KENTUCKY RANKS NINTH IN DRAFT REJECTIONS

Only eight states, all in the South, have a higher rate of Selective Service rejections for physical reasons than Kentucky.

Kentucky's rate of rejection for a typical period — February through August, 1943 — was 45.4 per 100 men. The states with higher rates were Alabama, Arkansas, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Georgia. Mississippi was still better with a rate of 45, and Tennessee with 44.7.

The national average was 39.2. Oregon was tops with 24.4.

Kentucky appeared to outrank the country in keeping the health of Negro citizens up to approximately the white standard.

Kentucky's white rejection rate was 43.1 and the Negro rate 49.7.

The ratio for some of the other states was:

Arkansas, 46.9, 70.9; Georgia, 46.9, 73.1; Mississippi, 42.9, 54.5; Tennessee, 40.1, 57.2; Indiana, 35.2, 49.3. The number of Negroes varies considerably in states and even communities, and the rejection rates are believed to be related to this inequality to reflect health ratios precisely.

WAR TRAINING COURSES TO BE OFFERED FARMERS

The Nicholas County Triple A Committee, in cooperation with Service and Teachers of Vocational Education, have announced plans for a series of war training courses for farmers in this county. The courses will include the goals of the Triple A program for the coming year, where this may be done without endangering the health of the community.

His apparent intent was to leave the degree of fuel curtailment in such places up to local decision, based on the availability of supplies.

The order from Secretary Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator, will not close controls over home deliveries to the ultimate consumer, but will be caused, embargo on nonwar railroad freight. The rule was no deliveries to anybody having more than five-day supply, and then one for a seven-day supply.

In addition to Washington and St. Louis, the zonal restrictions affect Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia and part of Virginia.

$200,000 FIRE AT PARIS WINDSOR HOTEL

Turner Howard, Lexington, who with his brother, Dr. Howard, Harlan, owns the Windsor hotel at Paris, which was gutted by fire of undetermined origin Monday afternoon said that the building could not be insured for $200,000.

Mr. Howard stated that insurance companies refused to write policies because it is impossible to rebuild at the present time, he hoped that it might be done after the war.

The fire was discovered about 4 p. m. Monday in a linen closet on the second floor and quickly spread to the entire front of the building and the south wing. Floors and the roof in these two sections fell in.

The fire was brought under control about two hours after the local fire department went to the scene. However, it was not until the fire until 5 a. m. Tuesday when the last of the flames were extinguished.

SHORTAGE OF COAL EFFECTS 17 STATES

Fuels Administration Curtails Supply As Shortage Grips The Northeast.

A coal shortage so severe that it closed some schools and threatened more brought drastic fuel limitation orders for homes as well as amusement places in the winter-struck Northeastern states.

The Solid Fuels Administration specifically denied that it was ordering closing of any schools. J. J. Potter, deputy administrator said its order "does not contemplate the closing of any schools if they have coal or can get coal. If they have ample fuel, it would be risky to shut down."

But Mayor Frank S. Harris in Albany, N. Y., ordered schools as well as libraries, museums, night clubs, theaters and bowling alleys to close until further notice.

Potter's telegram to City officials in Washington, D. C., St. Louis, and 15 states and part of another said:

During the emergency period these officials also are urged to do everything within their power to conserve the use and supply of solid fuels in places of amusement such as theaters, motion picture houses, bowling alleys, night clubs, and in educational institutions such as libraries, museums, schools, and in any other building, public or private, where this can be done without endangering the health of the community."

OBSERVATIONS

WE SEE AND HEAR
By Monty

LET'S GO FISHING!

One of the first urges upper-most in the minds of spring is the fisherman's mind is to plan for fishing trips the first warm day. It is true the early fellow catches the fish like the early bird gets the worm, but it makes one more comfortable to go fishing when the weather is pleasantly warm, but that is not always the best time for fishing to catch the most fish. They usually bite the best quite early in the season.

A HARD JOB

The Carlisle Mercury recently carried a For Rent ad: "Rooms, garden, and outbuildings on corner lot." It makes one wonder what kind of vegetables would be raised in a concrete yard. Tennessee tomatoes and Rocky Ford cantelopes—to be scratched up by Plymouth Rock chickens. H. H. D.

SOME FOLKS TALK

A traveling salesman boarding a train, a very talkative type, sat down by a young lady, and endeavored to engage the Miss in a conversation without much success. Finally both he and the girl fell asleep. When he departed from the train his seat partner awoke, to whom he remarked, "Well young lady, I enjoyed visiting with you," to which she still made no reply, but gave him a "dagger look."

FOOD STAMPS 'DIE' AFTER 16 WEEKS

New OPA Ruling Does Not Effect "Red Tokens." Sugar Cut.

The Office of Price Administration has asserted had news for housewives who like to hoard their food-ration stamps for a big buying spree.

It announced that all food stamps henceforth will be canceled four months after validation, giving housewives only 16 weeks in which to use them. The order makes it impossible for consumers to save large numbers of stamps for future use. Red tokens are not affected.

The agency also ordered a slight reduction in sugar rations. Sugar stamps hereafter validated every 2 1-2 months now will become good at the rate of one every three months.

OPA announced that Sugar Stamp 34 in Ration Book 4 will be good for 5 pounds, beginning February 1 and ending June 2. Stamp 34, hitherto good indefinitely will be canceled February 28.

Another cut in sugar is expected to become good May 1, OPA said, when Stamp 35 runs just about two weeks longer than Stamp 34, which has been good since November 1.

The OPA formerly used the system of canceling food stamps after specific intervals, but discontinued it last spring. It was revived to eliminate hoardings of unused stamps and to lessen the chance for consumer-buying rushes.

The new system also is expected to cut down on the use of counterfeit stamps. Price Administrator Chester Bowles has appealed to housewives to watch carefully for bogus coupons, reporting that 50,000,000 were seized in Chicago recently, enough to buy all the civilian beef in the country.

Under the new plan, the first blue and red stamps to expire will be those that become valid December 1 and 3. They will be worthless after March 31.

The new stamps scheduled:

RED—T5, U5, V5, W5 and X5, valid December 31, good through April 28; Y5, Z5, A2, B2, C2 and D2, valid January 28, good through May 27.
