor during this war crisis to be the wearer of old, patched, or mended and repaired clothes of all kinds. The fact that no one would care to take to hide a patch on his pants, but a patch now, whether on pants, or the seat of overalls, or a tear in the ladies' hose, is to be commended rather than an amputation is evidence of thrift and probably the most valuable lesson we have learned. Wearing a patch is not an evidence of poverty, the fatal news from the war front.

BANKING SURPLUS

It is interesting to watch a squirrel at the nut-harvest season putting away the surplus supply for winter use. The squirrel will prepare a hole in the ground exactly as he desires, deposit the nut and cover it up and it is not an easy matter to find the exact spot. Many are deposited even though you have watched him do it. The squirrel example might serve well if put to practice by many of us, especially those who are earning more money now than at any time during their lives.

NOISE-MAKERS

When a candidate for President —Roosevelt or Dewey—is introduced to a large assembly, the radio audience is forced to sit through several minutes of clapping of hands, whistling and various rumbling sounds that mean practically nothing to those who do not hear the speech by the radio method. We, the radio audience, can get along very well without all this hullabaloo.

"ROLLING THEIR OWN"

Due to the cigarette shortage many cigarette smokers have resorted to "rolling their own" which reduces the average cost to the smoker more than 50 per cent. Why not calculate the saving over a given period and donate the saving to the War Fund Drive starting next week?

True Mackey Wounded

Mrs. True Mackey, of the Blue Licks neighborhood has received word that her husband, who is a private, and who suffered wounds in action in France, is in a hospital in England where he is convalescing from a serious right foot injury suffered Aug. 14. He has been overseas a year, and is a graduate of the University of Kentucky.

SNAPP'S CONDITION TOLD BY RED CROSS

Letter From Assistant Field Director From American Red Cross To Sgt. Snapp's Parents Here

AMERICAN RED CROSS
4206 U. S. Army Hospital Plant
APO 546, c-o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.
September 2 ,1944

Mrs. Alma Snapp
Dorsey Avenue
Carlisle, Kentucky

Re. Snapp, Kenneth E. Sgt. ASN 35581 Co. B

Dear Mrs. Snapp:

We are writing you at the request of your son, Kenneth, who is a patient at this hospital. The information regarding his condition is released with the permission of the Commanding Officer of this hospital.

Kenneth was wounded in France August 2. He was not came here three days later. He tells us that he has written you frequently but because of censorship regulations there are many things he cannot say in his letters. He feels, however, that you should have full details regarding his injury and be prepared for his return to the U. S. A.

His left arm was very badly shattered by a shell explosion and it was necessary to amputate it just above the elbow. His general condition is excellent, both physically and mentally. He is not bothered much about his loss of his arm and feels that while it may be inconvenient at first, he will manage very well as soon as an artificial limb has been provided.

He is probably return to a General Hospital at home to complete his convalescence, but it may be hard to say how soon this can be accomplished. In the meantime, he is making the best of his situation. He is up and around all the time and enjoys the movies and other recreations provided for patients. Yesterday he took part in a radio broadcast which was recorded and sent home to stimulate the collection of blood plasma.

If there is anything more you would like to know about Kenneth, please feel free to write me. We see him daily and will do anything we can for him.

Yours very truly,
Marylouise Hardwick,
Assistant Field Director
