CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 8.

The Golden Text is: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Heb. 11:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead." (Rom. 1:20)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we learn the way in Christian Science and recognize man's spiritual being, we shall behold and understand God's creation,—all the glories of earth and heaven and man." (P. 264)

BOSTON, Mass.—Affirming that God rules the affairs of man, the Christian Science board of directors told the annual meeting of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, here that neither fear nor animality can give evil power to boast itself over good.

Robertson County Coroner's Jury Deliberates On Laughlin Drowning

A Robertson county coroner's jury was expected to reach a verdict today concerning the death of Allie Clyde Laughlin, 42, Nicholas county farmer, believed to have drowned in Licking river the night of the April 30 in a flash flood in Nicholas county.

Coroner C. D. Wright, in Carlisle Tuesday, said that although he had impaneled a jury he still was continuing his investigation and a verdict probably would be announced this afternoon.

Laughlin's body was discovered at approximately 3 p. m. Saturday on Licking river, about three miles from the point where he was reported last seen alive. Thurman Norris, Mt. Olivet, and Frank Taylor, Piqua, discovered the body while setting trotlines in Licking river. The body was found at the mouth of Johnson creek. Laughlin's belt had been caught by a tree snag, the men said, and the removal of the body from the water difficult.

Norris, after finding the body, notified persons living nearby who in turn notified Coroner Wright who identified it as that of Laughlin through a billfold and watch, found on the body. After establishing identification Wright notified J. C. Shearer, Nicholas county coroner.

Missing since a flash flood in Sugar Creek and Licking surged over his car which had become stuck in the mud on a country road at the junction of the two streams, his disappearance was reported by his two companions, W. C. Maffett and Thadus Selby.

The men, who reported hilltop appearance along with his car to Sheriff John Anderson, said they left Laughlin in the car and went in search of fodder or other material to put under the wheels. Maffett said that Laughlin had took refuge in a barn when a rainstorm overtook them, and when they returned some time later, Laughlin and his car were gone and the water at the time two suddenly swollen streams were raging over the road where the car had stood.

The car was discovered about two weeks later.

Funeral services for the victim were held at 3 p. m., Sunday at the Carlisle cemetery by the Rev. Ralph Thomas, pastor of the Carlisle Christian church. Pall bearers were Charles Scheffler, Robert Hamm, Stanley Hamm, Lovell Hollar, Clarence Hollar and Omer Anderson.

Survivors include the victim's wife, Mrs. Gertrude Hamm Laughlin and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Purcell Laughlin.

Library Book Campaign Gets Under Way June 30

The week of June 30 through July 5 has been set aside for opening a campaign to secure books for the Nicholas County Memorial Library following a meeting of the newly appointed board of directors held last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Heyman Avenue.

Although plans for organizing the drive for books in Carlisle still remain incomplete, residents of Nicholas county are asked to bring books to the room on the second floor of the court house which has been set aside for the library.

Persons who so desire may donate subscriptions to newspapers or magazines for use by the library, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Henry Carter has been appointed to the board of directors, replacing Mrs. J. S. Wilson who has resigned her position.

Present at the meeting Friday were: Mrs. Carter, Mrs. James Parker, Mrs. Johnson, Magistrate Luther Hollar and County Judge Walter Shepherd.

Sugar Rationing Ends

Sugar rationing for housewives and such "institutional" users as hotels, restaurants and hospitals was abandoned as of midnight Wednesday, Secretary of Agriculture Claude Anderson said in Washington today.

Sugar, the last remaining commodity rationed to retail consumers, will remain under price controls until October 31 unless Anderson decides to end them before that date.

It still will be rationed to bakeries, soft drink and candy manufacturers and other industrial users.

Carlisle Cannery Will Open Tuesday

The Carlisle cannery will open Tuesday, June 17, it was announced by officials and will operate each Tuesday during the season, Lee Osborne, supervisor of the project, said.

The cannery is opening earlier this year in order to take care of greens, peas and other early vegetables that may be available. Later on in the summer if necessary the cannery will operate more than one day a week.

Persons who plan to use the cannery are requested to bring in their products by at least 2 p. m., as plans have been made to close the cannery at 5:30 p. m.

The cannery will be operated each fall this year by Mrs. Juanita McGinley.

Fish Fry Postponed

A fish fry, previously scheduled by the Nicholas County Fish and Game club for June 19 at the county reservoir, has temporarily been postponed and a later date for the gathering is now under consideration by the club, M. C. Shearer, president of the club announced.

Preliminary plans for formation of a gun club were discussed at a meeting of the club members held Friday night at the county court room and sites are being sought for establishing a range with Orval Gaunce, James Patton and Earl Hamm appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities.

Members were told that 1,750 bass have been distributed in the county's streams by the Division of Fish and Game at Frankfort. Heater elements for four quail brooders have arrived and are presently being installed to receive the baby chicks which will arrive about July 4.

Playground Season Opens

Th 1947 playground program was informally opened here Monday under the supervision of Coach Earl T. Rose. Rose said his schedule calls for supervised play of all, finance officer; Rev. Emmett P. Crane, chaplain; Claude M. Graves, sergeant-at-arms; Grimes Layson, historian; Billy Dobborne, service officer, and Warren Fisher, Jr., Service Officer.

Delegates to the district convention at Ashland June 20 and the state convention at Louisville July 20 also were selected.

Delegates are: E. B. Kendall, Louie Shaw, Lee B. Osborne, Emery Bowles and George M. Crawford.

Gaylord Barton, Billy Vaughn, James C. Galbraith, Buddy Craycraft and John Anderson were named alternates.

Nicholas County Opens Campaign To Secure New 20-Bed Hospital

The corner stone of a new 20-bed hospital in Nicholas county figuratively laid here last week.

First definite step toward obtaining the new hospital was taken here Saturday afternoon when the fiscal court authorized, with, American Legion Auxiliary, Louisville hospital architects, to prepare applications to the Federal funds for advance planning for a hospital.

Cost of the hospital not been announced, the erection of such an institution is currently estimated at $7,500 per bed.

Plans for the erection of the new hospital were outlined last Thursday night at a joint meeting of the Carlisle Rotary Club, the Carlisle American Legion Auxiliary, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mr. Otis said and Drs. B. F. Reynolds and T. P. Scott.

Mr. Otis, representing the Louisville architects, outlined the method whereby funds might be obtained with government assistance, for erection of a hospital. According to estimates made by the United States Public Health Service, Mr. Otis said a county the size of Nicholas needs 40.5 beds to accommodate its patients. However, he pointed out that hospital architects estimate that a hospital of 22.5 beds was adequate for the demands. Carlisle's present institution is an 11-bed hospital.

The speaker said that it was better to plan small and later make additions as they were needed. However, he advised that no hospital can be expected to be self-sustaining with less than 20 beds.

In outlining the equipment necessary, in addition to beds, Mr. Otis said the hospital should be able to accommodate both minor and major surgical cases, fracture cases, X-ray examinations and practically any other type of service which can be offered by hospitals in larger cities. He reminded his listeners that young physicians are more hospitalized and prefer to practice in areas having adequate hospital facilities.

Dr. B. F. Reynolds speaking in behalf of the city's physicians said that the county as a whole could not suffer from a doctor shortage if adequate hospital facilities were offered those whose medical training had been based on modern hospital technique and who expect to find conditions in any community in which they plan their careers comparable to the surroundings in which they have been educated.

Dr. Reynolds pointed out that under present conditions the local doctors could not adequately handle all the calls they were expected to make in a day and if the patients were brought to a central point better care would result.

As soon as FWA approves the application for preliminary planning other steps in securing the hospital will be arranged, it has been pointed out.

Youngsters Warned Against Destruction Of Song Birds

Boys, if you can't tell the difference between a song bird and a bird of prey you'd better lay that air rifle aside until you can.

That was the advice today given by John Norris, local conservation officer of the State Division of Game and Fish. He said that he had received several complaints of boys killing song birds in their zeal to destroy pests.

Norris warned that a penalty is provided for such an offense by both state and federal laws for those caught killing song birds.

He urged that the Junior Conservation clubs of both Carlisle and Headquarters aid in the protection of the birds.

Local Stock Yards Are Leased By Indiana Men

A one year lease of the Farmers Stock Yards Company by J. M Hendricks and C. B. Clark, Essex, Ind., was announced today by Verna Stone, Carlisle and H. H. Lyle, Middletown, joint-owners of the concern.

Also granted along with the lease was a 99 year lease on the scales, it was pointed out.

The stock yards have been owned since July, 1946 by the aforementioned men and Stone took over management of the concern in November of 1946.

With the exception of a disastrous fire which destroyed the building in 1940, the stock yards have been in active operation for the past 12 years.

Cupid Taking Holiday

Cupid is taking a holiday as far as Nicolas county is concerned. Records in the office of County Clerk John F. Sugg show that only six marriage licenses have been issued here during the past 12 months. Not a single application has been made since April 19.

Otherwise, business is brisk at the county clerk's office where 342 deeds, 534 mortgages, 20 wills, 708 discharges have been received and 313 certified copies of discharges and marriage certificates have been made. In addition 267 fishing licenses and 131 hunting licenses have been issued thus far this year.

School Board Accepts Preliminary Drawings On Moorefield School

Preliminary plans for the construction of the Moorefield Graded School building shown Saturday to members of the Nicholas County Board of Education have been accepted and Hugh Merriweather, Lexington architect, was authorized to complete the plans and specifications for the building.

The plans call for a 6-room brick and tile building with concrete floors to replace the former building which was destroyed by fire earlier this year.

The board also authorized that bids be advertised as soon as the plans were completed, with the approval of the State Department of Education. The cost of the building is estimated to be between $50,000 and $60,000

Indications are that the plans and specifications will be complete by July 1 and bids will be sought shortly after. Arrangements for financing the building have been made with Stein Brothers and Boyce, Louisville bond brokers.

In addition to study of the school plans the board authorized that all repair work by the county system be done during the next three months. The contract to furnish the county school system with coal was awarded to Stanley Galbraith & Son who submitted a bid of $9.50 a ton.

Kenneth Shannon was employed as a sergeant to have charge over a route formerly driven by Thurman Gaunce.

The list of the remaining bus drivers, previously employed, compiled by Raymond J. Wesley, county school superintendent follow:

Shirley Boone, Stanley Caswell, Vernon Craig, R. H. Crowe, Hart Crump, Foster McLean, William F. Herrin, Fred Hollar, Hisel Hollar, Herman McGinley, John McQuilty, Carlton Vice, Floyd Washington, John Allen Ecton and Thurman Gaunce.

County Court Approves School, Hospital Bonds

The Nicholas county fiscal court in session Wednesday afternoon authorized the appointment of Stein Brothers and Boyce, Louisville bond brokers, to arrange the financing of direct obligation bonds for the Moorefield Graded School building; a Nicholas county high school building and revenue bonds for the erection of a proposed 20-bed hospital within the county.

Although the court can pass upon the school bonds without submitting the issue to to the voters, due to their classification, the hospital bonds will have to be passed upon by the residents of the county.

Fire Alarms

Only slight damage resulted from a fire which sent the Carlisle fire department to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Small on Eastern avenue at 10 a. m., Saturday when a coal oil heater temporarily got out of control filling the house with smoke. Although damage to the house owned by Miss Annie Laurie Barr was slight, the residents reported considerable damage resulting from smoke. The new fire siren, located at the southwest corner of the intersection of Main and Locust streets, was used for the first time.

The regular meeting of Daughterty Lodge, No. 65, F. and A. M., will be held at 7:30 p. m., Friday at the Masonic hall. Members are urged to attend as some special business is to be brought before the organization.
