WITH STOMACH GAS, FELT LIKE ONE OF HIS HOGS
Mr. Edward Baumer, a farmer of Ballwin, Missouri, says: "I was so full of gas, I felt like a hog—and the fine meals my wife cooked tempted me about as much as the slop I fed the hogs, because my stomach was so upset. After meals I did nothing but belch up sour liquids. Then a neighbor told me about Pru-lax—and now I can eat without bloating."
Let Mr. Baumer's experience help thine. If you too suffer from constipation—sluggishness—gas—bloat, Pru-lax is a wonderful new herb medicine containing Cascara and Senna that will bring you relief from constipation. Caution: Use Pru-lax only as directed. Money back if not delighted with the results.

THE WEEK FOLLOWING THE Kentucky Derby should see the Democratic party tranquil and determined behind the candidacy of a suitable candidate for the U. S. Senate who can lead the party to certain victory or else preparing to be launched into a bitter struggle in which some three or more candidates will fight it out for the nomination at the risk of bringing the party to the verge of disaster in the November disaster itself.

The first course is one to be followed and one desired by the rank and file of Democrats. To secure certain victory over the Republicans this fall, this is a time when this important office should seek a candidate rather than the usual condition—of candidates seeking the office. Unity is now the prime consideration to attain success and the chances are that there will be a lack of unity in November if Kentucky is subjected to a name-calling contest for several weeks this summer.

This column has expressed and expresses no opinion whether Tom R. Underwood of Lexington will give serious consideration to the proposal that he become a candidate that he become a candidate for the office of U. S. Senator on the Democrat who can unite and lead the party to overwhelming success in November.

MATT HUDDLESTON POSSESSES a rich volume of humor that is seldom heard surpassed. Making his weekly visit at the produce merchant this week, I had a chuckle from the droning of his phone at business with the question: "When is the best time to put chicken feet?" the answer: "When there's plenty of chicken feed to buy." and added Huddleston: "But I don't have enough to advertise." "Then I'll write you," I shall I put in that space this week?" Nothing," he said, "put it right in the middle of it."

So I did—and it appears that way in this issue. Look it up.

RAY WAGONER CAME FOR the first of his weekly visits to add con. Maurice, in care of the Mercury, to the Boomerang Owen-boro toy manufacturer and took it home in the crate. He told me afterward that the small but infantile paralysis victim, who hopes to get well by the use of the trivelle, watched eagerly while the crate was opened for assembly of his new possession and then marked "Oh boy, I hope it's red!" And one month it was, with the nickel-plated trimmings, balloon tires and all.

I CAN'T TELL YOU! WHO told me this one about the well-dressed lady who opened up its annual softball season. Both high school and the grades play twice a week, the first team managed by Gerald Barlow, is leading the Junior league with three wins and no defeats. The sixth grade team is leading the Junior league, winning two and losing two.

To Hold Revival

A revival meeting will begin at the Pilgrim Holiness church Tuesday night, May 7, it has been announced by Rev. A. R. Christman, the pastor. Rev. Frank W. May will be the evangelist. According to Rev. Christman, the visiting minister has held many revivals which have attracted large gatherings. Special music will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Paris. Services will begin at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

Sunday School Day Observance Set By Churches For Next Sunday

First Proclamation Of Governor James B. McCreary Setting Aside Go-To-Sunday School Day Recalled By Ministers Here

The thirty-second annual Go to-Sunday School Day will be observed in the churches of Carlisle and Nicholas county Sunday, May 5. The pastors and Sunday school superintendents are putting forth extra efforts this week to enlist the families of this community for the observance of this occasion.

The custom of setting one Sunday in the year as Go-to-Sunday School Day in Kentucky was instituted in the spring of 1914 with the approval of Governor James B. McCreary. The proclamation which was submitted to him by the Kentucky Sunday School Association was printed in May 4 of the state papers and notices of it were printed in 2,000 papers in other states, becoming the inspiration, along with the Go-To-Sunday School idea, for 26 states and even for other areas in Canada to launch Go-To-Sunday School Day movements of their own.

The following year, 1915, the Governor was ready to issue his own proclamation without suggestion from anyone, and in part it read as follows:

"The first state-wide Go-To-Sunday School Day was observed with marked success on May 3, 1914, at which time the Sunday school attendance in our state increased from three hundred thousand to six hundred thousand and fifty thousand of these visitors became permanent members of the Sunday school.

"All those who desire a Christian citizenship should unite in the hearty support of every movement which makes for character and Christianity. The Sunday school has something for every life and all of life.

THEREFORE, I, James B. McCreary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, call upon all Kentuckians and the visitors within our borders to attend Sunday school in the church of their choice, that they may give encouragement and honor to those who teach and that they may in this service worship their God."

The churches of this county extend a cordial invitation to attend Go-To-Sunday School on Sunday May 5 to observe this special day and every Sunday that this community may be blessed with such richteousness prevails because the people and students are followers of the teachings of God. Carlisle ministers have pointed out.

May 5 is not only Go-To Sunday School Day. It is also Children's Day and Christian Home Week, a national event and one worthy of the attendance of all Christian people. The Sunday school and the church have been the chief agencies in helping develop Christian character and to establish Christian families and homes. Nothing could be more fitting than to begin each grade commencement in the community attending Sunday school and church Sunday on this first day of the week's observance, the announcement said.

Music Week Program At Christian Church

The choirs of the four churches of Carlisle Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian will commemorate National Music Week on Wednesday night, May 8 with a home festival at the Christian church.

Selections of outstanding hymns of the church will be rendered by mixed choirs of the above mentioned churches, their choirs, and pastors will cooperate with every one.

A historical background of some of the well-loved hymns will be given by Rev. Ralph Thomas. Soloists will be featured, in Carlisle, for this important week. A large audience is anticipated.

Nicholas Schools Take District F. F. A. Prizes

Seventeen Nicholas county youths, students of Carlisle high school and Future Farmers of America of the Northern Kentucky district competed at the Simon Kenton high school near Independence and captured four hard-fought prizes, Dr. Frank L. Cardozo, state FFA director at Simon Kenton announced.

Auxier, who won first prize for his production contest Monday and who took second prize for his cattle; Gene Hughes, second in the chapter meeting contest, and W. C. Vice, who finished third in the chapter meeting contest. Officers of these young men gave the right to compete with other district winners for state honors at the F. F. A. state convention at Louisville in August.

Judges attending the event at the Kenton county school besides the above prize winners were: Bobby Crockett, Charles Guthrie, Donald Hughes, Gene Price, James Reid, W. H. Scott, Robert Spegal, J. A. Standiford, Jr., Everett Vice, Ronald McLean, Alvie McCarty, Billy Rose and Howard Warner. They were accompanied by G. B. Leonard, agricultural teacher in the Carlisle school, and Edgar Darrell.

The Headquarters school, also competing at the district meeting, took signal honors both in group and individual competitive ratings. The school took third place in the chapter meeting contest of 12 schools and third place, also, in the chapter music contest.

As to individual honors, John Allen Hopkins, freshman, took second place in the corn entemprise contest; Ralph Hovermale third second in tobacco enterprise; Leroy Kendall gained third place in public speaking and James Brady rated a third in beef cattle.

In addition to the above named boys, also attending the contests were Billy Hilsek, Raymond Scheffler, Rouse Gaunce, Billy McClain, John Anderson, Hiset Richardson and Charles Miller, accompanying the boys was John P. Pirtle, agricultural teacher.

Bank Official

ED L. JONES

Ed L. Jones, elected last week as executive vice-president of the First National Bank of Carlisle, will move to this city from Lexington next week.

He entered upon his duties with the bank last week immediately following a transaction in which with Garvice Kincaid, of Lexington, and Dr. W. S. Snyder of Frankfort, he became a stockholder in the Nicholas county institution through the purchase from Mrs. Harry King and Mr. and Mrs. Lerr Buckley of 75 per cent of the bank stock.

Mr. Jones, who prior to his service abroad with the armed forces, gained his banking experience with the Security Trust Company, Lexington, was connected with the Treasury Department, the Office of Price Administration and the Reynolds Tobacco Company before accepting the bank post here.

The high school commencement exercises will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night. Time observed will be Central Standard for all these occasions.

Nicholas Delegates To Meeting Chosen

Frank C. Henry has been named Nicholas county's delegate to the state meeting of burley tobacco growers to be held in Lexington May 7. Alternate delegate is W. E. Piper.

Selection of the delegate was made at a meeting of farmers here Saturday night, at which B. C. Clark was named chairman and C. C. Crockett secretary. Two speakers, scheduled to come from Bourbon county, failed to arrive to address the meeting.

Fiscal Court Requests That Carlisle Restore Clock To Standard Time

Time Advance Held Hurtful To Farmer In Meeting Which Also Adopts Resolution Urging Carnegie Medal For Sue Fryman

A resolution requesting that the city of Carlisle return to standard time was passed unanimously by the Nicholas county fiscal court at its regular meeting here Wednesday. The resolution will be submitted to Mayor W. C. Talbert and the Carlisle city council.

County Judge Walter Shepherd, who presided, stated that it is generally believed among residents of rural localities in the county that the time advance is injurious to the welfare of farmers and that the setting ahead of clocks really is not warranted by any condition now prevailing in the country.

All magistrates were present including Hamer Miller, W. J. Clark, Kash Hostetler, Luther Hollar and Leonard Alexander, and members of a resolution which will ask that a Carnegie Medal be bestowed upon 14 year old Sue Fryman, daughter of Herman Fryman, who with his brother, Cecil Fryman, was in charge of the county infirmary which was destroyed by fire Friday morning. Miss Fryman's heroic and timely help undoubtedly saved the life of at least one of the 11 inmates in the structure at the time it burned, the court stated. It was brought out that at a risk of her own life she trundled a chair in which one of the aged women was seated, which was then let down the stairs, step by step, to the lower floor and to safety outside the building.

The two-story frame building which was wholly destroyed at an estimated loss of $10,000, partially covered by insurance. The Fryman brothers lost all belongings in the blaze.

Plans are being cared for in the Harrison county infirmary until provisions can be made here for their care. The matter of replacing the infirmary was discussed but no conclusion was reached. This is to be decided at a early meeting, the court indicated.

John Anderson, Nicholas county sheriff, filed a settlement with the court which was approved. It showed county tax books handled to the extent for a total of $77.37, of which $42.47 is land tax sales and $39.40 personal taxes.

4-H Club Rally Day Contests Held Here

A large crowd of patrons and friends attended the 4-H Club Rally Day Friday in the city school building. Members of 4-H clubs from the following schools took parts: Carlisle, East Union, Ellisville, Headquarters, Myers, Moorefield and Parks.

At the style show in the evening, Miss Caroline Linville of Carlisle was awarded first in the show for her blue tailored suit with matching hat. The county dress champion title went to Miss Kathleen Paris, also of Carlisle, modeling a coat and purse. Clothing judging award went to Miss Eva Warner of Headquarters; canning judging, Miss Betty Crockett, Carlisle; boys demonstration team, Dursey Watkins and Harold Honaker; girls demonstration team, Ann Wagoner and Evelyn Callahan.

Fiscal Court Requests That Carlisle Restore Clock To Standard Time

Time Advance Held Hurtful To Farmer In Meeting Which Also Adopts Resolution Urging Carnegie Medal For Sue Fryman

A resolution requesting that the city of Carlisle return to standard time was passed unanimously by the Nicholas county fiscal court at its regular meeting here Wednesday. The resolution will be submitted to Mayor W. C. Talbert and the Carlisle city council.

County Judge Walter Shepherd, who presided, stated that it is generally believed among residents of rural localities in the county that the time advance is injurious to the welfare of farmers and that the setting ahead of clocks really is not warranted by any condition now prevailing in the country.

All magistrates were present including Hamer Miller, W. J. Clark, Kash Hostetler, Luther Hollar and Leonard Alexander, members of a resolution which will ask that a Carnegie Medal be bestowed upon 14 year old Sue Fryman, daughter of Herman Fryman, who with his brother, Cecil Fryman, was in charge of the county infirmary which was destroyed by fire Friday morning. Miss Fryman's heroic and timely help undoubtedly saved the life of at least one of the 11 inmates in the structure at the time it burned, the court stated. It was brought out that at a risk of her own life she trundled a chair in which one of the aged women was seated, which was then let down the stairs, step by step, to the lower floor and to safety outside the building.

The two-story frame building which was wholly destroyed at an estimated loss of $10,000, partially covered by insurance. The Fryman brothers lost all belongings in the blaze.

Plans are being cared for in the Harrison county infirmary until provisions can be made here for their care. The matter of replacing the infirmary was discussed but no conclusion was reached. This is to be decided at a early meeting, the court indicated.

John Anderson, Nicholas county sheriff, filed a settlement with the court which was approved. It showed county tax books handled to the extent for a total of $77.37, of which $42.47 is land tax sales and $39.40 personal taxes.

Resistance Shown To Daylight Savers

Bourbon county may not follow suit in adopting daylight saving time and a decision will be made after a meeting of the fiscal court there today. In Owensboro the city council has rescinded a previously adopted resolution setting up an advance of clocks and the city will return to the old time. Bus schedules and railroads in general will operate on the correct time basis.

In Winchester the Clark county fiscal court has voted to set the courthouse clock back to standard time. In Fayette a group of farmers threaten to bring suit to compel Lexington to return to standard time.
