Glances Here & There

By I. D. Zern

SOME PICTURES WERE ON display at the courthouse Tuesday showing small foreign children in various stages of starvation and malnutrition. They were decidedly unpleasant to see but once seen become very hard to forget in a moment. Nicholas county with the rest of the nation is to be called upon to do with less bread and less grain.

No bread eater to begin with, after seeing these pictures I felt that I would not want any bread for a week. I am sure that large users of bread will not mind sacrifice of quantity and quality to some degree in order to help save millions of the starving people in less fortunate parts of the world to whom "give us this day, our daily bread" is a real and earnest supplication today.

MAYOR W. C. TALBERT TOLD me this week that the new pumping apparatus for the Carlisle Fire Department, is now being assembled in a Chicago factory and that he believes it will be delivered here within the next month. The new piece of fire fighting equipment is a commendable action on the part of the city fathers and the pumper will prove a great many ounces of prevention in the fire hazard here. Insurance rates may be expected to be lowered in the future because of securing by the city of a modern and efficient means to combat blazes in Carlisle.

FOR SOME REASON UNknown to Frank Sims, the cat he told me about this week which is said to have complained of illness suddenly in the Carlisle Drug store recently has disappeared. Frank ventured the guess, however, that it may have joined up with Cole Brother circus which appeared in Carlisle last week. Although he attended the night show and loaned about seventy well. Frank came back home Tuesday without any evidence that the cat from Carlisle had joined the troupe.

BASIL CROUCH IS GOING TO Maysville this week-end to attend the wedding here in a brand new "big and beautiful" Buick delivered to him by the Galbraiths. The car was barely on display on the ad of Galbraith Bros. this week and was changed at the last minute. If you will notice, to call attention to the fact that the new Buick was here." Speaking of the automobile business the Mercury pulled off a "foe paw" in an ad run recently for Clark and Prewer, new Kaiser and Frazer dealers. The line which should have read "passenger and truck cars" appeared in the paper as "passenger and truck cars" but since Clay hasn't built much we don't figure any great harm was done. I hope Every Clark and Billy Frey see this piece.

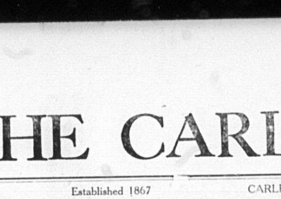
A VISITOR HERE MONDAY was an old friend whom I have known all my life and who measures in my book right around the top in the list of folks a nice person to know. Brother of Bob Curtis, well-known resident here for many years, Henry Curtis of Paris, has long held my honest admiration for being what is called in the parlance of the day "a regular fellow."

For around a half century he has operated a barber shop in Paris and is now retired much to the regret of a host of intimate friends. He is, I believe, one of the kindliest men I have ever been privileged to know, having to a marked degree the happy faculty of knowing how to be good to small boys. Many nostalgic hours of my youth were spent in his home in Paris in company with Earl and Emmett Sims. While he has always been "Mr." Curtis to me, the license of this column allows me to call him Henry here.

He and his brother, Bob, are the "spittin' " image of each other. The resemblance, except for a difference in height, is remarkable.

THE FOREGOING STATEment that I have known Mr. Curtis all my life is a slightly poetic usage of the President's English. It reminds me of the fellow who replied: "Not yet," to a question as to whether he had lived in the community all his life. And the other old native who, when asked if people "died around here very often," observed dryly: "Nope, just once."



Car Crashes Through Harper Garage Wall!

Residents here will remember that this was news in 1935—something over ten years ago. That was when the above picture was made after a unique happening at the well-known Carlisle garage. The picture "made the big time" as it was published in several nationally distributed publications.

Farm Building Remodeling Meeting Here Wednesday

Remodeling of farm buildings including homes, modernized kitchens, and construction improvements of other farm buildings will be discussed on Wednesday, May 22 at the meetings to be held at the county agent's office, in the post office building.

Jesse B. Brooks, field agent in Agricultural Engineering from the University of Kentucky, will show pictures on adapted farm building improvement and give type of farm buildings. H. B. Neisz, Farm Field Engineer from the Portland Cement Association, will attend and discuss concrete work on farms.

The first meeting is to be at 1:30 o'clock and is planned for the homemakers who are interested in making construction changes in the old farm home or others who want to alter old buildings or remodel new ones on the farm. The second meeting is scheduled at eight o'clock p. m. and is planned especially for lumber dealers and carpenters. In scheduling the meetings, it is realized that a scarcity of construction material exist. However, a study of the different construction methods should preceed actual construction. Building plans and construction methods explained will be particularly adapted to the Nicholas county type of farming and building need.

Meetings have been arranged by William T. Straw.

Other immunization which parents desire, will also be started including whooping cough, diphtheria and typhoid immunizations.

The Health Department, under the direction of Dr. B. F. Reynolds, cannot urge parents too strongly to have their children immunized, as they may thereby save a life or prevent the occurrence of a disease which may weaken or disable the child throughout its life, the announcement said.

The clinic includes the county as well as the Carlisle schools.

Tom Payne

"Pleasant Valley Corresponder"

Many readers of the Mercury have expressed repeated hopes that a picture of the celebrated "corresponder" of Pleasant Valley be published. The above likeness of Tom shows him making notes for use in his Mercury column which has attracted wide-spread attention. His weekly news, read avidly by an ever increasing circle of followers of happenings in Pleasant Valley, appears on another page.

Joe Jordan, Lexington admirer of the work of the Pleasant Valley writer, often finds space in his Four Bits column in the Lexington Leader for excerpts from Tom's earthy comment and at other times makes use of a phrase coined by Tom by way of insisting that "this is true."
