For Unity And Victory —March With Clements

He Offers An Honest Program For Real State Progress

KENTUCKIANS are tired of four years of uncertainty and discord at Frankfort. The Republicans, in their own words, have "had enough."

The Democratic Party must offer unity and a constructive program. No man is worthy to be Governor who would divide his party. Clements has worked diligently to unite the party. The severest criticism leveled at him is that he has succeeded too well.

Earle Clements

Earle Clements' opponent has made nine specific promises: seven to spend more money and one to reduce taxes. He has made only one proposal to increase taxes, which would not raise one-half as much as those he proposes to scrap. He is promising the State of Kentucky to the brink of bankruptcy . . . holding out false hopes . . . bidding for votes with public funds through ridiculous proposals.

Clements has his own sound program for Kentucky:

1—Business-like administration of the State Government.

2—No pledge to spend unless the money is available in the State Treasury.

3—Creation of a non-partisan State Agricultural and Industrial Board to develop Kentucky's resources and draw new industries to our State.

4—Creation of a Department of Research to increase the efficiency of the State Government.

5—A deficiency appropriation to raise teachers' pay, retroactively.

6—A program of real co-operation with the farmer and the war veteran.

7—All-out encouragement and assistance to the growth of the R.E.A.

8—Removal of, and safeguarding, the State Fair from politics.

9—A sound State program of assistance to the counties in rural road building.

A PROMISE IN THE FULFILLMENT

The Son of Man promised: "—and behold, I am with you all days even unto the consummation of the world" (Matt. 28:20).

Lord Macaulay wrote:

"There is not and there never was, in a work of human policy so well deserving of examination as the Roman Catholic church. The proudest royal houses are but of yesterday when compared with the line of the Supreme Pontiffs. The republic of Venice was modern when compared with the Papacy, and the republic of Venice is gone and the Papacy remains full of life and youthful vigor. The Catholic church saw the commencements of all the governments that now exist in the world, and we feel no assurance that she is not destined to see the end of them all" (Extracts from Lord Macaulay's "Essay on Ranke's History of the Popes").

Gladstone said, "The Catholic church has marched for 1500 years at the head of civilization. Her greatness, glory, grandeur and majesty have been almost, though not absolutely, all that in these respects the world has had to boast of. Her children are more numerous than all the members of the sects combined. Her altars are raised in every clime and her missionaries are wherever there are souls to be saved. And this wondrous church, as old as Christianity, as universal as mankind, is today, after twenty centuries, as fresh, as vigorous and as faithful as on the day when the Pentecostal fires were showered upon the earth" (From Gladstone's speech against the law excluding Catholics from the Lord Chancellorship of England).

"Heaven and earth will pass away but my word will not pass away" (Matt. 24:35).

Many non-Catholic historians of today, after honest research into the past, are now declaring that many of the accusations against the Catholic church, as written in the post-Reformation days, are pure fabrications, and were concocted only for false propaganda purposes. True knowledge of all things Catholic is open to everybody at all times. It is to give this true knowledge in a simple and easy way—thus cementing good neighborly relations on the basis of understanding—that the Redemptorist Fathers have undertaken this work.

If it's anything Catholic, ask a Catholic.

Thrifty Practices Profit Homemakers

How homemakers in Garrard county have profited through the thrifty practices learned in their homemakers clubs is indicated in the reports from the Mt. Hebron and Owens Chapel clubs. Thirty-nine members told Home Agent Marguerite Williams that they had made slipcovers for 39 pieces of furniture, including upholstered chairs, divans, beds, dressing table and stools. Then they braided 22 rugs and made 40 lampshades.

Eighty percent of the lowland gardens in Harlan county were severely damaged by the June flood, many of them being a total loss.

Summer Meals Need Planning

Because families have the same nutrition needs, whether the temperature is hot or cold, housewives need to give meal planning at this time of year careful attention, said Dr. Stafie Erikson, head of home economics at the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics. She suggests that these points be kept in mind to stimulate jaded appetites.

1. Concentrate on simple meals, easily prepared, but include during the week as wide a variety as possible. The hot-weather menu should be as well balanced as that in mid-winter. Serve meats cooked simply but well. Include a hot dish at least twice a day, as too much cold food becomes uninteresting. Use as many raw vegetables in salads as possible. Use uncooked fruits for desserts in place of puddings, pies and cakes.

2. Provide the family with plenty of liquid to replace that lost in perspiration. Cold water, sparkling fruit juices and cold milk drinks are better for health and less costly than carbonated drinks.

3. Discourage both adults and children from piecing on sweets between various sorts between meals. Sweets not only destroy the appetite for good wholesome food at mealtime, but they are the most serious cause of tooth decay. Although carbohydrates are needed to supply energy, it is better to get them from fruits and starchy vegetables and from cereal grains rather than from sweetened foods or beverages.

Terracing built during the past nine months in Bullitt county is said to be doing an excellent job of controlling erosion, despite heavy rainfall.

Heavy Canning Of Peaches Expected

With a plentiful peach crop in prospect and larger supplies of sugar available, it is predicted that unusual amounts of this golden fruit will be canned this summer. Although a thin syrup made of 1 cup of sugar to 3 cups of water may be used, Mrs. Pearl Hsak, canning authority at the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, said a medium syrup made of 1 cup of sugar to 2 cups of water is generally favored. Approximately 1 cup of the prepared syrup will be required for every quart of canned peaches.

Here are recommended directions for canning peaches:

1. Select table-ripe fruit with a yellow or yellow-white ground color, not green.

2. Dip the peaches in boiling water for about one minute, then plunge into cold water to loosen the skins.

3. Peel, halve and pit the fruit, and drop into water containing 2 tablespoons each of vinegar and salt per gallon to prevent darkening. Drain.

4. Simmer the peach halves in syrup for 4 to 6 minutes, depending on softness of the fruit.

5. Pack fruit, concave side down, in hot sterilized jars to within a half-inch of the top.

6. Cover with boiling syrup to a half-inch of the top.

7. Adjust jar lids according to type used.

8. Process in boiling water bath, either pint or quart jars of peaches, for 20 minutes.

9. Remove jars from canner and complete seals if jars are not the self-sealing type.

A bushel of peaches will yield about 18 to 24 quarts of home canned fruit.

A total of 411 garments and accessories, from house dresses to tailored suits and hats, were displayed by homemakers and 4-H club members in the annual Oldham county style revue.

Household Hint

To wash a ruffled jabot or fluffy dicky, half fill a screw top or mason jar with warm, soapy water. Place the collar or dicky into the jar, cover it tightly and shake. This works well with lacy gloves, too. This method will do an efficient washing job and is very easy on the delicate threads. Rinse with clear water in the jar and blot in a turkish towel before ironing.

Wisdom Is the Principal Thing

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 27 is I Kings 3:5-14; Psalm 119:33-36; Proverbs 1:1-7, 20-33; 3:13-18; 4:1-9; 8; 9:1-6, 9-10; 16:20; James 1:5. The Memory Verse being Proverbs 16:20, "He that giveth heed unto the word shall find good: And whoso trusteth in Jehovah, happy is he.")

TODAY'S LESSON deals with the necessity for wisdom and understanding in life, and the ways of obtaining them. When Solomon, son of King David, came to throne of Israel, he was a very young man, and evidently he felt his responsibilities and wanted, with all his heart, to do what was right for his people.

One night he had a remarkable dream. In this dream the Lord came to him and said, "Ask what I shall give thee." Instead of asking for wealth and fame, as many a man would have done, Solomon told the Lord that he felt like a little child in taking over the throne of his father, David, to whom the Lord had shown great kindness. "I know not how to go out or come in," he said.

"And thy servant is in the midst of Thy people which Thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

"Give therefore Thy servant an understanding heart to judge Thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this Thy so great a people?"

The Lord was pleased with Solomon's request, and granted it—and Solomon, as we know, is still referred to as one of the wisest of rulers. Furthermore, as Solomon had not asked for riches and fame for himself, these, too, were given him, the Lord adding, "And if thou will walk in My ways, to keep My statutes and My commandments, as they father David did walk, then I will lengthen thy days."

Job Discusses Wisdom

Job, during his great trials, realized the need for wisdom. Said he to his friends, "But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?

"Man knoweth not the price thereof; neither is it found in the land of the living."

"It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof . . .

"God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof . . .

"And unto man He said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding."

Even a little child can understand that to fear evil, to try one's best to be good, and to ask God's help in all things, is good—in fact, is wisdom. The dictionary says: "Wisdom is knowledge practically applied to the best ends; . . . piety."

In his later days, after reigning for many years, Solomon wrote Proverbs out of his own wisdom and understanding.

"To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding;

"To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity; . . .

"A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels; . . .

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge; but fools despise wisdom and instruction."

Wisdom Begets Happiness

"Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.

"She is more precious [than rubies; and all the things that] canst desire are not to be compared unto her . . .

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.

"She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her."

In the 8th chapter of Proverbs wisdom is made to seem a person, and to talk directly to men: "Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of man. . . . Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold. . . . Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding; I have strength."

In his letter of advice to members of the early church, James, the apostle, writes:

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."
