LOVING A SOLDIER

Loving a soldier isn't all play
The life it endures isn't so gay
It's mostly the having and not to hold.
It's being lone some and feeling unsold
It's the life of skimmed milk without any cream
It's being in love with a soldier that's all dream
It's a lonely letter from a far off came
It's always in the second instead of a stamp
It's hoping for a furlough that never can be
And making the plans for a fu ture that we'll be
But then, if he sees there it's laughter together
Unconscious of people, the time and the weather.
It's hearing him whisper his I love you
And your sly reply . . . "I love you, too"
Til then comes the wonderful promise of love.
And knowing you're watched by the Father above
Yes, loving a soldier . . . Good-bye at the train
And wondering when you will see him again.
You're reluctantly painfully letting him go
And you're crying inside for wishing him so
You wait for his word that "Everything's well"
And hide through a miserable letter-less spell
And you find that your feet are of clay
And your source of strength comes only from God
Loving a soldier is undefined fear,
And crying at night til there aren't any tears
Having yourself, and the world and the wars
Fighting yourself til you can't any more.
Then giving up to kneel down and pray
And wanting your heart in the words that you say.
But when the mail comes, you're feeling with joy
And you prance like a child with a new shiny toy
And realizing now he's so far away.
Your love for him grows even greater each day.
You're so proud of the job he's helping to do
And knowing he's doing it thinking of you.
So you just grit your teeth and manage a grin.
You've a big job ahead and you've got to begin—
You have a war—the same one he's in!
So you work and you smile each hour of the day
And the victory that's near will be plenty of pay.
You're human, you're tired from doing your share,
But you're helping your soldier win OVER THERE!
So, loving a soldier is bitterness, tears;
It's loneliness, sadness and ungrounded fears;
It's working and hoping for Freedom and Living.
With a reward that's immense for what you are giving.
No, loving a soldier isn't much fun—
But it's cheap for the price when the battle is won.

"RETONGA IS GRAND"
SAYS BUSINESS WOMAN
"I Feel Better Than In Years And Have No Difficulty In Looking After My Business," States Mrs. Fannon. Can Eat Anything Now; Sleeps Restfully.
Among the thousands of happy men and women praising Retonga for the relief this noted medicine gave them are scores of business women. Among the latest is Mrs. M. A. Fannon, well known resident of 407 N. Main St., Harlan, Ky., and proprietor of a prosperous upholstery business.
"I have had my share of distress from nervous indigestion, poor appetite, nervousness and sluggish elimination," states Mrs. Fannon. "Practically anything I ate would torture me with gas pains and a terrible stuffy feeling. I felt so nervous and restless I dreaded going to bed for it took me an hour or more to get to sleep. I was forced to use some kind of laxative practically every day. I felt so bad it was difficult for me to look after my business.
"The relief Retonga gave me was far beyond my expectations. I rest well at night and enjoy every meal without distress. My nerves are now steady, and even the sluggish elimination has been relieved. I have no difficulty in looking after my business now. Retonga is grand."
Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at the Carlisle Drug store and the Hopkins Drug store. —Adv.
