The Democratic primary election in Nicholas county is over and the winners have emerged as the party nominees. This assembly of their election in November.
With one exception, challengers were turned back in good sportsmanship appears to be manifested by those who lost and who have, in losing, bowed to the will of the majority of the people which is the American way of selecting public officials.
And this is all that should be a good Democratic fight with no quarter asked or given during the campaign but one in which every candidate vanquished may clasp hands when the decision is made.
The Mercury feels that all who entered the political lites were men of good caliber and that the defeat of those who lost was not ignominious or even one which has lessened the stature of any losing constant. There simply must be losers in any contest.
Our condolences are here with extended.
In congratulating the winners, the Mercury feels that the people of Nicholas county have selected able public officials to lead county affairs during the coming years. The days ahead are ones which will need a high type of leadership in order that the fortunes of the county may be advanced and the general welfare of the people may be promoted.
The stock sale at the Carlele stockyards which are steadily gaining in importance should mean much to the citizens of Nicholas county as insofar as the stock market prospers through the enlargement of sales and the increase in the amount of money paid to farmers, so will such marks of prosperity be passing on to the merchants and business of the county.
The crowds on the street in the courthouse, at votes in a Democratic primary. Legion Commander Eva Kendall, the county partisan in very young hopes, were definitely sportsmanlike. There was no small banner but in this tally vote, the Athens-Eva is a formidable Republican Congressman and the Scotts boroughs under the log cabin emblem, the general way they help in all things, they pretty nearly know how to do it.
You, H. Baker, of the Buckhorn neighborhood, told me this morning (7 o'clock) that this day (Tuesday) ago the sun went into total eclipse. He was alone in a blackberry patch, he said, when at 4 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon, the sun went out and filled within a few minutes.
Eight years old at the time, he became frightened and chickens went to roost, wolves howled and an advanced state of nature which has remained a vivid memory throughout all these years.
He was sitting at the table of the new Roberson County. The election here was given in 1944 as it was possible to all candidates who submitted copy to be published over Tuesday, 1945.
There was no bodily turning down of any copy as none was submitted which did not meet the standards of journalism. In almost every advertisement submitted by every candidate there were changes made in choice of words and phrases which were believed by the editorial staff to be undesirable. The editor requested to present the material in the best advantage and all alike. It is indicative of the high type of Kentucky citizenship here and which in some sections of other material sent to this office which could not be revised or edited.
It seemed that every one in was town Saturday night, all throughout the several hours which were in attendance. Crowds thronged the streets in the neighborhood of the courthouse and while the county courthouse scene of the Mercury building, where outdoor scoring of precinct voting was displayed, were packed with people.
Who would have intended the progress of the count. Not until the final big precinct count in the four counties district by a small majority.
There is no doubt but that the majority of 212 votes given him by Nicholas county re-elected him.
Tucker of Cynthia, Barnett, of Nicholas county by a majority more than bare majority. Tucker would have been elected.
Captain Harvey Gaunt and the state guard emp-tyed this week during the election of the Mercury of an important part of its staff since Reynolds and Carroll Barnett were in the members; Sam as staff sergeant and Harold as assistant.
There was nothing but the usual Spike came to the rescue and here is the paper.
It is a fine thing to be in a Kentucky county where even the Republicans pick and help with counting
votes in a Democratic pri-

OLD MANSION SHOULD BE RESTORED BECAUSE OF SIGNIFICANT HISTORY

Because two men who were in the service of Nicholas county were able to carry the Nicholas county office for here and has been preserved.
