DOG GETS PRIORITY OVER SERVICEMEN

But this sort of frightens us. Do you think it will affect his standing with the Navy? He wasn't griping.

An official in Washington said Colonel Roosevelt had returned recently to overseas duty with the Air Forces. The White House had no comment. One spokesman said it was purely Elliott's affair.

Army regulations state an air priority is granted only when an emergency is so great that a delay in transportation would seriously delay and impair the war effort. Priorities for Air Transport Command planes are set by the priorities and traffic divisions of ATC, at request of military agencies.

The young gunner on a Navy tanker said he boarded the Army cargo plane at Newark, N. J., after learning of the death of his father, former Police Chief here.

Leroy had an emergency leave and "C" priority. At Dayton, Ohio, he related, a box containing "a huge sharpy dog" was put aboard. The crate was so big it occupied the space of three seats, he said, and shipping directions stated it had been dispatched by Colonel Roosevelt to his wife.

At Memphis, on January 11, high priority matter was not aboard, requiring that a man's weight be left behind. Leroy declared an Army Lieutenant told him, a Sergeant and a Navy Seaman, they would have to leave the plane. "We protested," he said, "and the Lieutenant showed us the dog had an 'A' priority, while we only had a 'C' priority."

He said he hitchhiked from Memphis to Dallas, and eventually got a plane from there to the coast.

The War Department spokesman in Washington conceded that the three servicemen had been dropped off at Memphis, that the dog continued, but that the department had no information as to the identity of the dog owner, or the consignee. The dog presumably had a travel priority, he said, since only priority freight normally goes by air.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in New York City, commented "I can't imagine any Army dictator who would be as stupid as that. No Army officer would put a seaman off for that reason."

Miss Emerson, en route to Washington for the inauguration of her father-in-law as President, heard of the affair as her train stopped at Albuquerque.

"I assure you that my dog travels as right and awaits his turn," she said. "I certainly don't believe the dog had a priority."

The actress disclosed that Colonel Roosevelt had sent two bull mastiffs — dogs weighing about 150 pounds—by air from England and that one of them, "Blaze," had been delivered to her home the other day by an Army Major.

The Fightmaster Real Estate Company sold at public auction Saturday three loads of feed containing 174 acres, belonging to Mrs. M. R. Rinecraft, on the East Union road to Dixie Stephenson, of the same section, at $80 an acre.

NEXT to MOM'S COOKING

HE THINKS OF HOME IN TERMS OF GETTING BACK ON THE JOB

OUR national leaders advise us to be prepared for the coming of peace, for the return to normal living standards. At the heart of the whole problem of reconversion is the question of jobs for returning servicemen and women and all who need and want them.

Aside from those who will enter or resume professional careers, or open their own businesses, the returning veterans have only two choices as to jobs. One kind is provided by Government and controlled by politicians. The other is provided by private business and industry. Farm jobs, like factory jobs, depend on the employer earning a legitimate profit.

Under our American system of free enterprise, the farm boy who "hires out" has a right to hope to own his farm some day, just as the factory or office worker or salesman has a right to hope to rise to a position of responsibility with his firm or even to own it.

Socialized industry such as TVA and socialized business, for which TVA sets a pattern, seek to substitute planned economy for free enterprise, to substitute a regimented people for a free people. They do not create new wealth but seek to take over markets developed under the American system. They aim to exploit where others have pioneered.

So we must face the larger question: What kind of industry do we want in Kentucky? Do we want the Government-subsidized brand that pays little or no taxes, that limits advancement to political favorites? Or do we want the kind that American free enterprise provides—offering equal opportunity, paying its share of the tax load, supporting worthwhile community projects of every kind?

Upon the answers you give to those questions depends the kind of community and job to which your men and women in service will return.

A Shattered Yardstick

MUCH was said during the early stages of the Tennessee Valley Authority about the value it was to have as a yardstick for measuring the reasonableness of private power rates. Any measurement of rates must include taxes. The following facts show how poor a yardstick TVA has proved to be and serve to explain the secret of its so-called "cheap" power.

TVA reports that during 1944 it paid states and counties a total of $2,168,824 "in lieu of taxes." It paid the Federal Government nothing. The claim is made that the in-lieu taxes exceeded by $790,311 the property taxes formerly paid on the same properties when they were in private ownership.

But when were they in private ownership? Some of them as long as two years, others three to eight years ago. And what of the $750,000,000 TVA has added to the national debt, on which interest already has amounted to more than $50,000,000? Any comparable expenditure by privately owned power companies would have represented, not a small margin, but a tremendous increase in tax payments.

The true picture can be realized by a comparison of taxes and interest on gross power revenues, that is, all the money received from sale of electricity. On this basis, TVA paid 7.2 per cent of its gross sales in taxes, while the privately owned power industry paid 24.5 per cent of its gross sales in taxes.

The in-lieu taxes are just another phase of the trick bookkeeping which conceals the great drain on the United States Treasury represented by the whole TVA experiment. TVA's "cheap" power means simply tax-free, subsidized power. You and the other taxpayers foot the bill just the same; only you're not supposed to know it.
