One minor reason Kentucky took such a beating at the hands of Georgia Saturday may have been because at least one point soldier was wanted out of the service to play for Georgia through the aid of both Georgia U. S. Senators who made personal and productive demands on the War Department...

What some members of the committee realize is that the war has been overhauled on some members of the armed forces while a grand lark for many others.

It will take more than the drive of tax reductions to square some of these fellows when the elections roll over for next week.

Courteous As The Old South

Throughout the old history of the South the 'Country' has been given a reputation. The L&N strives to continue that tradition as a living reality.

But the South itself, and this Railroad which has so faithfully served its interest for nearly a century, has changed greatly.

For over 95 years, the 'Old Reliable' has aided the economic development of the South and wide together a wide expanse of Southern territory.

As a result of this Southern growth, the L&N now operates a program to meet Southern public confidence and good will.
