Do your duty to your doctor . . .
and your country . . .
by observing these rules . . .

1. Call on your doctor during office hours

Save his after-hours time for those patients who cannot call in person.

2. Telephone your doctor when symptoms develop

He will know whether you can safely come to him or he should visit you.

3. If possible, don't 'phone your doctor late at night

Better a "false alarm" in daytime than a "must" call during the night.

4. Make every effort to avoid sickness

A careful diet, vitamin supplements, ample sleep and regular habits help.
