LEGION CONCERT HERE DRAWS BIG CROWD THURSDAY

A crowd estimated at 2,000 people thronged the courthouse square here last Thursday night to hear a concert given by the Victory band of the Lexington American Legion post and to witness a martial display presented by the Man O' War drum and bugle corps, of the same post.

Something over 80 strong, the musical organizations attracted many rounds of applause from the open-air audience as they gave a program strongly tinged with the military inclination of the times ranging from Sousa marches to medleys of airs popular in this and in the last war.

The band was ably directed and its entire program was appreciated seemingly by an attentive audience. Ray Stewart, veteran drum major, attended by a bevy of gaudily dressed and high-stepping majorettes, put the drum and bugle corps through a series of intricate drills interspersed with martial music.

Elva Kendall, Miss Lucy Howard Colliver and Ben Pumphrey, as lieutenants, arranged the drill arrangements for the affair, addressed the assembly during an intermission and made the promise membership in the Legion holds for new veterans. He praised the forward outlook of the Legion and outlined the program ahead of the local post, including with the famous dare devil automobile driver, Joie Chitwood thrilling the crowds by driving an automobile through a ring of fire.

The evening program will be replete with similar features plus the appearance of Selden, the Stratosphere Man who does his aerial feats from the top of a 300-foot pole.

The Sunday night's show will be topped off with a fireworks display picturing the bombing of Tokyo.

Additional space has been obtained to care for the livestock exhibit and more ground space was allowed for the increase in the carnival resulting from the lifting of travel restrictions.

WORKERS IN WAR FUND DRIVE TO MEET SEPT. 18

Dr. G. T. Cowan, chairman for the War Loan Drive to be held in Carlisle beginning October 20, said today that an organization meeting will be held at the city courtroom on September 18 when a fish-fry is to be given for the 100 to 150 workers in the campaign which this year will mark a new approach to this type of funds.

This year, he said, the drive will be confined to the raising of funds for all purposes for the year and a single campaign is to be held beginning September 20 instead of several drives as in the past. A state speaker will be present at the organization meeting, Dr. Cowan said.

Of the quota of $3,620 to the raised in the coming drive will be included $950 which will be devoted to community purposes by the community Chest.

Of this latter figure the following items are to be earmarked: Boy Scouts, $250. Girl Scouts, $100. Infantile Paralysis fund, $250. Kentucky Crippled children's fund, $250. and Cancer Control, $100. The remainder of the total quota will be subscribed to the National War Fund drive, including the USO and other agencies for the help and relief of service men and that the need and use approximates in importance that before the end of the war.

To Speak Here

REV. MICHAEL LEVCHANIN
