The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the laborers are few, pray ye therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest.—Luke 10:2.

Opening Of An Export Market For Burley Would Be Great Thing For Growers

Mr. Sterling Advertiser
The effort being made by the Burley Warehouse Association to open a foreign market for this world-wide known product is indeed, one of the only, counsel for the association, has a splendid chance of increasing in a big way. For many years production of burley tobacco has exceeded domestic demand, resulting in pools, limited production, night rising and starvation prices. It appears the only logical chance for the continued prosperity of the burley grower is to find a market abroad which will not only absorb the surplus but also assure a steady demand which will guarantee a satisfactory price for years to come.

Letters To The Editor

Lexington, Kentucky
Dear Editor:
I believe is a true fish story which you may or may not use in your column at your discretion.
In 1934 when I was two years old, my mother moved from near a creek to a place called Pleasant Farm. As the river ran through Pleasant Farm, it was a great part of every day when I was a boy, and I was a great part of every day when I was a boy.

50 Years Ago

Thursday, March 11, 1897
The Pleasant Valley correspondent says that the Pleasant Valley school house was here Monday looking at John F. Jilly's farm with a view of purchasing it. He was accompanied by Frank Compton of Carlisle.

25 Years Ago

Thursday, March 9, 1922
We have had more bad weather during the first eight days of March than during nearly all the rest of winter. We had about snow, rain, thunder and lightning a little, and nearly every other sort of weather in the weather man's catalogue.

Mr. Lida Norton, who has been quite ill for several weeks, fell at her home Tuesday evening, cutting a severe gash on her forehead.
Eight persons took the examination for clerk in the local postoffice in the civil service test. Four of the applicants were women.
