Production Cost Study Rates Plant Food As 'One of Best Buys' Farmer Can Make

CHICAGO—Fertilizer was called "one of the best buys a farmer can make" in a statement by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee based on a study of farm production costs issued by Purdue University's Department of Agricultural Extension.

"Although prices of numerous other goods and services used in farm production have increased from 25 to 226 per cent compared with prewar levels," says the statement, "the cost of fertilizer per unit of plant nutrient has risen only 15 per cent."

The extent to which other farm cost items have jumped since the 1935-39 period is indicated by the following Purdue compilations:

Farm wage rates are now 226 per cent above prewar averages. They have increased more than any other farm production cost. Prices of seeds are up 92 per cent. The annual operating cost of a tractor is 44 per cent more than before Pearl Harbor. Farm machinery prices have increased 25 per cent. The annual operating cost of an auto or truck is 72 per cent higher. Building materials, excluding housing, have risen 50 per cent. The annual operating cost of machinery other than tractor, truck and auto, is 54 per cent more.

Present building costs for farm buildings and farmstead improvements when skilled labor is considered, are around 200 per cent above prewar levels. The cost per head of keeping horses is up 85 per cent.

However, the Nicholas County Girls have every hope of avenging their defeat when they meet the Carlisle girls at 7:30 p. m., Friday in their second settlo .

Historic Concord Church To Observe 127th Anniversary

An all-day meeting will be held Sunday in the historic Christian church at Concord, 10 miles from Carlisle, in observance of the 127th anniversary of the oldest church in this section of Kentucky.

The Rev. Jesse Abram Alexander, pastor of the East Union Christian church, will act as chairman of the day's program. The morning service will be held at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Frank M. Tinder of Paris delivering the sermon. The afternoon sermon, following a picnic dinner on the church lawn, will be preached by the Rev. Raymond Alexander, pastor of the Owensboro Christian church, and son of the Rev. Jesse Alexander.

The weekly Communion service will be observed following the morning sermon.

All of the Christian churches of Nicholas county are invited to attend. In most of the churches Sunday school will be held before the congregation goes to Concord.

All persons attending have been asked to bring their lunch.

It was in the old Concord church that Barton W. Stone held a series of meetings which climaxed in the great Cane Ridge revival in which the Christian church was established. Concord, the first church established in Nicholas county, was organized in 1793.

In 1803, under the leadership of Stone, the members decided to take the Bible as their only standard of faith and practice" and took the name "Christian," the name given to the disciples by divine appointment first at Antioch.

In 1916, after Carlisle was founded, the Concord church became known as the Concord and Carlisle Christian church, services being held there until the Carlisle church was completed. The Carlisle church was established in 1820.

The first "meeting house," as it was called, was built of logs from the forest.

Many members of pioneer families of Nicholas county citizens are buried in the old burying ground which adjoins the church yard.

Rye Heads Citizens' Committee Following Garrett's Resignation

Resignation of Paul Garrett as chairman, selection of a five-man executive committee and election of a new chairman and secretary and treasurer from members of the executive committee highlighted a meeting of the Citizens Committee on School Construction and Consolidation which was held Tuesday night at the Nicholas county court house.

J. Fithian Rye was elected to succeed Garrett as chairman of the newly formed organization and Mrs. Parker Letton was succeeded Rye as secretary and treasurer of the committee.

The newly named executive committee, in addition to Rye and Ross, is composed of the following men: Ray Flora, Myers; Wilson King, R. R. 2, Carlisle and R. L. Ballard, R. R. 1, Carlisle.

The committee made the third of a series held by Nicholas county residents who declare themselves "concerned with the present school situation." The first meeting was held at the court house Saturday afternoon and Garrett and Rye were named chairmen and secretary and treasurer of the organization. A second meeting was held Saturday night.

Purpose of organization expressed at the initial meeting was to favor of school consolidation and was against the Nicholas County Board of Education planning to purchase a lot and erect thereon a new Nicholas County High school building.

Tuesday night the executive committee went on record as favoring consolidation of the school boards according to statute; it urged the county board to abandon its plans to purchase a lot and erect thereon a new Nicholas County High school and selected a site it would resort to legal action, if necessary, to delay plans until consolidation could be effected.

The program in full, adopted and signed by the Citizens Committee, follows:

"We, the members of the Citizens Committee on School Construction and Consolidation, after due and careful consideration, do hereby submit the following program:

"That consolidation of the two school boards, as of May 31, 1948, according to the Statutes of the State of Kentucky, and by written agreement, would iron out 95 per-cent of our trouble.

"That said Consolidation would solve tuition paying, transportation problems, and otherwise organize all the people of the county behind a single board.

"We further believe that there are adequate facilities available to care for all the high school pupils of this county for a good number of years, or until such time as building costs are reasonable, if and when such be deemed necessary.

"We further believe that the said purchase of property and construction plans of the Nicholas County High school should be abandoned, but we do recommend the building and repair of elementary schools.

"We request the County Board of Education to abandon the purchase of land and plans of construction, and work with us until said consolidation can be effected.

"In the event the County Board of Education refuses to abandon plans of purchase of ground and construction of a new high school building, we will use every legal means at our command to hold up said plans until consolidation can be effected or until new boards members can be elected who will co-operate with us in consolidation."
