HATED CO-WORKERS AND FRIENDS . . . CONSTIPATION THE ROOT OF HIS TROUBLE

Mr. Elmer Nelson, of Thrush Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes "I was so miserable with stomach gas that I hated my co-workers not sharing my trouble. Then a fellow left a note on my bench telling me about Pru-lax. This really did the job. Down at the shop, they tell me it's a joy to work with me again."

Pru-lax is the laxative containing Cascara and Senna herbs that do a thorough but gentle job of flushing the bowels and go to work on sluggish livers and kidneys. People suffering gas pains, vertigo (dizziness), lack of pep and energy, feel like a million after just one bottle of Pru-lax. Caution: Use Prulax only as directed. Money back if not delighted with results.

Wuxtree! Wuxtree!

CARLISLE HAS BEEN DESIGnated by Jay Jay in the Lexington Leader as the place Stephen Collins Foster wrote his immortal ballad, "My Old Kentucky Home!" Along with other learned authorities on Foster, the Lexington columnist is willing to say the song was written almost anywhere except at Bardstown. Well, he couldn't find a better place or a more typically Kentuckian spot than Carlisle, blessed as it is by the surrounding beautiful country side of old Nicholas county, but before we would accept the proffered honor, we would be obliged to make acceptance subject a reservation which I will state later in this piece.

Of course, it would take a ream of paper and a couple of new typewriter ribbons to indite on paper the torrent of thoughts which the subject and the pseudo-Foster authorities arouse but limitation of space will compel me here to barely outline a proper treatment of these points, who knew nothing about Foster so well as they know he did not write the song at Bardstown because even if he did visit the Rowan home there it was in the winter time and since the meadows were not in bloom then it followed that the writing could not have been made. Jay Jay would prob ably adhere to a belief that Mer-Nicholas's Spring Song just had to be written in the spring by the same reasoning.

"FIFTIETH YEAR AND many times in the past I have heard and seen Bardstown alluded to as the place where the song was written. The last time was in the magazine section of the Courier-Journal. Many times when this probably wrongful and false fact is put Jay Jay and Foster's Indiana biographer actually knows possibly rightfully stated, it has been made, the very erudite who wear the collar-buttons of the blue-blue, immediately issued a horse-laugh that any one could commit such a crude blunder.

So finally I asked—this is for the true record—where, then was it written? Echo only has answered and continues to answer. The statement that the song was not written at Bardstown was not made by me, so in the case of fair play, Jay Jay, upon whom does the burden of proof lay?

WHO ELSE JAY JAY, BUT upon you and this Doctor Somebody-or-other who launched upon the biographer's task he proved well up into the Nineteenth century but even so, he never cited the "patient and thorough research" you mention in your column to prove that Foster's wrote one of the most famous songs in our history.

Maybe, Foster slipped into Bardstown while this biographer wasn't looking. As to the exact matter maybe the song was written—for all you Bowers-ites. Even during one of the lapses in the record about which he can't seem to discover. As I wrote you, people seem to know more about old King Tut who had no immediate biographer than they know truly about Foster.

AND SO AS I WROTE YOU since you refuse to go for Bardstown but can be reconciled to any other locations for the event, we will be glad to accept the honor for Carlisle on conditions that you fellows will leave the record alone once you establish it.

Otherwise it would seem that all alleged birthplaces of the song will be continued to be kicked around until that day when, possibly as not, it may really be found to have been written at Judge Rowan's.

Carlisle Churchmen Visit Old Religious Shrine

The old Cane Ridge meeting-house and burying ground, important religious shrine in Bourbon county, long has been an interesting site to students of religious history. Shortly after the turn of the Nineteenth century, this spot was the scene of a great religious revival which has had a pronounced effect in subsequent religious endeavor. Although the appeal of the old Cane Ridge church is wide-spread, it is proposed that ministers of Carlisle visit the shrine. The picture was taken on March 27 is of the group who were present. They are, from left to right, Rev. Ralph Thomas, pastor of the Carlisle Christian church; Rev. Ira McMillen, pastor of the Carlisle Baptist church; Rev. J. Walter Cobb, pastor of the Carlisle Presbyterian church; Mr. Harper and Rev. E. H. Barnett, pastor of the Carlisle Methodist church.

Baptist Meeting Here Next Week

The pastors and workers of the Baptist churches comprising the Bracken Association will meet here next week when a "Get Acquainted" meeting at the Main Street church, at which time they will meet the new executive secretary, Dr. W. C. Boone of Louisville. This is one of seventeen such meetings in Kentucky being held to acquaint the Baptists of the state with Dr. Boone and the work of the Baptist State Board of Missions. Rev. Ira McMillan, local pastor said.

Pastors and missionary leaders of the Bracken Association have been invited to attend the afternoon conference at 2 o'clock. At this meeting prayer and future plans for the expanding state mission program will be discussed. A fellowship supper will be served in the basement of the church for all of the out-of-town guests. Following, a mass meeting of all the churches will be held. This meeting is open, not only to church officers and leaders, but all persons interested in the Baptist work in the state, it was said. Dr. Boone will be the principal speaker. Following his address a recent film of Baptist work in the state will be shown. This picture, to be presented by Miss Ruth Griffith, Assistant to the General Secretary, shows the two Baptist orphanages, one hospital for Negroes, and eight district departments of Baptist work, and the fifty-two missionaries serving in every section of the state.

Revival Here

Rev. C. A. Pankey, pastor of the Assembly of God church here, has announced that a revival will begin at that church Sunday, April 14 to be conducted by Rev. Thomas Lawhan, Tampa, Fla.

Clarence B. Ingels of Paris, formerly of Carlisle, has purchased a 120-acre farm on the Jackstown pike in Bourbon county from Miss Gilbert Lavin, at a private price. The farm formerly belonged to the late Mrs. Ed Burke.

Maybe You Have One

Maurice needs a tricycle. Not merely as a plaything does this seven year old lad need it but as a means to bring back to his legs the muscular strength and co-ordination he used to have up until something more than a year ago when he was struck down by that arch-enemy of little children—infantile paralysis.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wagoner, Route 4, Carlisle, he has just come home following a long hospitalization and is already able to get around pretty well on a tiny pair of crutches. Maurice's doctor says a tricycle would prove a fine thing for him. But tricycles are hard to find. Do you have one or know anyone who has?

Persons holding certificates for auto, truck or motorcycle licenses may now procure plates at the office of the county clerk. The license tags became exhausted last week but those which were ordered have arrived, John Suggs county clerk, stated.

Ten girls gave girl scout laws. Pat Allison gave law of. Juliet Gordon Lowe, founder of girl scouts. Betty Alsop told of community life. The entire troop sang the girl scout song.

Emily Dixon introduced Miss Mary Spears, who spoke on "Girl Scout Committee and Sponsoring Group."

Plant Treatment Statement Clarified

A statement a few days ago from the county agent's office recommended bluestone-lime treatment for tobacco beds to be applied at the rate of 5 gallons to 50 feet of bed. 12 feet wide.

This statement should have said at the rate of 50 gallons to 150 feet of bed, 12 feet wide, this office has stated. The formula for the mixture is 3 pounds of bluestone, 4 pounds of hydrated lime, to 50 gallons of water. Two treatments are recommended. The first when plants are the size of a dime and the second 10 days or two weeks later. The purpose is to control angular leafspot, rust, and wildfire and to some extent blue mold.

John P. Pirtle, agricultural teacher and principal at the Headquarters school has resigned his post effective June 30. No reason was given by Mr. Pirtle for his action and he stated that his present plans are undetermined. The resignation was submitted at the meeting of the county school board here Saturday. About State Smear

Attention of Mercury readers is invited to an editorial on page two reprinted from the Princeton Leader but mentioned in which G. M. Pedley, well-known author, discusses a recent Collier's magazine article.

Lightning Strikes And Destroys Poles Early Tuesday Morn

Though few people here may have realized it, the lights in Carlisle and neighboring sections about early Monday morning from 12:45 to 5:55 a. m. it was stated by Frank J. Hardesty, Kentucky Utilities Co. official.

Cause of the interruption to service was a bolt of lightning which struck and destroyed eight poles near Millersburg. The damage was quickly repaired and

Field Representative Cautions That Income Tax Penalties Loom

H. G. Royse, field representative of the State Department of Revenue said Monday that the absolute deadline for filing state income tax returns will be Monday, April 15, and that after that date all persons who become delinquent will be subject to penalties as prescribed by law.

Mr. Royse said that during his visits to Carlisle for the purpose, he has been able to give assistance to a number of taxpayers. It is reasonable to believe, however, that many persons have overlooked returns and he stated that he wishes to caution those that the law on penalties will be rigidly enforced. He added that the Department of Revenue has been anxious to render help to those who desire to avail themselves of the service and that any one who wishes blanks or advice may address him at Box 781, Maysville.

Underwood To Address Jefferson Day Feast For Democrats In Rowan

Lexington Editor Acting As Mediator In Party Strife Is Being Urged By Friends To Make Senate Race Himself.

Tom R. Underwood, editor of the Lexington Herald and recognized as one of the most eloquent speakers in Kentucky, will be the principal speaker of the Democratic party's Eighth Congressional district Jefferson dinner to be staged for about 300 Democrats at Morehead Saturday night.

Mr. Underwood, who has up to this time repeatedly turned down solid Democratic support if he would seek public office, is recognized as one of the party's best mediators and since potential candidates for U. S. Senate nomination are to be present, it is felt that the race may take form following the dinner at Morehead. The Lexington editor, despite his consistent declining of Democratic offers of support if he would enter the race himself, is still being urged by a great many friends to become a candidate for the Senate post as it is generally conceded that his entry into the race would insure a great Democratic victory at the polls in November. Although the newspaper man has stated that he refused to consider getting into a race for office, it is believed that the need for party unity and the importance of winning in November will be urged upon him by many backers who want him to run.

Elijah Hogge, in charge of arrangements, said that only those acquiring tickets by mail will gain a place at the dinner.

Shepherd Says Dam Hearing Slated For Date After May 17

Judge Walter Shepherd, chairman of the Nicholas-eodnty chapter of the Licking River Valley Protective Association this week announced that he had been informed by Past M. Bunyon, Flemingsburg, Ky., president of the 10-county group, that he had been advised by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Washington, D. C., that in response to the Association's request, the Board had extended to May 17 the time in which it would consider appeals from the favorable report of the Division Engineer concerning the proposed development of the Licking river basin for hydro-electric and flood control purposes.

The Board also advised Mr. Bunyon, according to Judge Shepherd, that it would hold a public hearing on the matter in Washington, D. C., some time after May 17 at a date to be announced later.

Judge Shepherd, in Chairman Shepherd, the information from the board means that all petitions, resolutions and other statements of protest, to-gether with any other written material concerning the proposed dams at Falmouth, Cave Run, Boston Station and Pool's Creek, would have to be in the hands of the Board by May 17. He therefore urged that all civic organizations, precinct workers or individuals having signed protests forward them at once to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, No. 2 New York Ave., N. W. Washington, D. C., at once or give them to him and he would forward them.

As soon as the Association receives word of the date of the hearing at Washington it will be announced to the public. It is expected Judge Shepherd said that delegates from Nicholas county, along with citizens from the other affected counties will attend the hearing.

Mrs. Howard Collitzer has received a copy of The Bulletin, official quarterly publication of the Oklahoma State Dental Society which Dr. Eugene W. Wher, of Tulsa, and formerly of Carlisle is editor. In this issue Mrs. Wise includes "The Saga of a Ham," in which he describes his method of obtaining gifts of good country meat for his family by feigning the approach of a serious breakdown to a friend and which, according to Howard, could have only been thought up by somebody who was raised in Nicholas county.
