MY COLUMN

(E. Hampton Barnette)

On the eastern road there is a sign which describes Carlisle as "A Small Town With A Big Heart." We have no argument with that. There are few, if any towns the size of Carlisle, which give a warmer reception to those who come to dwell in their midst. School buses run in every direction bringing boys and girls to the town schools. On Sunday cars are parked in large numbers near all the churches, which indicates a religious loyalty among the people. There is no natural line of demarkation between the town and the country. We live in the town, and those who dwell on the land.

Carlisle has long been a market place for the people of Nicholas county. The farmers supply the market with live stock, poultry, grain and other products. Many tenants have been thrifty enough to buy farms for themselves, and have made permanent homes in the hill country of the county.

The quiet reserve which characterizes the people of this section has made them a permanent type of citizens which bring profit and honor to the commonwealth. Tuesdays are field days for Carlisle. The stock market brings a large portion of the farmers to the county seat where they sell their live stock.

On Saturday cars are packed all over the place. This seems to be a day of recreation, trading and visiting. Young men and women associate romantically, stroll the streets, and we could guess that some families spend the afternoon visiting with their distant neighbors. Business houses besides dwellings to whom live, like a football carrier who has the undoubted right to find a person he wants, to have a friendly visit with. These food products bring folk of the county as near as welcome as the spring chickens in the streets of Carlisle. Our court house furnishes a place for rest and relaxation. The Court Yard Center gives our young people a whole some place of recreation. Churches... Pull up a chair in any of our establishments, sit a spell, and make yourselves at home.

WHAT'S AHEAD IN TELEPHONE SERVICE?

In case you don't recognize me in the turban, I'm Telephone Tommy... gazing into the future. What I see is of great importance to every Kentuckian.

I see telephones in the future for all who want them. I see a lot of people with new jobs and steady incomes... more good customers for more businesses... added prosperity for Kentucky—all as a result of the tremendous expansion program started by the Telephone Company.

This program involves the expenditure of more than $300,000,000 in the nine southeastern states and means that the present investment in telephone facilities in Kentucky will be practically doubled.

So, I see the need for a heap of money. This money will have to come, as it has in the past, from the savings of hard working, thrifty people.

Unless they have confidence in the safety of their investment and feel assured of a reasonable return on that investment, new funds for future expansion will not be forthcoming.

So, it is easy to see that earnings have an important place in your future telephone service.
