BLAKE, PRICHARD ATTEND GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEET

Atomic discoveries, strikes, G. I. discontent, the shifting world and its cataclysmic dangers to the contrary, apparently there will be one scene which will remain unchanged—the stage upon which is set the renewal of old-fashioned Kentucky politics as preliminaries are being undergone in these opening days of the Kentucky State Legislature which convened Tuesday.

Interests of Nicholas county are in the hands of its native son, Senator Stanley S. Blake, battle-scarred veteran of other legislative meetings, and of Edward F. Prichard, Jr., who represents the Nicholas-Bourbon district in the lower house.

The post-war legislature sees many faces in Frankfort with which the citizens have become familiar long since and factional line-ups, as extremely typical of Kentucky politics, were very much in evidence as leaders and would-be leaders squared off for the usual and expected struggle for domination.

In the defeat of John Young Brown, observers of the political scene discerned the hand of J. Lyter Donaldson, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and Democratic candidate for governor in 1944 which Republican rivals carried the state. Senator Richard P. Maloney, Lexington, was elected Senate Democratic floor leader without a contest, Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton, will be again Speaker of the House, in which Democrats now have a 69-31 majority. In the Senate the Democrats have a 21-17 margin.

Two years after he told the people of Kentucky of his need to ask for repeal of the State Income Tax, Governor Simeon Willis advocated such a step for personal income in his message to the legislature in which he also asked for retention of the present budget with moderate increases for public welfare and Negro higher education. He failed to mention the bonus problem. He asked consideration of a 5 per cent levy on pari-mutuel betting.

Burley Prices Tend Toward Lower Levels

Governor Willis has been asked to temporarily halt tobacco sales because of skidding prices which Wednesday morning had reached a new low of $38.33 for the state average by Elliott Robertson, commissioner of agriculture. Central Kentucky markets fared somewhat better leveling off at something better than $40. The plea for a recess did not meet with the full approval of tobacco men in Lexington, however.

Frank C. Taylor, Lexington tobacco official, said that he has never known a recess, called for the purpose of improving prices, to bring about the desired effect. Nicholas weed continued to go over the breaks with, several crops bringing comparatively good prices just after the holidays. While dissatisfaction with prices is noted it is not felt to an alarming degree at this time, is the opinion of local observers.

Carlisle Cemetery Superintendent Resigns

George Honican, who has been superintendent of the Carlisle Cemetery Company for the past three years, has tendered his resignation to the Church In He and his wife plan to move to a farm in the Hutchison Creek section.

J. Edgar Freeland of near Paris will take up the office of superintendent on March 1, which office he held for 17 years prior to his resignation three years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Freeland have been living on his farm near Paris, and with Mrs. Freeland's mother, Mrs. Fannie Kincart, will move to the cemetery home on West Main street.

He said that he doubted that there is a community more free of prejudice and ill-will than is this city and county and that he wished to leave behind him his "most sincere gratitude for many kindnesses shown him and his best wishes to all."

Embassy Member Addresses Carlisle Woman's Club

(Mrs. Grimes Caywood)

Mrs. Richard A. Godfrey of Rio de Janerio, Brazil, was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Woman's club Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Dreizella Campbell on Locust street.

Mrs. Godfrey, whose husband is a member of the United States Embassy staff in Rio de Janerio, is a teacher in a school for children of embassy employees maintained at the embassy. She gave an interesting talk on the customs, climate and character-istics of the South American country.

She is a twin sister of Mrs. Thomas Johnson of Carlisle. Before coming to Brazil three years ago, she and her husband were employed in the Congressional library in Washington, D. C.

At a business session after the speaking, Mrs. Earl Van Bever, president, reported that 50 stockings filled with candy, cigarettes and fruit were sent to wounded war veterans in Nichols General hospital at Louisville for Christmas. Mrs. Van Bever announced that contributions may be made at any time for these patients, and that the donations should be sent to her or Miss Dreizella Campbell, chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Frank J. Hardesty was appointed chairman of a youth conservation project to be conducted as one of the club's activities.

Miss Stella Booth requested persons having discarded copies of Readers Digest to send them to her to be placed in kits to be making for service veterans. Miss Booth said she had about 90 of these kits completed.

We Are Misquoted

Some weeks ago we printed a protest against the raising of our rent but stated that, even so, the building would be our home and we would love it, adding: "Who are we kidding?" The piece was picked up Sunday by the Courier-Journal, which, with that perfection of editorial structure that has gained for the metropolitan daily the name of being one of the most excellently made-up papers in the nation, changed the last line to read, "Whom are we kidding?" That, of course, is correct but how can one reconcile words like "whom" and "kidding" in the same line and wherein does that leave our use of slant without quotes. Whym, right up in the air!

Holds Unique Record

JOHN SUGG

Beginning this month his 25th year as County Clerk and the sixteenth year of his present incumbency, John Sugg, popular Nicholas county official, holds a record which is unique, perhaps, in Kentucky history. Because of a physical indisposition, he was a patient for a short time in the Lexington hospital but is again on the job in apparent good health, much to the satisfaction of a host of friends here.

The Kentucky pastor is recognized for his insight into the Scriptures and his grip on the spiritual needs of men everywhere. He is thus eminently qualified to discuss his subject, "The Source of Peace," according to Mr. Lowe.

The programs of the Baptist Hour originate from Atlanta again this year, and the broadcasts cover the territory from the nation's capitol to the Gulf and westward to include Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Missouri.

The program can be heard in Kentucky over Radio Station WAVE, Louisville and KNOX of Knoxville, Tenn. at 7:30 A. M. CST.

The Kentucky Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which conducts the March of Dimes, was compelled to spend almost $200,000.00 to care for victims of the epidemic of 1944, the worst in the state's history. This money was spent for hospital bills, nurses, physical therapists and other necessities including the operation of an out-patient clinic, where victims receive treatments after discharge from hospitals.

ARCHITECT TO BE RETAINED TO DRAW PLANS FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Nicholas County May Receive Federal Grant Provided Fiscal Court Plans Are Approved By State Planning Board

At a called meeting of the Nicholas County Fiscal Court Tuesday afternoon County Judge Walter Blackburn appointed County Attorney Roger Womack as a committee to secure the services of an architect in order that plans be submitted to the State Planning Board in application for a new hospital for Nicholas county.

The action of the County Judge was taken after the court was informed by Dr. R. L. Loftin, Cynthiana, former health officer, here, of steps which needed to be taken to secure aid in building a unit under post-war plans of the federal government.

It is understood that such applications as are approved by the State Planning Board will be accepted by the government on a basis wherein the county will put up approximately twenty-five per cent of the cost with the government to pay the remaining seventy-five per cent.

Dr. Loftin told the court that the present health district which has been composed of Nicholas and Harrison counties is to be changed to a four-county district which is to include Nicholas, Robertson, Bracken and Pendleton counties.

Present at the meeting, at which Loftin explained details for the selection of hospitals were Dr. B. F. Reynolds and Dr. C. B. Thomas, members of the Nicholas County Health Board. Dr. H. H. Buntin and Dr. T. P. Scott, also members, were not present.

At the called meeting Judge Shephard appointed members of the Fiscal Court to the following committees: County Farm and Jail, Kash Hostetler and Luther Hollar Courthouse and Hospital, W. J. Clark, Leonard Alexander and Hamer Miller.

Two new members of the Fiscal Court attending their first meeting were Magistrates Alexander and Hostetler.
