KENDALL SAYS FALL SHOW IS GREAT SUCCESS

Pronounced an unquestionable success, the horse and dog show of the American Legion staged here last Friday and Saturday hung a trophy to the belt of sponsors who, in the fore of lack of proper time for preparation, were able to bring plans for a show this year to a more than satisfactory conclusion.

Attended by enthusiastic audiences during the two-day show estimated at near 3,500 people, the initial annual affair of the Legion earned a favorable position which assures a return engagement in Nicholas county on a far larger scale next year, it was felt.

By no means secondary to the Legion show was the farm exhibits of 4-H and F. F. A. clubs held in conjunction during the two days at the armory under the active supervision of W. T. Strange, county agent.

Elva Kendall, commander of the Legion post here, stated that the membership of his organization is highly gratified with the reception given the affair by local and out-of-town supporters and he expressed appreciation to the aid of many citizens of this community which made the show possible.

"Already," Kendall declared, "we are laying plans for the 1946 Legion festival in Nicholas county. The success of the recent tryout indicates definitely that we will be able to put on an event next year that will attract much more attention."

Awards made in the Legion events and in the farm show appear elsewhere in this issue.

"He stands in the unbroken line of patriots who have died that freedom might live, and grow, and increase its blessings. Freedom lives, and through it, he lives—in a way that humbles the undertakings of most men."

Mrs. Hebert is the 24 year old daughter, Rita Ray Bealert.

Falls At School

Girl Scouts

(By The Scout Reporter)

The Lily of the Valley Patrol took charge of the Girl Scout meeting held at the Youth Center Thursday night. Sue Crouch is chairman of the patrol.

After the business session the patrol entertained the group with a "Truth or Consequence" program. Each scout was asked a question and each one had to pay the consequences. Whether the scouts are not well read up on their history or they weren't given time to answer has not yet been concluded.

The citizens of Carlisle were well aware that something unusual was going on. However they looked they saw some young lady "shining" around maybe hideously overdressed, going through the cemetery, rushing to the ball park, acting in the confectionaries, or she might even have been the caller at the door to give an outlandish message or ask for some old article. All in all the scouts enjoyed another meeting and are grateful to the citizens who were considerate about their "fun-making."
