Kentucky Has Backlog To Post-War Riches

"No industry brings so much benefit to a country as the tourist," said Leo Doran, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, who recommended to the government of Canada recently an extensive program for tourist activity, with press, radio, exhibitions and competitions being used during an annual campaign to acquaint the people of Canada with the value and potentialities of a well developed tourist industry.

Canada has the right idea, and Canada already has reaped great and lasting benefits from her awareness of the great values of making a business of attracting visitors. In this she sets Kentucky an example it would do well to emulate . . . and without further delay.

Mr. Doran recommends a comprehensive survey of Canada's recreational resources, vastly improved highways, establishment of a basic national policy for tourist industry and return to pre-war courtesy standards, a tradition which during the war ceased to be the watchword of the industry."

WORLD FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIANS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10:34-43.

GOLDEN TEXT—The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him.—Romans 10:12.

Fellowship is impossible where there is prejudice and intolerance. The world is full of it even now, after we have fought a global war to stop such inhumanity of men to man.

It would be a surprise even to some Christian people to learn that "God is no respecter of persons," that with Him a man is not received because he is of a particular race, color, education or social position.

God created all men. He loves all men. Christ died for all men, and every Christian ought to be desperately concerned that all men should hear about their Saviour and come to know the love of God.

The church of Christ has its greatest opportunity now to show that the things it professes to believe actually work in the relationship of man to man. They will work if we will only let them! Our lesson presents:

I. Principle—God Is No Respecter of Persons (vv. 34, 35).

Peter had learned about God's love for the Gentiles by the vision given him concerning Cornelius (Read Acts 10:1-33.)

Peter was a Jew, and God now used this vision to teach him a much needed lesson about the carrying of the gospel to the Gentiles. The Jews were (and still are—let us remember it) God's chosen people. However, they were not chosen for their own comfort, convenience or glory, but that they might be channels for the outflowing of God's blessing to all nations.

Cornelius was typical of those in every nation who are ready for the preaching of the gospel. He was a God-fearing, righteous man, but nonetheless in need of redemption. God brought this man, who was ready to receive the message, together with the man Peter, who was prepared to preach it, and the result was salvation.

Whatever it may be that keeps us from carrying the gospel to all nations, we ought to recognize as unchristian, and put it aside. It may be race prejudice, for it still persists; but it may be an equally deadly indifference to the needs of others. Let us, like Peter, go to them and open our mouths (v. 34) to proclaim Christ.

II. Practice—Jesus Did Good to All (vv. 36-41).

The attributes of God are always active. He not only is good, He does good. So the principle, "no respecter of persons," is perfectly exemplified in our Lord Jesus who "went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil," and we may well place the emphasis on the word "all."

The death of Christ for their sins (v. 39), His resurrection from the dead for their justification (v. 40), the coming judgment for sin (v. 42), and the remission of sins in His name—these are the essentials of Peter's message.

Note how plain is the truth. Jesus has come and has wrought redemption for all who will believe. Now we must choose whether we want Him to be our Judge or our Redeemer. Either He is your Saviour, or He will be your judge. (John 3:17, 18.)

The proclamation of this message of redemption was never completed, even "while Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Spirit fell upon them all" (v. 44). Blessed interruption! Would that we might have more like it in our churches and Bible schools!

This leads up to our last point, namely, that we have a

III. Privilege—We Are to Preach to All People (vv. 42, 43).

Yes, it is a command (Matt. 28: 19, 20), but it is also an unutterable privilege to be called of God to tell all nations about the One in whom they have "remission of sins."

Let us preach that message. Book reviews, political addresses, discussion of civic or social problems will not bring the result. Forums, clubs, discussion groups, unless they have for their subject the Word of God, need not expect anything like this to happen.

Preaching of the Word of God concerning the person and work of Christ, whether it be in a home like that of Cornelius' or in a great cathedral (and thank God, some of them do have such preaching!), will result in some soul finding Christ and receiving the Holy Spirit.

It is worthy of note that these believers gave evidence of their newfound spiritual life by magnifying God, obeying His word, and testifying to others. It is to the credit of Peter and his companions that they recognized the workings of God's grace in the lives of these Gentiles.

May we also be quick to see, appreciate and encourage every true gospel work, whether it be among our own people or with some other race, whether in our church or in some humble cottage. "God is no respecter of persons."

Friends and relatives of Pvt. Raymond Jackson who has seen much commendable service, are glad to know he is in, safe and sound.

Young Milton Dotson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dotson has enlisted in the Army and is stationed at Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. Cyrus Morris is suffering with tularemia.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Jennings has been in the local hospital for a few days but is now at home much improved.

G. T. Sellers who has been ill is on the mend.

There are 13,000,000 Negroes in the United States—one-tenth of the national population—but less than half that number profess any religious affiliation, according to the Rev. Tollie L. Caution, in charge of Negro work under the Protestant Episcopal church. "Hundreds of thousands of Negroes," he says, "are influenced or guided by leaders with little education but with aggressive power to win adherents to any scheme which promises release from hardships and discipline. Contrast this with the wise and steady character training of the church's schools, and you will see the importance of strengthening their whole program." Episcopalians are now attempting to extend and improve the group of schools fostered by its education agency, the American Church Institute for Negroes.

A new field of missionary work has been established in Columbia, South America, by the Protestant Episcopal Church. It was begun a year ago by the Rev. George R. Packard. Now there are seven congregations, six of them serving whites in the country, and one a West Indian Negro community. The 448,794 square miles of ministry are possible because of travel by the modern means of the plane.

All aboard for happy destinations in 1946! You're on the main line — no stopovers — your ticket reads straight through.

Happy New Year, to friends new and old! Happy New Year to all!
