Soybean Cooperative Has Successful Year

The Ohio Valley Soybean Cooperative at Henderson is cited by the University of Kentucky as an example of successful cooperative organization benefiting agriculture.

In the fiscal year ending July 1 this cooperative paid farmers $1,305,115 for 646,026 bushels of soybeans. From these beans it produced for market 4,695,354 pounds of oil and 32,349,170 pounds of meal for a total market value of $1,390,911.

After taking care of repairs to its plant and setting aside reserves for depreciation, the cooperative made $90,949 savings for its patrons during the year. The net savings for the last fiscal year in excess of the book value of plant and equipment were more than $3,000 from which it told back to farmers as a patronage dividend, almost 11 cents a bushel for beans purchased at ceiling prices.

The cooperative was organized in 1940 by the soybean growers in the Ohio river valley adjacent to Henderson. Since its organization it has furnished a market for more than 1,722,000 bushels of livestock producers and has assisted soybean growers have benefited due to the large quantities of high-protein feed made available to them.

The college notes that this illustrates but one of the many opportunities farmers have in improving their financial position through the establishment of cooperatives.

Marr Hits Jackpot; Lands Two 17¼-Lb. Northerns In Tainter

Sometimes a fisherman will click and land a big one, but seldom, in this part of Wisconsin's outdoor paradise, does a fisherman have the good fortune to land two lunkers in the same season.

But that is the good fortune of John A. Marr, former Pierce Point owner, who lives in his cottage on the upper fringe of Tainter Lake. John's fishing mentis is usually "big ones or nothing," and he has been living up to this goal.

In company with W. E. Owen, Menomonie, Marr was casting in Tainter lake, Saturday afternoon with a five-inch red head bait, when he hooked his second big piscatorial trophy of the season. After a considerable battle, and after shooting the fish twice with his 32-20 pistol, Marr and Owen landed the big fellow that measured 42 inches in length and weighed 17½ pounds. It was a northern pike.

Only three weeks before, at the identical place in the lake, Marr caught a 41½ inch, 17¾-pound northern pike and he believes the fish caught by him Saturday was a mate to the first one landed three weeks before. Jack Connors was with him when he caught his first big northern three weeks ago.

Stories about big northerns were going around Picnic Point for sometime. An Iowa couple, vacationing on the lake, had hooked both of the big northerns previously, but they were unsuccessful in landing them.

The above clipping was sent to Mrs. Howard Veach by Mr. Marr who is a brother of Mrs. Veach and formerly lived in Carlisle.

Litter Owned By Boy Weighs 3,448 Pounds

A litter of 13 purebred Duroc pigs that weighed 3,448 pounds when 175 days old was a feature of the ton-litter sale at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville. Owned by Roy D. Rice, a Mason county 4-H club boy, it sold for $17.75 a hundred.

Highest price was $18.50 a hundred paid to James W. Miller, Hardin county, winner of fourth prize. His litter of 14 grade Durocs weighed 3,121 pounds. Ten 4-H club and Utopia club litters sold for an average of $17.25. All others brought the ceiling price of $14.75.

Twenty litters were entered in the show. A. N. Bottorff, Gosh-Ky. placed first, second and third. His hogs were purebred Duroc

Recipe Of The Week

With a bumper crop on the market, cabbage is an economical buy. That it is a bargain in food value also is pointed out by food experts. A source of both vitamins and minerals it is especially valuable in vitamin C when it is served raw.

Cabbage Salad
With Peanut Dressing

3 cups shredded cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon finely minced onion
peanut dressing

Peanut Dressing

½ cup peanut butter
½ cup cream or evaporated milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon honey or white corn syrup

Beat the peanut butter and cream or evaporated milk until well blended. Then stir in the lemon juice, salt and honey or syrup. Serve on crisp cabbage that has been finely shredded or shredded and mixed with green pepper and onion.

Menu: Pork chops, browned potatoes, butter beans, cabbage salad with peanut butter dressing, rolls and butter, and baked apples.

Use Spuds Often Housewives Told

Housewives who serve potatoes frequently are doing their families a good turn, say home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Freshly harvested potatoes such as are now on the market, offer more vitamin C than late potatoes and, if eaten generously, can provide a third or more of the day's vitamin C needs.

For greatest food value, boil the potatoes in their jackets after scrubbing them carefully. Eating boiled potatoes, skins and all, gives extra returns in nutritive value as a large measure of vitamins and minerals lie close to the skin, the experts said.

If potatoes are to be hash browned, mashed, or made into any one of a dozen different tempting dishes, they are off to a good start if first cooked in their jackets. It is also an economical way of peeling them, as no potato is wasted.

Recipes and further suggestions for helping use one of the largest potato crops on record are to be found in the free booklet, "Potatoes in Popular Ways," which may be had from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington.

Power Machinery Saves Labor

Power machinery is saving labor and getting jobs done in a hurry on some farms in Breckinridge county, reports Farm Agent Kenneth A. Brabant. Operating in a 35-acre field in the Howard farm near Glen Dean recently were two tractor-pulled combines, harvesting redtop seed. Following the combines was a tractor-operated mower cutting the remaining redtop and bluegrass hay. The mower was followed by a tractor-pulled sweeprake. On the following day, a tractor-operated pickup baler baled the hay, which was hauled in by truck.
