

U. K. EXHIBITION
 general, a model tobacco barn and drying room; one-man farm horse tractors designed for lowering loads from the upper tiers and lowering, to the right at a time, releasing them automatically to the one man operator on the ground.
 The exhibit which is easy to operate, is economical, and reduces the work load on the housewife; a big station, simply made and which allows the operator to self-feeder for pigs which eliminates hand feeding, and is very adaptable for use.
 Also shown are models of an efficient dairy barn; sheep and turkey self-feeders; a dropping pit for poultry, which does not reduce house capacity; a stand-out pig hog house for 100 hogs; indoor heated chow, for feeding livestock from the barn; and a self-closing door.
 Among the other farm exhibits are a portable incubator for hatched
